

PLEIADIAN PERSPECTIVE ON ASCENSION BOOK TWO

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP

BY SUZANNE LIE PHD

Multidimensional Publishing
<http://www.multidimensions.com>
<http://www.suzanneliephd.com>

PREFACE

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

4-11-12

After a long complex dream of being in someone else's house and realizing it was time for me to leave and go to my own house, I woke up at 5:55 with the words, "Transmissions from Home!"

I got up and went into my office to get this transmission. I am ready for your transmission now. Would you please send me your message? Then I heard the words again, "Transmissions from Home."

In my mind's eye I saw a man sitting at a desk looking like a newscaster. He was blond and had on a uniform, which I thought looked like the Uniform of a member of the Galactic Federation.

His uniform was white and gold with an insignia over his heart. There were also golden adornments on his shoulders, and his collar was straight up, like a military uniform.

In fact, it was a dress military uniform, but not from our military.

After hearing twice that he had "Transmissions from Home," I turned on my computer, put my hands over the keyboard and prepared my consciousness for his message by saying,

"I am ready for your transmission."

I was surprised when the first message came from a female named Mytria.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Last Chapter of The Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

BOOK ONE

The Oversoul Of The Mothership

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section I

Mytre and the Arcturian Mothership

The Ascension of Arcturus – Part 1

The Ascension of Arcturus - Part 2

The Arcturian Ascension - Part 3

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section II

Mytre and Kepier

Return To The Restoration Chambers

The Sixth Dimensional Viewing Screen

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section III

Galactic Meetings

Communications With Earth

States of Consciousness and Adherence to Reality

Nightly Visits

A Visitor's Conversation with the Arcturian

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section IV

Learning About Time

Ascending Beyond Time

Leaving the Hologram and Releasing Time

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section V
Remembering Bi-location

There Is Only NOW
Releasing the Illusion of Separation

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section VI
Mytre's Experience of Ascension

Accepting the Light & Ascension of Arcturus Part4
The Ascension of Arcturus – Part 5
Many Oversouls

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section VII
Preparing for the Landings

Mytria and Mytre
The Grand Cycle

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section VIII
Transmissions to Earth

A Visit from St. Germain
The Embryo of SELF
Swirling Patterns of Light

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section IX
A New World

Reality and State of Consciousness
Q and A with the Arcturian

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section X

Our Next Assignment
Our Final Briefing
Saying Goodbye

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section XI
Mytria and The Violet Temple

Mytria and the Great Mother
The Temple of the Violet Fire

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension
LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section XII
Raising the Violet Temple

Mytre Almon
Creating a Tunnel of Light
Almon's Perspective

A Glimpse of Book Three of Pleiadian Perspectives on Ascension
The Landing Party

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Suzanne Lie has a Ph.D. in clinical psychology, has been a psychotherapist since 1986 and has been a student of metaphysics for forty years. She lives in Los Angeles by the ocean with her husband. She has two grown children and four grandchildren. To learn more about Suzanne and her writings, please visit her Website at:

www.multidimensions.com

Suzanne Lie PhD began her website, www.multidimensions.com under the penname of Suzan Carroll in 1996. Since then she added the website of www.suzanneliephd.com and www.creatingnewearth.com.

Suzanne has also written the novels:

Thirty Veils of Illusion

Visions from Venus Trilogy

Visions from Venus

Reconstructing Reality

Remembering the Return

Becoming One ~ A Manual for Personal and Planetary Ascension Volumes One and Two

Seven Steps to Soul ~ A Poetic Journey of Spiritual Awakening

What Did You Learn? ~ An Illustrated Story About Creating Planetary Ascension

The Short Stories

The Violet Temple

A Child's Adventure in Faerie ~ For The Child Within Us All

Find Out More About the Author at:

<http://www.multidimensions.com>

Awakening With Suzanne Lie ~ an ongoing blog since September of 2009

<http://suzanneliephd.blogspot.com>

Multidimensional Meditations ~ YouTube site since 2010

<http://www.youtube.com/user/suzannelie>

Last Chapter of Book One
The Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

The Oversoul Of The Mothership

MYTRE SPEAKS:

I had not been on the Ship very long when I had my first experience of the Mothership's Oversoul. I had been there long enough, however, to understand that the ship was a living, multidimensional being. I had a vague understanding of the sixth dimensional areas of the ship. However, the seventh dimensional portion of the ship is not an "area." It is a formless soul that overlooks all the souls who reside on the ship.

The super-subconscious frequency of the ship automatically observes, repairs and updates the basic structure, which is always changing. Therefore it holds the basic form of every component of the ship. On the other hand, the Oversoul consciousness is a formless, yet tangible energy that feels like an electrical field filled with love and cohesiveness.

These feelings usually are most predominant on the upper areas of the ship, such as the bridge and all command centers. However, when necessary, the Oversoul over-looks meetings, individuals, and devices on the ship that are called upon to function at an exceptionally high state of consciousness.

I was taken to the Mothership shortly after I had left "time" during my meditation. Once I could leave time, a vast array of new abilities lay just beyond my reach. Hence, I was taken to the Mothership for more advanced studies. The Arcturian and I entered a scout ship and headed for the Mothership. There were just the two of us in the ship.

I discovered later that the Arcturian could have simply bi-located us to the Mothership, but It wanted us to advance our relations beyond teacher/student into friends. It was then that I began to realize what a wonderful sense of humor Arcturians have. The Arcturian and I had a chance to chat about whatever came into our minds, and the Arcturian actually made jokes about our experiences together.

I was able to see myself through the perception of a higher dimensional being. This was a bit rough on my ego, which was the point. When I could laugh at my prior fears and misconceptions, I felt many ego-attachments begin to fade from my mind. By the time we arrived at the Mothership, I had released most of my insecurities about being “good enough,” as well as my fears of going to the Mothership.

It was not that I was afraid to go to the Mothership. In fact, I was very excited and honored to be able to visit that ship. However, I started our trip to the Mothership with great apprehension about what I would be called upon to do. Fortunately, because of the Arcturian’s humorous bantering, I was totally relaxed by the time the planetary sized Mothership came into our view.

I must say that my first sight of the Mothership was completely overwhelming. At the same time, it was a mystical experience. I had been in training to perceive reality multidimensionally. Hence, I could clearly see the third/fourth dimensional holographic projection, which the ship sometimes wore, as well as the fifth dimensional over-glow of that hologram, the sixth dimensional light matrix and the seventh dimensional emanation of Pure Spirit and All Knowing.

I also felt the eighth through tenth dimensional energy patterns of the Mothership, as well as patterns of the Arcturians and other beings of that resonance. I KNEW that there were energy patterns beyond the tenth dimensions, but could not perceive them with any clarity at that time. The Arcturian touched my High Heart, and I received a brief experience of those higher dimensions.

Unfortunately, the resonant frequency of my mental processing was too low to retain any details of that experience. Nonetheless, I stored that FEELING in my High Heart, exactly where the Arcturian touched me. I vowed that soon I would be able to fully experience this cherished moment.

I will skip now to the point at which I had been studying in the Mothership for a while. I cannot give an exact length of time, as time does not really exist at this level of consciousness. Conversely, those of us who were new to the Inter-Galactic Training Program were given quarters in which a period of day would be followed by a period of night.

We were to remain in these quarters until we were able to focus our primary consciousness on our fifth dimensional SELF. Our fifth dimensional expression of SELF no longer needed the illusion of the passage of time, the fatigue that that illusion created or the sleep that was necessary to release the illusion of fatigue.

I quickly made friends with my roommates but found myself constantly missing the Arcturian. One day I caught myself being impatient with my roommates. This upset me greatly, as I knew it was a sign that my consciousness was slipping into the lower frequencies rather than expanding into the higher frequency. I excused myself and went to the nature area.

There is a huge section of the Mothership that is dedicated to nature areas. These areas were holographic, but you absolutely could not tell that when you were there. Once, when I asked the Arcturian why the 3/4D nature area was holographic, it said, “All reality in the third and fourth dimension is holographic projections from the higher dimensions of reality.”

I started to ask my Arcturian friend to explain that concept to me but It disappeared in front of my eyes. Then, where the Arcturian had just been standing/floating, was a huge tree with birds, squirrels and other animals living off of the bio-system of that one tree. I moved forward to touch the tree, but there was a flash of light and the Arcturian stood where there was once a tree.

“Do you see how I projected the hologram of nature?”

The Arcturians are very good at “one picture is worth a thousand words.” At the same time, I realized that my consciousness had become so low in frequency that I had forgotten the basic premises that I had been taught.

“I have to leave the rookie quarters,” I blurted out. “My consciousness is dropping because I am entraining with the new-comers, rather than with you or the ship.”

“We are happy that you realize that,” the Arcturian said, as It vanished.

OK, I knew the drill now; I had to figure it out for myself. If I wanted to move beyond my present quarters I would have to prove—to myself—that I was ready. I had become so overcome by the mere vision of the Mothership that I had allowed my consciousness to drop back down to a familiar resonance.

I discovered that the rookie quarters, as we had named them, were no longer comfortable because I had grown beyond it. I had needed more of the illusion of time to figure that out. Since I was on my own, I had to figure out how to convince myself that I was ready to release all the familiar markers of reality and fully embrace my new life.

Since leaving time had gotten me to the Mothership, and being placed in a time-bound area for new students was so frustrating, the solution was for me to release time again. However, I had to remember how I had released time in the first place.

What I had unconsciously done, I now had to do consciously and intentionally. What if I went back in time to when I first saw the Mothership from the scout ship? What if I could go back in time and perceive the Mothership with love and acceptance rather than the fear of being overwhelmed?

That sounded like a good idea, but I had no idea how to do it. Then, I thought of the glowing energy around the Mothership that the Arcturian had called the Oversoul. The Arcturian had said that the Oversoul holds the codes and patterns of all the soul records of everyone who was living on or visiting the ship. These soul records contain all the multidimensional experiences that each soul had ever experienced.

Within my present body, I was clearly Pleiadian. However, I had suspected for quite a while that there was a large element of Arcturian nature within my being. I even had a dim memory of being Arcturian, but I could not recover any details of that expression of my Multidimensional SELF.

Yes, my Multidimensional SELF could pull my resonance into the higher expressions of my being; that is if I could trust my experience. I had just experienced how easily I could lose trust in myself, and I was not going to do so again. I would ask my Multidimensional SELF how to leave time, as I had done before, by reading my soul records in the Oversoul of the Mothership.

I was alone in the holosuite, so I sat down to mediate and quickly moved into a deep trance. The first thing I realized was that I had prepared all my life, in fact, for many of my lives, for this opportunity to assist with the ascension of our community on our chosen planet in the Pleiades. With that realization I began to consciously feel all that I would need to release in order to move into the expression of my SELF that could fulfill the task of conscious ascension.

The Arcturians had seen this ability, but I still could not. I had remembered and visited many of my multidimensional realities while studying with the Arcturian on the other starship. Then the Arcturian had chosen me for this special training, but all I could feel was what I would have to release. In order to continue my training I would have to release my ties to my old world and move into the unknown.

With this realization, myriad doubts were uncovered from their hiding places. How could I assist my community to go into the unknown of the fifth dimension when I could not even go into the unknown of my own mind? I would have to confront the part of myself that was afraid to move into the unknown and was quietly holding me back. I had learned to control most of my life.

However, would I be able to continually surrender to the higher worlds as the Arcturian was teaching me? Or would I tenaciously hold onto what remained of the life I had previously lived? There it was, the life I had lived. What life had I lived that needed my attention before I could go forward and release the need for TIME, once and for all?

With that question, I felt the Pure Spirit and All Knowing of the Mothership's Oversoul wrap around me like a warm cloud. Within this safety and comfort I could release my hidden fears of what I would have to release, what I would have to do and who I would have to become in order to be good enough to fulfill the honored task for which the Arcturians had chosen me.

With the Oversoul around me, I could hear my higher expressions of SELF cheering me on, but I could not move forward yet. I had to release the burden of my hidden insecurities, fears and confusions. I could feel that I was leaving time, so I could not release them later, nor could I release them in my future. There was only NOW. Therefore, I allowed them to come to the surface of my awareness so that I could love them free, once and for all.

I found that my heaviest burden was the need to do it right, the need to be good enough in the eyes of others. But who were these others? Where were they now? Why was I still carrying them in my consciousness? In response to these questions the Oversoul embraced me more tightly and time was gone. I could feel the difference in my thinking, my emotions and within whatever connection I still had to my body.

Free of time, I began to float through memory bands of myriad incarnations. Brief pictures and emotions floated through my mind as I passed by each reality, as my journey continued. I knew that the Oversoul was taking me to a certain reality, the reality that still held a sense of failure. I could feel that sense of failure growing stronger, but I was strangely detached from it.

I was out of time, so I had no idea how long I traveled through the files of the Oversoul, but as I continued I became calmer and more detached from the passing realities. Then suddenly, a reality moved towards me like a beaming sun. I could not float past it, even though I wanted to. There was unfinished business in that life that I had to complete in order to free my consciousness from some invisible burden.

Suddenly the “sun” was before me and pulled me in with such force that I almost passed out. However, I reminded myself that I AM the Master of my MIND. This sentence opened a portal into a planet in chaos and I heard, “The Ascension of Arcturus.”

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP— Section I

Mytre and the Arcturian Mothership

The Ascension of Arcturus – Part 1

MYTRE SPEAKS:

As the file of the Oversoul opened, it pulled me into a scene from before all counting of time. At first, I could hear only words I did not understand and feel a sense of panic. Eventually, I regained my vision enough to see a scene before me that struck my heart as it reminded me of my Homeworld in the Pleiades.

Beings who looked vaguely humanoid were rushing around in a state of near panic. Something was happening to their planet that they could not understand. My first thought was, “How could these frightened beings be Arcturians?” An instant response, seemingly from the Oversoul was, “They are no longer Arcturians. There are some among them who will remember to return to being Arcturian.”

The Oversoul then told me how formless beings had come from a distant universe to visit the young Milky Way Galaxy. These beings had never known form, nor had they ever lived on a planet. The name of these beings is impossible to translate into any sequential language, such as the one I am using to share my story. Therefore, I will call them “Pre-Arcturians”.

These Pre-Arcturians decided to have the experience of “being a planet,” since being an individual was far below their conception. For millions of cycles they attached their great consciousness to the orb and the atmosphere of a planet. Eventually, they desired the experience of having forms that could move around on the planet.

They decided that in this manner they could have the different perspective of being on the planet, rather than being the planet. For countless cycles of the planet, some of them lived within their somewhat humanoid forms. Throughout the course of these cycles, the Oneness held the form of the planet and its atmosphere, so that it could be protected and maintained.

Eventually the planet lowered in frequency enough to have a vague relationship with time. With the new development of time, which was a unique experience for the Arcturians, things began to happen that were not initiated by the Arcturians who were the planetary holders of form.

Having less than infinite creative control of all reality was also a new adventure, and they surrendered to this next experience, never thinking that they could become lost in their own quest. They had never known time, so they had no idea how it could create aging and decay.

At first, they thought that the aging and decay were merely changes. Hence, they embraced it. Too late, after many thousands of cycles of the turn of their planet, they realized that the humanoid encasements began to decay. Having never worn a form, this was quite a surprise to them.

To their even greater surprise, they realized that as they began to decay, they also began to forget. Some of them forgot that the planet was alive with their own Arcturian family. Some of them forgot about their true, formless state, and some of them forgot that they were all one being wearing somewhat separate forms.

Unique thoughts began to enter their consciousness such as separation, time and even age. At first these previously unknown concepts were exciting. This manner of thought was so different from anything they had ever known. The truth is that they had become somewhat bored in their infinite, formless state of all knowing and all being.

In fact, some of them became so excited by this adventure that they scorned their innate beingness and judged those who remained in their pure, formless state. Judgment was an entirely unique concept, as well as a very dangerous idea. Before they knew it, they began to divide into those who judged and those who did not judge.

Those who did not judge remained in the higher frequencies of their new reality. On the other hand, those who judged began to shift their attention away from the unconditional love and unity with all Arcturians and embraced a growing perception of separation from those who chose not to judge.

Judgment became an important tool for them, as it pulled them into a denser reality than they had ever recognized. This group began to feel that they were better than the others. After all, they were the brave ones. They were the ones who could enter into a novel version of reality, which was unknown in their universe.

They never saw the consequences of their judgment coming. In fact, the notion of consequences was unknown to them. They had not identified that a thought could be separate from the whole. Hence, when some of them began to branch out from the concept of judgment into the concept of comparison, they were unprepared for the separation that occurred.

The separation first began with a differential between those who wore a form and those who remained in the planetary atmosphere as pure beings of light. Then the separation expanded to divide into those who were the holders of the planetary form and those who were the holders of humanoid form.

The problems escalated greatly when the holders of humanoid form began to separate from each other. At first, the energy patterns that connected all the humanoids were visible. However, over the cycles of the spinning planet, the perception of the connecting energy field began to lessen.

Consequently, the separation between those in humanoid form increased, as did the judgment. The humanoid Arcturians did not realize that their resonance was steadily dropping, as it occurred very gradually. Furthermore, they had “time” to unconsciously adapt to these versions of their new reality.

The Arcturians who remained in the atmosphere and the holders of planetary form never left their unity consciousness. Therefore, they remained at a high frequency of resonance and were free of time, separation and the judgment that had created the lower frequency concepts and experiences.

These Arcturians tried to warn those who had chosen forms, but the humanoids were so enjoying their new adventure that they would not listen. In fact, the humanoids accused their formless family of being afraid to try a new kind of reality. “Afraid?” The formless Arcturians could not even understand that concept.

Once fear was invited into the picture, the formless Arcturians could no longer unite with their family in humanoid form. Something blocked them from full unity. Was this something the concept of being afraid? Unable to intervene, the formless Arcturians gradually discovered that, indeed, fear was the barrier to their reunification with their family in form.

From their higher resonance they could not feel fear, but when they tried to bond with the formed ones they could feel the fear within the humanoids. Why were the humanoids afraid, they pondered? They finally realized that the fear was an end result of what had begun as judgment.

The formless Arcturians were learning a great deal from their humanoid family, but were unable to assist them. Helplessly, they watched as the formed ones became more and more separate. Finally the humanoids became individuals who were totally separated from their formless family, separated from their planet and separated from each other.

The growing fear made the situation go from what was once positive into something that had become very negative. Fortunately, some of the individuals found a new kind of courage—the courage to remember. As these brave humanoids allowed themselves to remember their roots, they remembered their Arcturian family who had never taken humanoid form.

Finally, the formless Arcturians could communicate with their family members who had become lost in their own judgment.

The Ascension of Arcturus - Part 2

MYTRE CONTINUES:

The First Ones to Awaken

When the Arcturians who had become lost in form began to remember their roots, they wanted to re-join with their Arcturian family. Unfortunately, this re-joining would not be as simple as they desired.

Much had occurred in their consciousness since they had forgotten who they were. For hundreds of thousands of turns of their planet, they believed they were separate. Within that belief in separation, grievous actions were committed, and the Awakening Ones had also created injury to the others and to the planet.

To fully awaken, the Awakening Ones would have to heal the injury they had caused. Perhaps then they could reunite with their family who had remained in a formless state.

First, the Awakening Ones would have to forgive themselves for doing harm to others. Then they would have to forgive themselves for falling into such a low state of consciousness that they believed they were separate from their Arcturian family. Believing that they were separate from their family had caused a deep loneliness, which had festered into fear. This fear gave them permission to do harm to others.

Only the healing force of love could heal the scars that their fear had created. But, where would they begin? What and/or who were they supposed to love? They were stumped by this question for a long time before they realized that any permanent solution must begin at the source of the problem.

However, what was that source? Oh yes, judgment is where it all began. Since judgment had begun this cycle of fear—hurt—more fear, only the opposite of judgment could complete this cycle. But, what was the opposite of judgment? They pondered this question for more cycles of the illusion of time.

Finally, after many attempts to find the opposite of judgment, they found the answer. Forgiveness would heal judgment. In fact, to truly clear all judgment, forgiveness must be unconditional. They also remembered that the ones they had to forgive were not just the ones they had judged but also themselves, the ones who had made the judgments.

However, they did not know how to forgive themselves. They believed that first they would need to be forgiven by a being higher and grander than them. Since they held that belief, they made this true. They believed this higher being was the collective of the formless Arcturians.

The important part of this belief was that it encouraged them to communicate with their formless Arcturian family. But, how would they communicate with a being that they could not perceive? Perhaps they could open a kind of portal through which they could transmit their need for assistance.

They were surprised by the word “portal,” as it seemed to arise from a deep inner memory. But, fortunately, they also remembered that a portal is a multidimensional tunnel through which they could connect with increasingly higher octaves of their reality.

The Merging of the Portal Openers

The Awakened Ones were persistent and very determined. Hence, they became the Portal Openers, and portals into the higher dimensions began to open. When the Portal Openers sent their consciousness through the higher dimensional portals, they became aware of their own multidimensional nature. In this manner the Awakened Ones commenced their journey back to their Multidimensional SELF.

As the Portal Openers connected with higher and higher frequencies of their expression of SELF, they developed a deeper and deeper connection with their Formless Family of Light. They eventually came to understand that their Formless Family was indeed their SELF at a higher frequency of reality.

With this new awareness about the nature of their true SELF, they could more readily accept unconditional love, which had always been flowing from the Formless Ones. Since unconditional love carries the gift of personal and planetary transmutation, the Formless Ones became known as the Transmuters.

The first, and most obvious, advantage of the acceptance of unconditional love was that it allowed the Portal Openers to love all of life, free of any judgment. Another important consequence of accepting the unconditional love was that it transmuted the Portal Opener’s judgment into forgiveness.

Because the Portal Openers accepted this unconditional love and allowed it to transmute their judgment into forgiveness, their myriad fears were transmuted into love. The return of the feel of love urged the Portal Openers to deeply believe in their SELF.

Hence, the Portal Openers found the courage to open more and more portals into the unknown. As they opened these portals, they increasingly cleared fear from themselves and from their planet. Thus, as they healed themselves they healed their Arcturian Family who was holding the form of the planet.

As fear was cleared from their consciousness, they no longer reacted to the fear of others or the judgment that arose from that fear. Also, as the fear was cleared from the Awakened Arcturians, they could begin to heal the many wounds that had been created by the fearful Arcturians.

Knowing that the creators of fear were driven by fear allowed the Portal Openers to unconditionally love those who were still lost in their judgment of others. With the release of all judgment for the Lost Ones, the Portal Openers began to unite with each other in a very intimate manner.

In fact, the Portal Openers were moving into a state of unity consciousness with each other, which felt vaguely familiar. Gradually they began to remember that once they were all one. This memory planted the first seed of unity consciousness with the planet itself.

The Expansion of Unity Consciousness

Unity consciousness with the planet included unity with the Arcturians who were holding the form of the planet. Unity with the planet had to occur because the Arcturians were the planet. Just as some Arcturians (actually pre-Arcturians) had chosen to be humanoids, others had chosen to be the planet. In fact, these Arcturians who had chosen to be the planet had taken on a denser matter than they had ever known. Thus, they too were lost in form.

If the Portal Openers were to have unity consciousness with their planet, they would have to be in unity consciousness with ALL humanoids. In other words, they would need to include the Lost Ones in their unity consciousness. In this manner, the Portal Openers would know that they had totally released their judgment.

Meanwhile, there were still many humanoids lost in their own judgment. Therefore, they lived in the fear and separation that judgment created. However, they did not want to change. They had experienced power over the others, and enjoyed that sensation. It had been so long since they had experienced unity that they believed only in separation. Hence, they continued to create separation by desiring the sensation of power over others that they judged as inferior to them.

On the other hand, the Portal Openers were finding many portals into the planet, but they did not know how to open them. They imagined they would be opened in the same manner as the higher dimensional portals were opened; however, they did not really understand how they had opened the higher dimensional portals.

They suspected that it had something to do with accepting the unconditional love sent to them by the Formless Ones, now known as the Transmuters. Since the Portal Openers had established a line of communication with the Transmuters, they asked them how the higher dimensional portals had been so easily opened.

The Transmuters, replied, “Our dear Portal Openers. The higher dimensional portals opened so easily because we are ONE Being. We are YOU in the form of a humanoid, and you are us in a formless state of multidimensional light and unconditional love.”

This answer was all they could receive. Some of the Portal Openers were so confused by this answer that they did not give it any thought. However, other Portal Openers allowed this answer to live in their heart, where they did not need to think about it, but they could always feel it.

The Arcturians who were the holders of the form of the planet had largely lost all unity consciousness with their Arcturian family who lived in a formless state in the higher frequencies around the planet. Fortunately, some Formless Ones had taken residence in the deepest core of the planet.

These Formless Ones could feel the Portal Opener's desire to open the planetary portals, but living in the planetary core had made them forget how to send unconditional love. Perhaps they too could accept the unconditional love from the Transmuters.

When they accepted that unconditional love, they found they could open the planetary portals from the core. Then, these Formless Ones returned to unity consciousness with the Transmuters, as well as with the Portal Openers.

A Problem With The Lost Ones

At the same time, the Lost Ones who had not become Portal Openers still believed in separation and judgment. Fortunately the flow of unconditional love that the Portal Openers had accepted was so strong that the Lost Ones could vaguely feel it, but wondered if they were "good enough" to receive it.

This judgment of themselves and of unconditional love created fear. Then their fear created even more judgment, which created more separation. In response to their growing fear, the Lost Ones who believed in separation created a separate "God."

They could not believe in unconditional love, so they believed in a God who sent love to only the chosen ones. Hence, the Lost Ones developed rituals and tests to make them good enough to receive love from the separate God high above them in a separate world. The Lost Ones had no idea that their God was their own SELF in its original, formless state of multidimensional light and unconditional love.

The formless Arcturians realized that they had to assist the Lost Ones before they created even more judgment, fear and separation. Thus the formless Arcturians realized that they had to transmute every molecule of matter back into light.

For this reason they created the Arcturian Corridor.

The Arcturian Ascension - Part 3

MYTRE CONTINUES:

The Formless Ones in both the planetary atmosphere and the planetary core, as well as the Portal Openers, knew that the time was nigh for the completion of the planetary cycle. The plants and animals did not need to understand what was happening, as they lived in unity with the planet and accepted whatever planetary event occurred. Only the Lost Ones were left uninformed that the transmutation of every molecule of form was imminent.

However, the Lost Ones could FEEL that a great change was commencing. Since their separate God had told them that there was a beginning, there would need to be an ending. Hence, the only possible scenario they could believe was that the END was nigh. Since the Lost Ones were incapable of accepting an unknown event, they could only believe that the end of the world was near.

Concurrently, the Portal Openers were in steady communication with the Formless Ones. Therefore, they realized that since the Formless Ones could create a planet, they could assist them to safely transmute their reality back into the Oneness of multidimensional light and unconditional love.

Since the Portal Openers had expanded their consciousness enough to directly and personally experience the Formless Ones, they believed that ascension into a higher frequency was real. They could feel the transmutation of energy within the planetary core, as well as within their own personal core.

Once they fully integrated this expansive energy into their being, they began to radiate their own multidimensional energy beyond their core and into their surrounding world. In other words, the Portal Openers became the very portals that they had once had to locate and request assistance to open.

Meanwhile, the Formless Ones were busily creating their Arcturian Corridor. This corridor was much like a huge birth canal through which planets, solar systems, galaxies and universes could be protected and cared for during their intense transformation into higher frequencies of expression.

However, only the Portal Openers would know they were within a huge cosmic portal. They would know this because they were those who had had enough trust in the Formless Ones to totally surrender into a state of consciousness completely unique to all of their past, present and future experiences of reality.

Their surrender encompassed past, present and future because once they entered the corridor they slowly lost all concept of time. Hence, memory would no longer be limited to the past, as there was only NOW. Furthermore, within the corridor there was no illusion of inside vs. outside

Therefore, they could no longer distinguish between internal and external events. They could directly experience their beingness only within the constant state of the HERE and NOW. At first, this direct expression of being life was unique and therefore, challenging. However, as they became accustomed to this manner of “being,” they soon forgot any other expression of reality.

While in this state of being, they could consciously experience their form transmuting without the necessity of “death.” In fact, they began to experience, and simultaneously forget, their myriad third/fourth dimensional lives in form. They retained all that they had learned, but once they began to return to that true SELF, they were in such joy that memories of their past challenges transmuted into the victories of the NOW.

When they first entered the Arcturian Corridor, they had to release every person, place, situation and thing that had not chosen to enter the corridor. Some of these releases were quite difficult, as some physical relationships were made that would not carry forth into the corridor.

The Portal Openers were sad to leave behind some of their friends who had become lost in the illusions that they believed were real. However, the Portal Openers knew that there was no time. Consequently, their friends and family would eventually join them.

Without question the fully awakened Portal Openers entered the corridor with absolute surrender and total release of all that could not, or would not, join them. They entered the corridor knowing that they had to trust the feel within their heart and discharge anything that cluttered their mind.

But how did they enter the corridor? Was it visible and discrete, such as a physical bridge? No, that was the primary challenge of entering the corridor. It was not a Bridge, and it was not physical. In fact, it was not in front of or around them. The corridor was within them. But, how could they enter something that was within them?

The Portal Openers had to collapse into their SELF. In other words, they had to deny all attachments to that which appeared to be around them and bond fully with that which they found within their High Heart. To their surprise, when they entered their High Heart, they discovered that all they had loved unconditionally in their myriad incarnations was awaiting their reunion.

The Formless Ones had told them that unconditional love was the bonding force of the Universe. However, how could they know that unconditional love would bond all they loved within a higher frequency of reality that they could enter only by surrendering into their own High Heart?

The Portal Openers did not know that they had collected within their own High Heart every reality that they had ever experienced in all of their excursions into form. Every person, place, situation or thing that they had loved unconditionally was awaiting them within the “NOW” of this great reunion.

The Portal Openers collected ALL these past, present and future realities and merged them into the “NOW” of their ascension. In this manner, every experience of unconditional love that they had ever enjoyed was gathered into the corridor.

Since the Portal Openers so dearly and unconditionally loved their planet, they gathered everything they loved about their planet into the corridor, as well. Unfortunately, this gathering of planetary experiences into the corridor would play havoc with the Lost Ones who were still planet-bound.

The Lost Ones still held tight to the fear, victimization and/or power-over others. Thus, their quotient of love and light was quite small. They could not even find their High Heart, much less collapse into it. Furthermore, surrender felt like failure to them. They would not surrender their long-held beliefs, nor would they surrender that which they had worked so hard to acquire.

Unfortunately for the Lost Ones, the Arcturians who were the holders of planetary form were happy to join the Portal Openers and the Formless Ones in the corridor. Hence, portions of the matrix of the planet were disappearing from the perception of the Lost Ones.

Those who had believed in a disastrous ending were playing out that storyline, while others continued with their selfish or weak behaviors. On the other hand, some of the Lost Ones were finding great courage and assisting others as they sought a safe place. How surprised they were when they discovered that the safe place was actually within the corridor.

Unfortunately, other Lost Ones were holding on to their power-over others and/or their self-pity and lack of control over their own lives. These Lost Ones raged or called desperately to their separate God because they could not find their own Arcturian core. It was at this juncture where the holographic story had begun.

To my surprise, at this point in the story an immense range of emotions overtook me, and I angrily turned off the hologram. Why? Why had I been shown this? Was I shown this story to remind me that, rather than selfishly advancing my own abilities, I should be home in the Pleiades on my own planet?

I bolted from the holosuite in confusion and sorrow. What about my own people? What were they facing now? I was sworn to be a protector of my people, and I was off on my own selfish advancement when I should be home protecting and helping them. I was almost running when I bumped into the Arcturian.

The mere touch of Its body and mind calmed my emotions and centered my thinking. The Arcturian looked deeply into my eyes, and we met soul to soul. I felt answers to many unasked question flow into my consciousness. My breath slowed, my heart calmed and my mind stilled.

“We have a guest we want you to greet and take on a tour of the Mothership,” the Arcturian telepathically informed me. I started to speak, but it telepathically interrupted to say, "Speak only with your heart." Thus, I had to fully center myself enough to ask the telepathic questions of where I should go and for who I should look.

I felt the Arcturian's smile inside my heart as I heard, "Follow me." I followed the Arcturian to the main entry area and saw a lovely being of unknown gender and planetary origin. The Arcturian responded to my unspoken question by telepathically saying, "She/It is a hybrid of human and Arcturian whose name is Kepier."

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section II

Mytre and Kepier

Mytre Meets Kepier

MYTRE CONTINUES:

As soon as my eyes met Kepier's I felt as though we knew each other in a very deep way. However, as I quickly searched my memory, I found none to match my feelings. I decided to let my first impressions go, as I was concerned I was not giving her enough of my attention. I say "her" as Kepier seemed to be more her than him or it, as I refer to the Arcturian.

Kepier looked at me with a similar look of recognition but also said nothing. The Arcturian introduced us, and then quickly left to attend to other business. After a moment of discomfort, I finally admitted to Kepier that she seemed to be very familiar and asked if we had ever met. She smiled in a knowing way and said, "Not recently."

Kepier changed the subject before I could question her response and said that she was quite anxious to see the ship. As I led the way to the main corridor, she told me about her service on the Arcturian Starship Athena. When I took her to the visitor's section she said, "I think the Arcturian wanted me to have a multidimensional tour of the ship."

I was surprised that Kepier knew about the multidimensional component of the Mothership. I was also honored that the Arcturian had chosen me to be the guide for this obviously well informed visitor.

"I am not just a visitor. I will be serving here," I heard in my heart. When I looked at her with a questioning expression on my face she smiled. "Yes, we are telepathically linked," she said with her voice.

I could see that this guided tour would be much more than I expected. I have to admit that I did not respond to her comment about our telepathic link, as I needed a few moments to pull my thoughts together.

Finally, I said, in a too formal voice, “Would you prefer to speak with voice or telepathy. I know it would be beneficial for me to practice my telepathic communication. I have communicated in that manner with only my Arcturian friend.”

“Yes, the Arcturians are grand friends, aren’t they,” she spoke telepathically, “I would enjoy the practice of telepathic communication myself. I am a counselor on the Starship Athena and find telepathy quite useful.

Actually, I was a counselor. I am not sure yet what my duties will be here. However, I believe that we, that is you and I, are meant to be part of the landing party to assist a planet on the verge of Ascension.”

With such joy that I forgot the telepathy I said, “Oh, do you mean my planet in the Pleiades System?”

“Oh, no,” KEPHIR also spoke with her voice, “that occurred long, long ago.”

“I don’t understand. Allow me to take you to one of my favorite places on the Ship where we can talk. It appears that you are to be my guide, as well.”

Of course I took her to my special holosuite and set it for my nature program. We sat down on small wooden chairs next to the waterfall and looked out over the nearby cliff. Before us was the landscape of a world that I had never seen but one that had been haunting my imagination.

As soon as we sat down, KEPHIR said with a reverence in her voice, “Oh my, this is Earth.”

“Earth!” I said, “Where is that? Also, when is that? It appears that you and I have been living on different time streams. It also appears that I am to adjust to your time stream.”

“Yes,” KEPHIR responded. “The many streams of time can be quite confusing. However, I am noticing that all of the timelines seem to merge here in the Mothership. Is that because it is fifth dimensional?”

“I think it is the total multidimensional quality of this ship that creates the convergence of ALL timelines. The Arcturian told me about this time convergence, but I did not put it together with my life until just now. Of course the Arcturian would, once again, offer me a lesson in the form of an experience,” I answered.

“But, before we continue, KEPHIR, could you tell me about the ascension of our community on my Homeworld?”

“Yes Mytre, it ascended long ago. In fact, you were there with Mytria and your lovely daughter. The ascension of your planet was known around the Galaxy. You have not yet opened that file in your multidimensional consciousness as it would interrupt your current flow of reality.”

“But, I have been haunted with guilt that I did not help my people. How could I forget that?”

“You did not forget it. It has not happened yet within your knowing. Even though the ascension of your Pleiadian reality occurred long before the ascension of Earth, you were brought here to assist with the ascension of Earth because of what you learned on your Homeworld.”

“How can I use what I learned on my Homeworld when I don’t remember it?”

“Because you must complete this mission in order to remember how to ascend your own world.” KEPHIR continued in response to my look of puzzlement. “Yes, I too have difficulty understanding the nature of timeless time.”

“However, it is much easier to see the matrix of timelines within another than it is to see it within yourself. I think that is part of the reason why we have been put together. That and because we are both part of the landing party.”

I had no response to her second mention of being on a landing party. First, I had to digest the information about the ascension of my Homeworld. Also, the mention of Mytria and Alycia sent me into a wave of reverie. I had not realized how much I had pushed away from my heart my longing for my beloved family.

As we each became involved in our own lives, my nightly astral meetings with Alycia had become less frequent. Also, I had not contacted Mytria since she entered the Core of the Mother. Realizing that I was on a totally different time stream than my beloved ones made me miss them even more.

I wondered if another version of myself was with them in that timeline? That thought brought me such comfort that I did not want to explore it further in case it was incorrect. Therefore, I allowed the concept of our living together to settle into my High Heart.

The Arcturian had told me that anything we stored in our High Hearts would be infinitely accessible to our multidimensional consciousness. Therefore, I relaxed into my small wooden chair and felt the time stream of our togetherness take root in my High Heart. As I did so, I felt a warm presence where there had once been longing and regret.

As the setting of the sun shot rays of red and gold light into my being, this healing slowly spread through my body. Simultaneously, I felt a peace and calm move into Kepier, which seemed to be healing some wound of which I was unaware.

With a feeling of deep camaraderie, we simultaneously took deep breaths and focused on the simple pleasure of watching a sunset. As our environment grew darker, we relaxed more and more into the knowing of the unknown. Within the same moment we both thought, “As I live in the NOW, I flow with the ONE.”

On the distant planet of Earth, millions went about their daily life with no concept of the immense change that was occurring in a frequency of reality just beyond their perception. Paying bills, getting the kids to school, caring for an elderly parent, going to work, having fun and finding love filled their reality. They were free of the immense burden of planetary ascension.

They wanted it that way; they did not want to know. They wanted to do life. Nothing in their reality guided them to even imagine that the planet was a living being. Nothing in their reality led them to even consider that their life was multidimensional or that they had higher frequency versions of their SELF. Some went to church and others did not. Either way, spirit and religion was the same thing to them and God lived far off in Heaven.

They felt safe living within a familiar reality that had existed for many millennia. They were too busy to ponder something that was different from all that they had known. Some of these people were loving and kind. Others were fearful and mean. These two groups were locked in the game of polarity, totally oblivious to even a possibility that their lives could undergo a quantum change.

Therefore, in some time stream their lives would continue the same as always. The possible reality of ascension would move into their world like a low cloud, and they would never notice it. The skies would fill with unidentified objects, and they would never notice. They were NOT complete with the 3D game of polarity and separation.

They did not want to know, change or alter their perception of reality. For them the game would continue. They did not know that they are the creators of their reality. Since they were unwilling to allow a new concept into their awareness, they would continue to live life in the same manner as they had always lived it.

On the other hand, there were some who wanted to live life in a new fashion. In fact, some had prepared for this shift in reality for many incarnations. They somehow found a way to connect with their Multidimensional SELF and were ready and willing to return to their higher expression of SELF. Would they, however, be willing to release the illusion of TIME?

Return To The Restoration Chambers

MYTRE SPEAKS:

As Kepier and I sat in the dimming light, I found a great comfort in the illusion of being on a planet and experiencing time. The Mothership ran on 24-hour cycles, mostly for the sake of those who were coming from Earth. It turns out that, now, one of the Mothership's primary focuses is the ascension of Earth.

The Arcturians have had a special affection for Gaia, the being who became Earth. In fact, they are so involved with this planetary ascension that many of them have placed a spark of their life force within those humans who have prepared their consciousness enough, in their myriad incarnations, that they can accept the frequency of Arcturian light.

The Arcturians were among the first to answer Gaia's call at the fall of Atlantis, and then again about 70 Earth years ago when the testing for the nuclear bomb began. Therefore, they are quite accustomed to assisting planet Earth by placing their spark into a living earth vessel. I am told that many of the ascended Pleadians have also been sending their spark into humans.

It would take me awhile to adjust to the concept that I was in a different timeline than when I first came to the Mothership. However, I was also beginning to realize that both timelines exist simultaneously within my consciousness. All of these thoughts ran through my mind within the few moments of the sunset.

When it became dark, I called for the end of the hologram program, and Kepier and I began our tour of the Mothership. It turns out that we did not discuss much while in the holosuite, but we bonded at a very deep level. In fact, we moved into a state of deep knowing of each other.

However, there was still something about Kepier that I could not quite figure out. I decided to relax into that question and allow the answer to be revealed. As we walked out of the holosuite, it felt as if we had known each other forever. Maybe we had.

"Where would you like to go first?" I asked Kepier once we left the holosuite.

She pondered my question and said, "I know I may be jumping ahead a bit, but I would really like to go to the seventh dimensional area and visit the Oversoul."

I had not thought in terms of visiting the Oversoul, but I liked that idea. Since I had allowed myself to join into a relationship with the Oversoul, I was happy to have that opportunity.

“How do we begin our journey to the Oversoul?” Kephir asked telepathically. “I have heard so much about the multidimensional nature of this Mothership that I cannot wait to experience it firsthand. I am happy to go through all the portals until we get to the Oversoul.”

“I can see that you have done your research,” I said. “Yes, let’s start with the beginning.”

The beginning for me was the restoration chamber, which I had not visited since that very first time. “I must admit,” I said, “I would like to go into the chamber again myself.”

“Lead the way,” said Kephir with obvious excitement.

We were so excited to get there that we were almost running. The restoration chamber was a long way away from where we were. At the same moment, Kephir and I looked at each other and telepathically said, “Let’s beam there.”

We simultaneously reached out to grab each other’s hand as we both entered our higher state of consciousness. I had done this with only the Arcturian, so I did not know for sure if it would work.

“Of course it will work,” Kephir smiled.

We both took three breaths to calibrate our consciousness to our higher expression, as well as to each other. For some reason we both trusted each other completely and enough to translate our particles from where we were standing to our chosen destination—the restoration chamber. In an instant, we were there. I had not even had time to worry, as the transition was instant. We looked at each other with surprised and happy faces.

“We are a good team,” I said, and Kephir continued, “That is why the Arcturians put us together.”

There were several restoration chambers that had more than one chair in the room, and we went to one of those. We each got into our own chair and quickly went into a state of deep meditation. While I was in meditation, I perceived myself in my best flight uniform standing outside our shuttlecraft.

There were several shuttlecrafts from different representatives of the Mothership standing in front of their shuttlecraft. The humans in front of us had been invited to meet us because they had requested to be present at one of our landings. They had made their requests by asking their higher expressions in the Galactic Federation to tell them where to be and when to be there.

Many of these people had been waiting for several days, as they did not want to miss out on this most momentous event in their planetary history. We could feel that there was a force field of fifth dimensional energy that was surrounding us. We could see through this shield, but it was obvious that those outside of the shield could not see us.

We were in a relatively remote place, but some people and cars moved into the shield and then disappeared until they came out the other side. They had remained in their third dimensional frequency of reality and were totally unaware of our higher dimensional reality. Because of the force field, we could answer the questions of our awakened and ascending family in human disguise without frightening those who still lived within the illusion.

The humans within the shield seemed totally relaxed with our meeting and completely prepared to alter their lives in any manner necessary to bring in the new frequency of reality. They were aware of those who passed through our meeting within the lower frequencies, and were not surprised or concerned.

Our human friends were fully ready to hear what we had to say. Many of them could recognize their higher expressions and moved forward to respectfully greet them. To my surprise, I saw that the same person greeted Kepier and me.

“You didn’t know?” questioned Kepier.

I smiled. Yes I had suspected, but could not totally believe it. Our human representative was bursting with joy to meet us and wondered when she could come on the ship. Kepier and I smiled.

Simultaneously, our eyes opened, and we sat up in our chairs. We both knew that we had shared the same experience. Because I had adapted to my reality in the higher frequencies, the rejuvenation chair did not exhaust me as it had the first time I sat in it. Instead, it gave me the information that was upfront in my heart/mind and ready for resolution.

When I looked over at Kepier, she smiled because now we both recognized the streams of higher frequency energies connecting us.

“How did I miss these energetic connections before?” asked Kepier.

“I guess we were not ready to see them until we returned to the restoration chamber,” I said. “Let’s go to the 6D viewing room to get more information about our impending mission.”

After being in the rejuvenation chairs, we did not need to hold hands when we beamed ourselves to the sixth dimensional “Door to Nowhere.” We opened the door with the power of our joint thought and entered the sixth dimensional energy field.

I felt the electrical charges fill my body as they began to alter the resonance of my form. For comfort, we held hands again while the sixth dimensional energy moved methodically through our bodies. Because we had both experienced the chairs, and because we were holding hands, we felt each other’s body as if it were our own.

The energy field moved up, down and around our bodies, slowly escalating our vibration. We could hear a “whishing” noise and felt our bodies tingle and shift. Suddenly, our bodies seemed to disappear, but our consciousness was there and totally aware.

Instantly, a rush of higher energy came into the small room filling our consciousness with a higher frequency that molded itself into the exact appearance we each held before our process of transmutation began.

When the process was concluded, the room cleared to reveal our enhanced sixth dimensional bodies. These bodies were somewhat similar to our fifth dimensional forms but resonated at a far more mutable, higher frequency. Our minds were completely clear and our hearts fully opened.

We both smiled as we walked toward the 6D viewing room. However, walking, is not how sixth dimensional bodies move. Therefore, we thought about going to the 6D viewing room and suddenly found ourselves standing in front of the viewing screen.

We simultaneously thought about our joint vision of the landing party and were instantly pulled into the sixth dimensional viewing screen.

The Sixth Dimensional Viewing Screen

MYTRE CONTINUES:

As we were pulled into the sixth dimensional viewing screen our bodies merged into one being. We could also feel other versions of our SELF who were gathered around us in a state of pure consciousness. As one being, we wondered how many versions of consciousness were within our Multidimensional SELF.

The answer to our question came in a flash of sixth dimensional light. We, Kepier and I, saw our Multidimensional SELF before us with more expressions of being than we could count. I say “being” as not all of our expressions of SELF were humanoid. However, before I could interact with any of our versions of SELF, the picture quickly changed.

Now we were within a void of nothingness that felt much like a womb. This void was quite pleasant and felt very safe. Gradually, the void began to take on the vague form of a portal, or a corridor. Instantly, the Arcturian story of ascension returned to my mind, and I thought of the Arcturian Corridor.

I remembered that this corridor, which appeared to be external, was actually within the High Heart. Unfortunately, I had not given much consideration to anything spiritual lately. I had been so involved in learning how to adapt to my new multidimensional world, that thoughts of my High Heart were forgotten.

In fact, since leaving Mytria and Alycia, I had closed my heart and lived primarily in my mind. I had learned mastery of my mind far beyond what I had ever thought was possible. However, love had been pushed from my reality as something that I had given up.

No wonder that Mytria and Alycia had become so involved with their own lives. I had cut off my emotions so that I would not be overcome with my longing and grief. However that action hurt the ones who had loved me much more than I was willing to admit.

As I pondered these thoughts, I felt the presence of Kepier within me trying to give me comfort and compassion. I also felt how I was trying to push away her comforting. Therefore, I decided to stop pushing away that which felt like love and to embrace it with my long-forgotten High Heart.

Within that exact moment I felt and observed how the vague form of a portal encompassed the joint consciousness of Kepier and me. Instantly, we were within a huge corridor that appeared to be infinite. To our surprise, we began to return to our individual forms, but our bodies were translucent and transparent. In fact our bodies were comprised of light.

We smiled at each other, which was not the usual physical smile, but a smile that was an emotional experience. In fact, my emotions had returned and were completely overwhelming. Fortunately, the experience of being in a warm womb allowed me the safety to feel and release the emotions that had been pent-up for longer than I could recall.

I could see that Kepier was having the same experience, except that her emotions appeared to be quite blissful. On the other hand, my emotions felt like sorrow. Interestingly enough, as I released the sorrow I began to feel the bliss, as well. This sensation of bliss was stronger than my former body could hold. However, my lightbody could fully embrace the bliss and absorb it into its essence.

As the bliss absorbed into my lightbody, I began to remember. It is too difficult to put into words what I remembered, as I did not remember it in words. Instead, my consciousness began to open files in my heart/mind that were files in a language that was not based on thoughts. Instead, this language was based on love—unconditional love.

This new language was multidimensional in that I could collect and understand myriad levels of information that were intertwined into a light network of data. Somehow I had opened my heart/mind, which was a heart-centered plexus that gathered multidimensional thoughts and emotions and interconnected them into a tapestry of knowing.

This knowing did not need to be expressed, or even understood. It simply was. Just as I never needed to understand or modulate the beating of my heart, I did not need to interact with my heart/mind in a purposeful manner. It simply was there and filled with ALL that I could ever wish to know, feel, use and/or share.

I looked toward Kepier's lightbody and understood that she was undergoing the same transformation. In fact, as I looked around me I could see that there were many lightbodies in the corridor who all had a similar expression of knowing, bliss and full enlightenment. So, is this what happens within the Arcturian Corridor?

My unasked question was answered by the instant appearance of the Arcturian. The smile I felt emanating from it was all the answer I needed. The Arcturian looked at both Kepier and me and telepathically said, "We are happy that you have both been able to open your heart/mind. You will need it for what you are being called to do. Please, we must leave here now, as you are needed in our meeting."

In a flash, we were in the main meeting room where the Galactic Federation had its meetings. Was I about to be allowed the immense honor of observing one of these meetings? Again, the Arcturian telepathically answered my unasked question.

"You will not just be observing the meeting. You, meaning you and Kepier, will be taking part in it."

The Arcturian directed us to chairs directly in front of the semi-circular meeting table. We were in the first row. Kepier and I looked at each other with nervous, and simultaneously calm, expressions.

We both felt our heart/mind fully operational, which calmed our thoughts and filled them with love. Together we watched in awe as the most powerful galactic leaders of the federation entered the room and took their seats.

First there were the usual rituals and meditations that initiated these meetings so that everyone in the room could calibrate their consciousness to the same frequency. In this manner, both spoken and unspoken messages could be relayed within the NOW of our connection to the ONE.

I found that for the first time I was able to follow these multidimensional conversations through my newly opened heart/mind. I was now understanding why the Arcturian always told me to listen with my heart, which is what I was doing while each member of the Galactic Federation spoke.

I heard what each member said at the same time that I heard/felt the mental and emotional reactions and interactions of the other members. If we had not been calibrated to the same mental frequency, I would not have been able to receive these multiple messages within the NOW.

I will attempt to put what was said into linear words so that our friends on Earth can understand what was discussed. First, I would like to address the reason why so many of you cannot remember what you experience on the ship during your nightly visits.

Primarily, there are certain security issues that must be protected. We know that your governments and secret societies have many of our human representatives under surveillance and have retro-engineered some of our mental communication devices. We use these devices so that we can communicate with new species or groups when mental calibration is not feasible.

The dark ones of your physical world have used these devices to “read the minds” of some of our grounded ones. They do so without the permission or the knowledge of the one whom they are reading. Therefore, it is best that many of our visitors do not remember their time on the ship, especially if they are attending certain meetings.

Do not be concerned though, as these tactics of the dark ones are greatly diminished and will soon be completely eradicated. Every day, more dark ones are either returning to the light or being taken to another frequency or timeline of reality. As your timeline progresses, those who wish to thwart the process of planetary ascension will not be allowed to stay on Earth.

Now to return to my story, Kepier and I sat in rapt attention taking in everything that was said. Some of this information was classified, but the overall message was one of imminent change on the ascending planet Earth. The Galactics have over-lit that planet for the last 12,000 years since its near demise, which was caused because the darkness had become stronger than the light.

The pre-ordained time of planetary ascension was near and many alterations needed to be made within the consciousness of the masses of that planet. This consciousness shift was vital so that the beings of Earth could calibrate their consciousness with the ascending frequency of their planet.

Fortunately there were beings, not all of who were human, who had been assisting the planetary soul, Gaia, to expand and maintain a higher frequency of manifestation.

Once this higher frequency of manifestation was stabilized, Earth would move out of being a planetary society and into being a galactic society.

Personal contact had already been made with many of the Earth beings. This contact was quite simple with the cetacean beings, but much more complicated with the human beings. The humans who had calibrated their consciousness, and hence their attention and perceptions, to the higher frequencies were more than ready for Earth to become a galactic civilization.

However, there were still many who feared change because they enjoyed, and did not want to lose, the power they had attained over others. It was this split in the realities of the populace that was the primary concern of the Galactic Federation.

The Federation was totally prepared to begin its landings. However, it was concerned that the dark ones of Earth, who still maintained a high degree of power, would harm those who were ready to ascend their consciousness into the frequency in which they could perceive our landings.

Of course, the dark ones were unable to calibrate their consciousness to a higher frequency because of their need to dominate others. Therefore polarities, and the resulting separation, still existed among Gaia's human residents. This polarity/separation was hindering Gaia's ability to fully expand her resonance into the fifth dimensional frequency of reality.

Furthermore there were many humans who were still fully asleep or undecided; hence, their ability to embrace the concepts that were necessary to expand their consciousness into the fifth dimension was greatly limited. Because of the humans who remained in a limited state of consciousness, the landings of the Galactics could create more harm than good.

This meeting had been called to determine the best course of action. Gaia, the planetary being, was already in the process of ascension and would soon need to shed those who could not follow her acceleration of frequency. These dark and undecided ones were creating a "drag" on her escalation of matter.

The fourth dimensional elementals were working diligently to transmute planetary matter, as well as the matter of willing humans. However, humans still had free will. Hence, without their permission, the elementals could not assist those who refused change.

Fortunately, certain changes had been taking place within the governments of the planet that could facilitate the process of planetary ascension. Also, many of the dark ones had been contained. Consequently, the humans who could not change were the primary population of concern.

If the Galactics were to reveal their presence to this population, it would likely cause great fear. Then this frequency of fear would greatly hinder Gaia's ascension process. They had to find a way to reveal themselves to those who were ready without frightening those who were unable to accept a new reality.

They had been increasingly revealing their ships, which gave hope to the ones who were ready. However, those who were not ready were stubbornly finding excuses for these "fantasy aberrations." Also, many of them simply refused to participate in any information or visual experience that was different from what they already knew.

It was time for the landings to begin. They had been revealing themselves and meeting with more and more humans who were ready. However, now it was important to step up the landing process. Those who had awakened needed to be considered. They had been calling for the landings and had bravely spoken up about their experiences to a society that largely scorned them.

The Galactics decided that they could no longer hold back the needs of the brave leaders for the sake of those who were still afraid.

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP— Section III

Galactic Meetings

Communications With Earth

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Kepier and I were so intently paying attention to every word that was said that we did not notice that the rows of seats behind us were silently being filled. It was not until my Arcturian friend went to the podium and said, “Welcome beings from Earth,” that we turned to see how much the room had filled.

There were not just humans in this group. There were also those who appeared to be whale and dolphin beings, fourth dimensional elemental beings and majestic devic beings who supervised the elementals. Many of the different races, and even timelines, were included.

There was an ancient Mayan leader next to a leader from the 21st century. There were Lemurians sitting next to Atlantians and representatives of the animal kingdom in bi-pedal forms of their usual four-legged appearance. There were world leaders, scientists, religious leaders, and citizens from every culture and area of Earth.

Since this room was multidimensional like the rest of the ship, it expanded in size, as more room was needed for the incoming guests. It appeared that the humans were ushered in after the opening meditations were complete. Likely because of the humans, the Arcturian spoke in sequential human language when it introduced the members of the Federation.

Also, a universal translator made it possible for everyone to understand what was being said. When the Arcturian presented a regal-looking Draconian who stood up to reveal well over 10 feet of height, the humans fell into a hushed silence.

“Dear humans of Earth, we gather here today to release old conflicts that have arisen from the separation consciousness that has invaded your planet. Within this separation consciousness, your society devolved into the polarities of “power-over others” and “power-within SELF.” The power-over model creates a reality based on victim and victimizer, conqueror and conquered. On the other hand, the power-within mode creates a reality of unconditional love and unity consciousness.

“We have much to tell you about the nature of humanity and how it is interrelated with us, the Galactic Federation of your the Milky Way Galaxy. Your planet Earth has asked to become a member of our Galactic Community. Gaia, the soul of Earth, has served many fledgling species from many planets and solar systems in our Milky Way Galaxy.

“Now, Earth is ready to ascend into her fifth dimensional expression. She wishes to take her inhabitants with her, and all are ready except for humanity. Your present day human is a genetic mix of all the members of the Galactic Federation whom you see seated before you. This genetic mix includes the DNA of those you have considered your enemy, namely the Zetas and the Draconians.

“In this meeting, we will speak about your long relationship with the many different species of the Draconian race. For millions of years many members of your world have battled for the right to have either power-over others or power-within SELF. These two battles have been waged for millennia. However, once a being has found its power-within, it is no longer interested in gaining power-over others.

“Power-over others stemmed from a powerless, loveless childhood where survival was constantly a challenge, and some one or some thing created a constant threat of suffering, injury and/or annihilation. The Draconian Society, which is a Reptilian world, was and is based on the challenge of the strong surviving and the weak dying. There was a constant culling of their society so that only the very strong would live to adulthood.

“They were birthed from an egg external to their mother’s womb and left in the sand to hatch. The first ones to hatch fed on the later ones that hatched. Hence, they became strong enough to dominate others. As soon as they had enough strength from feeding on their siblings, they left the danger of their hatching area. Then they sought a safer place to hide and feed until they were big enough to survive outside of their hiding place.

“Because of this beginning they cared only for themselves, and they lived their lives in domination of others with no sympathy or concern for the weak. Some of the Dracs prospered and continued living via the means of dominating others. However, something very usual began to happen. Some of the last eggs to hatch were very resourceful. The stronger ones had left, and the baby Dracs and animals that fed on the eggs had had their fill.

“These last ones to hatch were born to a scene of carnage and destruction. Some were so weakened by this vision that they died. However, others were filled with a kind of compassion for their dead siblings. The eggs of this group of Dracs, the first ones laid and the last ones hatched, had remained buried in the earth longer and had had more time to mature within the shell. Hence, they were stronger and less fearful when they hatched and left their shell.

“These Draconians eventually banded together and established a secret society in which they could explore their great scientific, metaphysical minds and sense of humor. When this sub-specie of Draconians took to the skies in their starships, they did not do so with the intention of conquering, but with the intention of learning. However, because of their appearance, they created fear wherever they went.

“Their plight caught the attention of we Arcturians. We could easily see into the thoughts and feelings of these Dracs and knew that they were the key to curing the dynamic of fear and conquest in this galaxy. The Galactic War had raged on and off for many millennia with the power-over Dracs seeking conquest of all they explored. On the other hand, we Arcturians had been mentoring the gentle Dracs and providing them with a safe environment in which they could come into their full power-within.

“Because these Dracs looked like the conquering Dracs, they could infiltrate the warrior ranks to send us information and assist us in ending the Galactic War. They were not happy spying on their own kind, but they did not like to see this devolution of the great intelligence and wisdom of their species.

“Eventually, these Draconians ascended. They have returned to their multidimensional nature and serve within the Galactic Federation. However, they must constantly face the pressure of prejudice because of the violence of their species. We tell you this story now because it is the key to reaching the many humans who are still influenced and/or ruled by the instinct of their own Draconian DNA located in their lowest ‘lizard brain.’

“The humans ruled by this DNA live in terror, fearing for their own survival. Hence, they give themselves permission to harm others for the sake of their own safety. Some of these Drac/Humans are the victims of more dominant Drac/Humans. They have become subservient because they have not sufficiently connected with their higher cortical functions that could provide the solution to their problems. Furthermore, they have become entrenched in the third dimensional illusions and dogma that have been distributed to control the masses.

“This segment of the population of Earth is not ready for ascension, as they have not been able to move beyond the basic instincts of survival consciousness. The ascended Draconians, who have become members of our Galactic Federation, have learned to care for others in the same manner they care for themselves. In other words, they have learned to embrace love. All beings that can embrace love can accept ascension.

“Unfortunately, WHO humans have been so trapped in fear that they cannot recognize love, much less embrace it. When fear becomes the master, the source of power becomes external rather than internal. When the source of power is external, humans listen only to those who wish to dominate others. These humans cannot love themselves enough to allow their higher expressions of SELF to speak into their heart/mind.

“The ascended Dracs can work within the ranks of the remaining power-over others group, as well as within their enslaved population. Since these Dracs have ascended, they can create any form that is necessary to infiltrate the remaining segments of Earth’s conquer-or-be-conquered societies. These conquerors and the conquered have been locked in mortal combat for millennia and have traded places in many incarnations.

“Once they have been the conqueror, they must take on a lifetime as the conquered to experience the return of their energy field. If the conquered are unable to find power within, they become fearful again. If they die in fear, they return to the loop of conquered or conqueror. In other words, they must find their power-within while they are incarnated in an earth body. These ascended Dracs can be a powerful influence on Gaia’s humans who are trapped in the old story of survival as they can teach them power-within while they still hold their human form.

“As you know, just as many of you are direct descendants of the Pleiadians, Sirians and/or Arcturians, myriad dark ones who remain in power are direct descendants of the Draconians. Now, many of the Draconian descendants are ready to seek the light, but they do not know how. Who can better assist them than fellow Draconians who have found their power-within? Furthermore, who can better heal the victims of the Draconian rule than the Dracs themselves?

“No one knows that these Dracs are different from the ones who have dominated them. Hence, they think that since the victimizers can change, then they, the victims, can change too. In fact, there are many Dracs hiding in human form that are controlling the media. If the ascended Dracs can convince the power-over Dracs to tell the truth, the Earth masses will have an opportunity to expand their minds and feel safe enough to open their hearts.

“Just as there are many Pleiadians, Sirians, and Arcturians wearing a human form, there are many Dracs in human disguise, just as there are many Pleiadians, Sirians, and Arcturians wearing a human form. We wish all humans to feel free to reveal the lineage of their Multidimensional SELF. The Draconians were once mighty beings before they descended into the third dimension and smelled the scent of conquest that caused them to devolve into their animal nature.

“Dear members of Gaia’s Earth, before we close our message, we ask that you feel our presence within your earth vessel. Feel our presence move deeply into your heart/mind. Sense how our connection with you is flowing up from your heart/mind and into your brain to activate your Third Eye.

“Now, allow your Third Eye to perceive us within yourself as the unconditional love of pure unity consciousness. As the Dracs clear the way by assisting the victims and victimizers we, your other galactic ancestors, will be able to commune with you in a manner that is more vivid than you have ever experienced.

“Of course, we could have always communed with you in this manner, but it would have put our ascending ones into an energy pattern that would have made it too difficult to remain within your earth vessel. Your physical form is your deepest connection to Gaia, and critical for the process of planetary ascension.

“The calibration of the ascending ones with the body of Gaia is essential in order to reunite with the being called New Earth. Of course, all possible realities are already created within your fifth dimensional NOW. However, you need to open a portal/corridor into the ascended realities that already exists. This corridor is best created by your multidimensional consciousness.

“Then as you expand your consciousness into its higher dimensional expressions, you also expand your portal/corridor. In this manner you will transmute your reality into higher and higher dimensions as you move through your ascension process. You will not be alone during your journey for you will be united with the great mass of Gaia’s Earth and the unity consciousness of the other ascending humans.

“You, the Portal Openers, are creating passageways from your physical reality into our Arcturian Corridor. All of you are fully dedicated to your mission of personal and planetary ascension. Hence, you are able to release your physical form to “die” to your physical world and instantly be “reborn” on the already existing New Earth.

“Those who shed their earth vessel will go ahead to prepare New Earth for further inhabitants. Some of them will move into the higher planes beyond New Earth because their mission has been completed. These members of our ascension team took forms to serve as “booster rockets” to open the first portals. When they have completed their mission they will move into whichever reality fulfills their great multidimensional consciousness.

“On the other hand, there are those of you who have come to deeply love your Mother Gaia. You have volunteered to stay with Gaia throughout the entire planetary ascension, as well as during the process in which you unite with New Earth. Just as you have myriad expressions of your multidimensional human SELF, Gaia has uncountable expressions of her multidimensional planetary SELF.

“Hence, as you connect to your higher expressions of SELF, you assist Gaia in connecting to her higher planetary expression. Furthermore, as you assist Gaia, Gaia is assisting you. Also, as you are re-connecting your individuated consciousness with your multidimensional consciousness of Galactics, Celestials, Ascended Masters and Elohim, Gaia is connecting herself with her myriad expressions of star, solar system, galaxy and universe.

“You are not creating these higher personal and planetary expressions, as they infinitely exist within the NOW of the ONE. You are re-connecting your consciousness within the great vastness of your pure multidimensional nature. Every birth must be preceded by a death, such as the death of the amniotic sac which preceded your first breath outside of the womb. The death that you must accept is the loss of those needs you believe you must fulfill before you can focus on your ascension.

“Your personal unfulfilled needs are extremely minute in comparison to the universal shift into higher expressions of being. Any unfulfilled needs distract you from your mission of being your Multidimensional SELF and tie you to a third-dimensional reality that is ending. Hence, you are denying yourself entrance into the reality in which you can experience complete fulfillment.

“Your choice of attending to the needs of your wounded ego rather than choosing to attend to transmuting your planet will lower your resonance to a frequency that cannot perceive the portals into New Earth. In order to release these old ‘needs,’ you will need to realize that you are very important for the process of planetary ascension! As you return to your higher expressions of SELF, you assist Gaia to return to her higher expressions of SELF.

“There are still those humans on your planet who are working against planetary ascension. These humans have become lost in their small minds and smaller hearts. Hence, they can think only that their desire to control a reality of a very low resonance is more important than returning to a reality based on unconditional love.

“These lost ones are totally unaware that in order to hold on to their sense of control and power over others, they are denying their ability to experience unconditional love, bliss and joy. In the same manner, those who limit their powerful heart/mind to the desires for third dimensional possession, fame and wealth are restricting their reality to a mere spec of the very SELF who can instantly fulfill their every need within a flash of the NOW.

“All that resonates to a frequency below that of unconditional love is best released so that you can set free your attachments to your physical reality. Once you are free of the illusions of the third/fourth dimensional world, you can attach your consciousness to the ongoing process of planetary ascension. In other words, we ask that the needs of your personal self take the back seat to the needs of your planetary self.

“Your planetary self lives in unity consciousness with all those who have chosen this commitment and who are focusing their attention on the unconditional love and joy of creating New Earth. We, the members of the Galactic Federation salute you for your great courage and sacrifice. We are infinitely with you whether you are in the most mundane physical task or visiting us here on the Mothership.”

States of Consciousness and Adherence to Reality

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Just after the Arcturian spoke, the meeting ended for the day. A day was determined by planet Earth's 24-hour cycle to which the Mothership was adjusted. This adjustment was made to accommodate the many Earth beings on board the ship. Kepier and I had had enough adventure and information and were ready to go to our quarters to get some sleep.

We both chose to eat alone in our quarters, as we needed to integrate what the Arcturian had said. After I ate the food I had prepared in the replicator, I took a sonic shower and went to bed. To my surprise, I instantly fell asleep. However, it did not feel like a normal sleep, as I immediately went into a vivid dream in which the Arcturian was standing before me.

"I have come to you in your dream state, as it will be easier for you to understand my message while in this state of consciousness," said the Arcturian.

When I was about to respond, I found that I could only communicate telepathically. I felt as though my vocal cords would not work. In fact, my every thought was projected telepathically, even if that had not been my intention.

The Arcturian smiled. "While you are in your dream body your astral consciousness is much stronger than your physical intention. It is for this reason that I am communicating with you in your dream state. I wish to connect with you in the imagistic fashion of higher dimensional communications. In this manner, many concepts can be explored within the same moment of the NOW."

I understood what the Arcturian was saying, so I was quiet and waited to see what he was about to communicate.

"Mytre, I want to tell you about states of consciousness and adherence to reality. Your state of consciousness will hold you to a reality of a correlate frequency of operation. Every reality is multidimensional, and certain frequencies are best for habitation by intelligent beings. As you become more conscious of your inter-dimensional travels, you will realize this fact.

“Of course, you have been traveling inter-dimensionally since your Oversoul created your specific spark. Your spark of creation occurs when you take your first form. You, that is the multidimensional essence of you, are much more expansive than you can imagine. Your first forms were of lightbody, in which you traveled the multiverse seeking experience.

“Experience is defined as movement through myriad varieties of interactions. When your primary consciousness is in your highest frequency of form, you can simultaneously observe countless expressions of reality. Of course, you never leave this highest expression of your Multidimensional SELF. Therefore, when you travel inter-dimensionally, you are actually expanding your range of consciousness to encompass lower frequencies of reality.

“In this manner, you can experience that which you are observing from the perspective of your spark of creation, while you simultaneously experience it from the perspective of being within that frequency of beingness. Your highest expression of ‘observer self’ is infinite and a component of the NOW of the ONE. Hence, you never leave it; instead you expand your consciousness to experience other expressions of reality.

“A visual image, which can be correlated to what we are saying, is that of a huge cloud. This cloud releases rain. The rain touches the ground and directly interacts with it. Some of this rain falls into water, some falls onto rock, and some falls into the earth. All of the rain that originates from the same cloud is related via the same heritage.

“Some of the rain will fall into the lowest depths of the planet, such as the desert, and other rain will fall onto the peaks of the highest mountains, as well as everywhere in between. As each raindrop falls into a different area, it gathers many different experiences. All of these experiences are simultaneously perceivable within the NOW of your ‘cloud.’

“Hence, your cloud sends down raindrops so that it can intimately experience myriad lower dimensional realities via its raindrops. Some of these experiences are very enjoyable and some are not, but all of them are educational. From the perspective of your spark of creation, you are infinitely alive within the comfort of the ONE and are virtually visiting myriad dimensions of reality.

“On the other hand, each raindrop takes on its own life spark, which initiates its own timeline for existence and inter-dimensional travel. All the life sparks that originate from the same cloud are related. Furthermore, every cloud is related, as they are all representatives of the ONE.

“Thus, all of you who are inter-dimensionally traveling the multiverse are related because all clouds are related. However, you are most intimately linked to those raindrops which fell from the same cloud. But, since all the clouds are related, every raindrop/life spark is connected in the higher frequencies of reality.

“We use the metaphor of clouds and life sparks because they create an image. If we were to say Elohim, Oversouls and multidimensional life streams, your mind would become engaged, but you might miss the heart feeling. We speak in an imagistic manner so that you can better live the message. When a message is lived rather than understood or remembered, it is stored in your heart/mind, as well as your brain.

“We are training you to converse in this manner, as this is how the galactics communicate with each other. Also, this imagistic mode of communication allows you to talk to beings of many different realities, because you are relaying an image rather than communicating with separate words and sentences. Therefore, please relax while we take you on an inter-dimensional journey.”

Relaxing was good for me, as I was supposedly sleeping. However, since the Arcturian needs no sleep I guess it didn't understand how important sleep was for me.

“On the contrary,” the Arcturian was responding to my thoughts, “you always go on journeys when you sleep. However, your third dimensional thinking tells you that life makes you tired, and you need to turn off your mind by sleeping. Physical life in the lower dimensions makes you tired because you have been trained to believe that concept. Life also makes you tired because your lower frequency life appears separate from your higher expressions of SELF.

“When you sleep, you are actually re-connecting with your higher expressions. These expressions of your SELF are never tired because no time passes and no work is done to cause fatigue. Your higher expressions of SELF do not experience polarities, separation or conflict. Furthermore, they do not experience fear, which is one of the main causes of fatigue. Fear fills your body with chemicals, which make your body race out of synchronization with your breath and heartbeat. Fear also separates your body from your true, inner thoughts and emotions, as you believe you must only focus on survival.

“We ask that you relax into the image of being a cloud. Your cloud form shifts and changes as you interact with atmospheric conditions. Sometimes the atmosphere seems dark and in transition. This condition is caused when the clouds/Oversouls are full and seem to hang low in the atmosphere. The clouds are lower because they are ready to empty their raindrops/sparks of creation, into the lower frequencies.

“Hence, these clouds are resonating to a slightly lower frequency because soul families are seeking to leave their cloud/Oversoul in order to interact with lower realities. On the other hand, sometimes the skies seem clear, and the clouds are further away and difficult to perceive, which means that your soul family wishes to perceive reality from a higher perspective.

“There are also times when there are many wispy clouds that seem to be creating pathways into the higher realms. This condition occurs when the Oversoul is free of rain/life sparks, but it realizes that many life sparks are ready to begin their long return back to their cloud/Oversoul.

“There is a very special occurrence on the planet Earth now, in that the entire planet is ready to commence its return to Oversoul. Hence, many clouds/Oversouls are sending down wispy passages to guide their life sparks home. This visual message is informing all the related planets, solar systems and galaxies that myriad beings, including a planetary being, are seeking support. They are calling for assistance because they are preparing to return to their higher expressions.

“We, the members of the Galactic Federation, have received this message and are here to assist. This particular planet is of great interest to us for it has long been a Mystery School created for developing civilizations to visit and learn about states of consciousness and adherence to reality. Within Mystery School Earth, there are myriad realities that exist, layered in a multidimensional manner, much like clouds in the sky.

“Differing states of consciousness will adhere to differing frequencies of Earth reality. To enter this Mystery School, a being and/or group of beings has to petition their Oversoul to experience a multidimensional reality based on polarities. If they also want to learn about individuality, they usually choose to enter Mystery School Earth.

“The fine print of the entry contracts into Mystery School Earth reads that they will forget everything once they enter this school. Therefore, many beings become trapped in the earth school because they forget who they are and why they went there. Mystery School Earth is now closing, but it has more students there than ever. Hence, all the graduates of this school have come to assist the ascending members of Earth to return home to their Oversoul.

“Many members of Mystery School Earth are fully aware that the lower dimensions of Earth’s mystery school are closing and they are prepared to begin their return to Oversoul. However, most of them will not make the leap from a third/fourth dimensional reality directly into their seventh dimensional Oversoul. Instead, they will return to their Oversoul dimension by dimension.

“The first reality that they will return to is the fifth dimension, then the sixth dimension and, eventually, the seventh dimensional Oversoul. Most of the beings who have taken a form on third/fourth dimensional Earth during this time of planetary ascension have experienced many incarnations in the polarized realities of Mystery School Earth.

“We will, now, return to our metaphor of the Oversoul being a cloud and the life sparks being the rain. Just as the rain first touches the highest peaks to become snow and eventually finds its way to the ocean, life sparks must go through many transitions in order to find their way down into the third/fourth dimensions of planet Earth.

“The oceans create great expanses of water, so that the rain can be pulled back into the clouds. Many life sparks on Earth hear the call of their Oversoul and are ready to begin their long journey home. In fact, the planetary being known as Earth is also ready to return to her higher expressions. If the life sparks and the planet can join together as an ocean of planetary consciousness, their call for assistance will be greatly amplified.

“Earth will begin her long journey back to Oversoul by being her fifth dimensional expression of New Earth, and many of her life sparks will join her there. Many of the members of the Galactic Federation, including you, Mytre, have taken countless incarnations on Gaia’s body of Earth. Hence, we have returned in answer to Gaia’s call for assistance. Do you understand what we are saying, Mytre?”

I was a bit taken aback by the Arcturian’s question, as I simultaneously realized that I was now awake. I understood that this question was an invitation, as well as a challenge. Then I remembered that this journey began with my trying to assist our community on my Homeworld to ascend.

I also remembered that Kepier said that in order to help my Pleiadian community, I would need to assist Gaia to ascend. I was also aware that I could not have the hidden agenda of assisting Gaia’s Earth in order to assist my Homeworld. I could feel the Arcturian reading my thoughts, as it patiently waited for me to move through them.

It was then that I realized that I was considering my thoughts in isolation from my heart. I was not using my heart/mind. No wonder I was confused. If I were to decide whether or not to take part in the immense responsibility of assisting an entire world to ascend, I would need to surrender to the knowing of my heart/mind.

I thought of the members of Earth receiving the same invitation to assist with planetary ascension. When I realized that they, too, would need to confront their hidden agendas, I felt great compassion for them. Did they even know that they had a heart/mind?

“Perhaps it is your privilege to tell them,” spoke the Arcturian.

Nightly Visits

MYTRE SPEAKS:

My next day began very early, as I received a message to meet with the Arcturian as soon as I was able. The communication seemed important, so I instantly dressed and went to our meeting. We met as usual, at the holosuite, as it was such a great place to learn by doing. When I arrived, the Arcturian had the nature program running and was sitting by the waterfall inviting me to join It. My instruction began as soon as I sat down.

“Dear Mytre, in preparation for your communicating with many different peoples and civilizations, we wish to talk to you about expanding your telepathic abilities. You are doing wonderfully with your telepathic communication with us and with Kepier. However, when you are the only one who can communicate telepathically, it will be a more difficult task.

“Therefore, we wish to go over some of what we have already taught you in order to laydown a firm foundation for a more advanced discussion on inter-dimensional communication. All telepathy will not be inter-dimensional, but much of your ensuing communications will be with beings of either higher or lower dimensions of resonances.

“We will begin our instruction by giving you more information regarding communing with your heart/mind. Yes, your heart/mind is a combination of your heart and mind, but it is much more. Actually, your heart/mind is your High Heart and your Third Eye working in unison.

“Your opened Third Eye has the ability to receive the patterns and codes of all frequencies of light. Then, your High Heart can translate these codes and light patterns into any of the many forms of language. Your High Heart makes these translations through its power of unconditional love. Since unconditional love is the highest frequency of light, it can understand and translate every pattern and code of light.

“Your incarnations in the lower worlds have led you to believing that your thoughts and emotions are separate. This belief is false, as both thoughts and emotions are patterns of light that are interpreted in a different manner.

“Thoughts are interpreted by perceiving how the patterns of light interact with each other. Conversely, emotions are interpreted by understanding how the patterns of light interact with your form. If one is free of form, there is truly no difference between thoughts and emotions; they are all patterns of light.

Our formless Arcturian resonance is the carrier wave for the light patterns that we send. We send our light messages, known as Light Language, into your consciousness by blending our resonance with yours. Thus you can recognize our feel and know that we are the sender. The feeling of the resonance of the sender of the Light Language is much like the “signature” in your human messages.

“Once we blend our resonance with yours to transmit our message, the carrier wave of our Light Language enters your earth vessel through your pineal gland. The pineal gland then sends the light message to your High Heart to be translated. The informational component is what you perceive as thoughts, whereas the imagistic component is what you perceive as emotions.

“However, when you separate thoughts from emotions in that manner, you lose much of the information. On the other hand, your heart/mind is able to maintain the interaction of information and images to create a more expanded message. It is for this reason that we ask you to release all fearful memories, as fear distorts our messages.

“The low frequency of any form of fear restricts your band of reception, cutting off the high and low peaks of information. For example, we may send you an image of a tree. However, if you have fear when you receive that image, the top of the tree would be cut off, as well as the deep root systems. Hence, any information about the life force of the tree’s new growth or the health of its roots would not be transmitted.

“If you surrender into fearful emotions, rather than blocking or being limiting by them, you can perceive the unification of thoughts and emotions with your heart/mind. In the same manner, if you do not think about your emotions, your heart/mind easily translate the Light Language that has been received via the thoughts of your mind and the images of your emotions.

“Remember, emotions are merely a form of communication. Fearful emotions tell you that it is not safe to be receptive to an incoming energy fields. However, you do not want to limit your ability to receive full communications from your SELF because of events that are no longer in your life. These ‘past’ emotional events remain as ‘scar tissue’ in your receptive neural net.

“Therefore, even when there is a message filled with love, the scar tissue will distort the loving message. This distortion can cause you to misinterpret a loving message as a fearful message. Therefore it is vital that you release these memories, as well as the scar tissue that they have created, so that you can clearly receive the Light Language sent to you from the higher dimensions of reality.

“Since you are the creator of your reality, you have the ability to choose to release these old memories and call for your thymus gland, which is ruled by your High Heart, to heal your neural net of fearful memories. In this manner old fears are released, and you are able to receive a broader frequency band of the messages that we send you.

“You will be communicating with galactics and celestials who do not use any form of language other than telepathic communication, as well as humans who have little or no experience with either imagistic or telepathic communication. Therefore, you will be called upon to expand your communication skills to embrace both higher and lower dimensional forms of communication.

“Your ability to remain confident and calm is important when you are assisting those who are unaccustomed to telepathic communication. Telepathic communications are received by matching your state of consciousness with the state of consciousness of one with whom you are communicating. Hence, you may need to maintain higher or lower states of consciousness for longer than you are accustomed.

“There are many who visit us in their dream state. We would like you to practice your telepathy skills with these visitors. This experience will assist you while you are also assisting them. Kepier will be joining you shortly. If you have any questions, please give us a telepathic call.”

The Arcturian instantly beamed away, as if It had something important to attend to and left me to turn off the hologram. Afterward, I went to the mess hall to get some breakfast before I began my new assignment. I was not surprised to see that Kepier was there with a cup of hot tea waiting for me.

“I see you knew I was coming.” I said with a grin. “You were speaking with the Arcturian in the same moment that I was, weren’t you?”

“Yes,” she replied. “Again, we are learning through experience. I think we are ready to participate in more than one reality at a time. What do you think?”

“That does appear to be the lesson,” I agreed. “Do you think we are meant to remain in this version of our SELF while we go into the fourth dimensional astral realm to assist the ones in dream state?”

“I was wondering the same thing. The visitors are experiencing the two realities of sleeping in their bed and visiting the ship. It would make sense that we should also live two realities.”

Kepier and I continued our discussion while we ate our breakfast, then we walked together to the visitors’ center. The visitors who came to us in dream state often came to the fourth dimensional counterpart of the visitors’ center. This center resonated to a frequency lower than the ship; hence, it was located in the ship’s aura.

The visitors came to this area until they learned how to expand their consciousness into the fifth dimension so that they could visit the actual body of the ship. One of Kepier’s and my assignments would be to assist these visitors to release their attachment to their lower resonance and raise their consciousness to the fifth dimension. Once their consciousness resonated to that frequency, we would assist them to create a form in which they could visit the higher frequencies of the ship.

This expansion of their consciousness was exactly like ascension. Therefore, they came not just to visit the ship, but also to practice transferring their consciousness into a higher frequency container/body. Once they were wearing the fifth dimensional frequency form, they could perceive the ship around them. Some visitors entered the rejuvenation room, but that transition of consciousness was not the same as it was via the rejuvenation chair, which was more intense and longer lasting.

Meeting in the fourth dimension to learn how to raise their own resonance was a vital lesson for their process of ascension. It was also important to be able to raise their own resonance so that they could more clearly experience our landings. The only correlation between “time” on the ship and Earth time was that the Mothership could correlate to Earth time. Therefore, we had no idea when these landings would begin from the perspective of Earth time.

In our perception of reality, we are already in contact with the higher expressions of many Earth beings. It is up to those beings to find a way to awaken their lower dimensional selves and their reality. We can easily perceive the wave of ascension energy, and we are assisting the ascending ones to sense it as well.

Of course, there are myriad possible realities, and many of the ascending ones will choose different ascension realities. Also, as the ascending ones remember how to live simultaneously in more than one reality, they could have several experiences of ascension. Since Earth time is out of sync with the NOW of the ship, we can welcome visitors from many different realities and timelines.

Kepier and I left the mess hall and beamed directly to the fourth dimensional visitors' center, which is where humans visited our ship in their fourth dimensional astral/night bodies. Once we arrived, we went our own way in search of those in need of assistance.

As I walked through the somewhat ghostly forms of night bodies, I understood why the Arcturian had so completely briefed me about telepathy. As I telepathically projected that I was there to assist them, I realized that many of these sleeping forms were not ready for communication.

However, there were a few who came toward me. Unlike the others, they seemed to be able to see me and realized that I might be able to help them. After a few of these "awake sleepers" gathered around me, more came into our circle, then even more. These visitors were primarily from Earth, and they came from every country, culture, age and social status.

Of course, the children were the first to understand my telepathy, and they began to assist the adults. I could see that I would greatly enjoy this assignment. I had never met earthlings before. That is, I could not remember meeting earthlings. On the other hand, I was still unaware of many of the experiences of my Multidimensional SELF.

The earthlings who were ready to change their world were eager to learn what we had to teach them. However, I could not sufficiently answer the most asked question, "Will I remember this meeting when I wake up?"

A Visitor's Conversation with the Arcturian

One of the many night body visitors awakes with a vague memory of being on the starship and decides to ask the Arcturian for assistance in remembering the visit to the starship.

A VISITOR SPEAKS:

Dearest Arcturians, I surround my SELF in your great light so that you can assist me in remembering my dream/visit to your starship.

THE ARCTURIAN REPLIES:

Our dear ascending one, you have asked us before to assist you in remembering your 'dreams' of your nightly visits to our ship. Hence, we will now assist you to remember them. "Will I remember my dream?" is the code message you have given yourself to remember your dream/visit.

First, know that you will remember your visit in imagistic, dream pictures and sensations. If you need to continue to call it remembering your dream, allow yourself to do so. Using the word remembering calms whatever remaining ego might be frightened by the concept of visiting our ship in your dream body. Whatever gimmick you need to fool the remnants of your frightened ego is fine. Soon, these gimmicks will be unnecessary.

You awoke with the question, "Will I remember my dream?" This question was the carrier message that translated you from your dream experience on the ship into the memory of your physical body.

To capture your dream experience within your physical memory:

- Begin your remembering with the feeling of your dream images.
- Allow this feeling to shift from your night body into that of your physical body.

- See your environment in the foggy fashion of the astral world.
- Hear as if you are listening to a distant message.
- Feel how your sense of touch is very different, as you no longer experience the sensations of something against your form.

For example, your physical body is sitting in a chair writing your experience. Your physical body has a border, which interfaces with the border of the chair, and there is a sensation where the two dissimilar substances meet, yet remain discrete.

Now:

- Feel the night body you wore during your visit to our ship.
- Experience a glimmer of coldness, as you are no longer in possession of your physical form with its sensation of heat.
- Without your physical form, feel how you have the sensation of being a cloud.

You have this sensation because your mind is trying to find a connection to some feeling of form. Your mind wants to find a correlation to having a form because it is attempting to do its job of keeping you safe in your physical world.

Your mind has had many experiences within this life that would have been considered crazy by those in your childhood environment. Therefore, you have adapted by creating correlate versions of your inner reality that do not interfere with your ability to remain functional in your physical life. It is these mental adaptations that have made it so difficult for you to remember what has been happening in your night body.

These mental adaptations made you forget your nightly visits to the ship. Had you remembered being on the ship, it would have disallowed your ability to successfully function in a society that would have labeled you as crazy. Therefore, we ask you now to lovingly address this mental adaptation, which has taken a persona of its own in order to protect you.

THE VISITOR SPEAKS:

Thank you, Arcturian. I will do as you ask. Dear mental adaptation, thank you so very much for the many years that you have protected me, during which time I was not ready to know what was happening in my dream body. Because you have been so vital in my life, I give you the privilege of being one of the first components of my Multidimensional SELF to ascend/go home.

In other words, I no longer need you to wake up with me. You can remain on the ship. Before now, being on the ship would have been frightening, but now I am ready to remember that experience. I am also ready to practice living in two worlds at once.

Therefore you, my protector, will remain on the Arcturian Mothership, the home planet of the Arcturians, to be my greeter. Then you will greet me when I enter the ship, and you can assist me to adapt to my true form on the ship. Just as I might move into a new home bit-by-bit, I will gradually move more and more of my grounded self into my true home on the ship.

THE ARCTURIAN REPLIES:

We wish you to recognize, now that you are hearing the name and feeling the being who you said you would meet on the ship. This agreement to meet a friend on the ship is another gimmick to fool your protective ego.

Allow the feel of that person into your awareness. Finding the emotional feeling of the person you have agreed to meet will connect you with that person, as well as the other visitors. Some of these visitors are not human, and none are third dimensional.

You see a person now who is undergoing his own process of remembering. He is across the room, which means that your auras are not yet in connection. Each of you must go through your own process of remembering your dream before you can connect in this state of consciousness. Therefore, please return to your process of remembering.

THE VISITOR SPEAKS

I feel myself in my astral night body, which is more like a cloud than a physical form. Everyone around me is in his or her astral body as well. We have all chosen to remember our visits so that we can better assist others in remembering theirs. I can feel that we are from many different areas of from Earth, but there are some Venusians as well.

The earthlings are from many different walks of life. Some are very old, some middle aged or young and some are children. They are in their night bodies, which are the same age and appearance as their earth vessel but at a slightly higher frequency. We are all very happy to be here.

In fact, as I look around, I see that many of us are in the same state of trying to carry this experience back to into our 3D life. I was going to say, back into our waking life, but I realize now that our 3D life is our sleeping life, and this reality is our true, waking life.

I suddenly feel as though I am losing my lucid connection. Can you assist me?

THE ARCTURIAN SPEAKS:

We are standing directly in front of you to better assist you to stay present with this experience. We want to remind you to share your process with others who are also ready to remember. We further remind you to remember this feeling, emotion and sensation of resonating to a different frequency of awareness. Please take a moment to focus on these sensations.

THE VISITOR SPEAKS:

As I re-focus my attention, I remember that this intimate experience of my 4D night body while in my 3D form is a precursor to the intimate experience of feeling my 5D light body while I am still holding an earth form. Was that the main message that we received last night?

THE ARCTURIAN ANSWERS:

Our message was that you, meaning all of the visitors, are beginning to BE your Multidimensional SELF while still holding your earth vessel. You will keep your earth vessel throughout the ascension process so that you can move back and forth between worlds. Just as you may choose to move into your new home while you are still living in your old home, you will move into your new form while maintaining your old form.

This process of ascension will not be for everyone, but the portal openers who visit our ship are ready for ascension. However, you will need to keep your old form, as that body will serve to assist you in keeping the portals open while others move through them. Most of you who are of Arcturian and/or Pleiadian descent are portal openers. Hence, you will maintain your roots in both worlds until your personal and planetary ascension process is complete.

Since time is an illusion, which will morph even more as you continue your ascension, there is no need to know how long the process will continue. Your ascension process will continue until it is complete for ascension occurs within this NOW.

You are beginning to consciously experience two or more realities with a continuous state of consciousness. This continuous state of consciousness begins with remembering the many excursions of your Multidimensional SELF.

THE VISITOR SPEAKS:

Thank you, Arcturian. Your words assisted me to recapture the feelings of last night's dream. I am standing in an astral, fourth dimensional room. I feel the cloud of consciousness that connects us all. Some of us are unable to connect with any of the other astral bodies, but most of us can connect with the greeters.

The greeters are members of the Mothership who have lowered their resonance to greet us and assist us in gradually stepping up our energy into the fifth dimension. Once we can maintain our fifth dimensional resonance, while our 3D form sleeps, we can intimately experience the ship in a fully awakened manner.

I have been able to remember my visits in a story-telling way, but not in such a direct experience as I am feeling now. Therefore, I will remain here in this fourth dimensional area to fully anchor my physical consciousness within my astral consciousness. My astral consciousness is remaining on the ship even though my dream has ended.

THE ARCTURIAN CONCLUDES:

By allowing yourself to gradually remember your nightly visitations, you are creating the reality in which your ascension proceeds slowly but surely. This process of ascension is similar to moving into a new house room-by-room. Your decision to create this type of ascension was made before you took your present body.

There were many pre-embodiment choices that were made, all of which were directly related to your mission. The most beautiful part of the ascension of Gaia and her many beings is that each and every ONE has gained a sense of individuality. You will then use your great individual creativity to create your personal and planetary ascension. We, your galactic and celestial family, are greatly enjoying watching and assisting you with your process.

This is enough remembering for now. Allow what you have remembered to deeply embed into your consciousness. In this manner, you will not forget what you have recovered and learned. Allow the puzzle of your process to come together piece-by-piece.

Remember that we Arcturians are here to help whenever you call. We bless you on your journey and await your return home to the fifth dimension with joy and unconditional love.

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section IV

Learning About Time

Ascending Beyond Time

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Kepier and I had been working with the same 4D visitors for quite a while when something very special occurred. Without ceremony or introduction, the Arcturian came to speak with the visitors in Its usual loving way. We were all a bit surprised when the Arcturian said,

“The fifth dimensional reality to which you believe you are ascending already exists. Therefore, there is no chance of your failure. In fact, we see no separation between that reality and the one you believe you are living. Therefore, all you need do is shift your perception into the frequency of your Multidimensional SELF who is already aligned with that ascended reality.

“The step-by-step manner of ascension exists only because you believe that you must take time to become a better person so that you can ascend. We have come to you in your NOW to inform you that you can simply shift your attention to the ascended reality in which you already live.

“It is not your challenge to change your world. Your challenge is to change your own beliefs. Your long journey through the physical realm has taught you that change is an extended, sequential process. However, all change into the higher worlds is immediate.

“We, your galactic ancestors, have also taken physical incarnations. Therefore, we understand that shifting back into the fifth dimension is not easy. We did not wish to take an earth vessel during this ‘Earth time,’ as we knew that we could be more helpful from our true expression. However, we wanted to intimately participate in Gaia’s ascension. Therefore, we have implanted our galactic and/or celestial essence within the core of many human expressions.

“During our experience of physical incarnations, we were also ‘trapped in time.’ Because of our experience, we know how difficult it is to escape that illusion. The secret is: instead of focusing on the step-by-step shift of your sequential world, focus on changing your mind and your beliefs.

“We realize that your measured ascension process has allowed you to gradually adjust your thinking out of the ‘3D time-trap’ and into a new way of perceiving reality. We tell you NOW to release that prop. During your myriad earthly incarnations you formed the habit of believing that which you told yourself to avoid being afraid. Unfortunately, this meant that you were not telling yourself the truth.

“In order to re-align your consciousness with your SELF who is already ascended, you believed that you needed to live the ‘time’ it would take for you to ‘deserve’ and/or ‘achieve’ this re-alignment. We tell you NOW that you already deserve and have achieved that which you seek. Thus, you no longer need to give yourself time to be good enough to ascend.

“How can you fail at something which you have already done? You do not need to create a ladder into the fifth dimension, which you can slowly climb, rung-by-rung. Of course, you can choose to retain that third dimensional thinking. However, as with all third dimensional, sequential thinking, the ladder is an illusion you created that is consistent with third dimensional thinking.

“Therefore, your greatest challenge is not to change your reality. Your greatest challenge is to change your thinking! In order to change your thinking, you will have to find your way out of the ‘trap of time.’ Through all your third/fourth dimensional realities you have been trapped in time. It took time to grow into an adult. It took time to learn what you needed to know. And, it took time to get where you were going.

“Third dimensional time and space are intertwined. Hence, it takes time to move across space. Therefore, you have the habit of believing that you have to wait for something to come to its conclusion. This habit has been exacerbated by your lengthy wait for this long-prophesized ‘time of ascension.’

“Since you have waited such a long time for this opportunity of personal and planetary ascension, you might think that ascension will take time to occur. In fact, the realization that you could have instantly shifted into your fifth dimensional SELF might make you angry. Why have you been waiting so long for something that has always been there?

“You have not been waiting for the ascension, because that reality has always existed. You have been waiting because you have been trapped in time. In fact, what you have actually been waiting for is the current energy field that is greatly facilitating your ability to leave the trap of time.

“Once your consciousness has fully absorbed and integrated the high frequencies of light that have been gradually entering your earth vessel, your consciousness will expand beyond the belief in time. Of course, to our galactic perspective, your infusion of light has not been slow, nor has it been sequential. It has been constant and perpetual.

“In fact, to our perception, this higher frequency of light that is bathing your reality and your consciousness is the portal of which we have so often spoken. This light is the portal out of time. Your test is not just to enter this portal and accept this light but to also allow this frequency of light to ‘recode’ your consciousness.

“This recoding of your consciousness will expand your consciousness beyond the limitations of past, present and future and into the NOW. As your consciousness fully expands beyond the limitations of time, you will regain your innate ability to simultaneously perceive and interact with more than one reality.

“In other words, you can live your time-bound, gradual ‘ascension’ life concurrently with one or more of your expressions of SELF who are already ascended. You can also share your experience of ascension with the expressions of your SELF who have never lowered their frequency into the worlds of polarity.

“Within this NOW, there are many of your higher expressions who are contributing to your ascension by channeling their higher light through you and into Gaia. In other words, even if you are just standing still or involved in a mundane task, your ever-expanding consciousness provides an open portal through which your higher expressions can contribute their great light to Gaia.

“You do not need to do anything to become a portal of light. The mere fact that you are wearing an earth vessel connects you with Gaia. Furthermore, because you have been expanding your consciousness into the higher expressions of your Multidimensional SELF, you are inviting your higher expressions to assist both you and Gaia.

“Meanwhile, we see our ascending ones patiently, or impatiently, waiting for the time to come in which they can ascend. We see you all preparing and getting ready for your future event. We are saying to you, there is no future. Future is a time-trap. There is only NOW. There is only frequency and resonance.

“However, the most popular choice of ascension process is the gradual and sequential change into fifth dimensional New Earth. We understand why this is the most popular choice. You have been trapped in third dimensional time for myriad incarnations. Then, when you ‘died,’ you were trapped in fourth dimensional time. Fourth dimensional time is more mutable than time in the third dimension, but it is still sequential.

“In order to confront your innate 3D fear of a timeless unknown, you have developed the belief that ascension takes time. Then you can gradually accustom yourself to a new way of thinking. Since what you think will happen is what you will create, you will create a slow, gradual ascension. However, since ascension into the fifth dimension and beyond takes you beyond all confines of time, the actual ascension can only be instant.

“We do not want to interfere with your choice of ascension. In fact, we greatly admire and support your logical manner of creating ascension. Choosing to slowly and sequentially transition out of a life that you have always believed was real and into another life, which you were told was NOT real, keeps your consciousness above fear.

“You are choosing your manner of ascension. Leaving time will be your greatest adjustment. Therefore, choosing to ‘take time’ to ascend affords you an opportunity to ‘take time’ to change your beliefs. Once your belief is changed, you will instantly ascend. Therefore, you may think that it is taking time to ascend. However, ascension is not about time.

“Ascension is about shifting your dominant state of consciousness into a higher frequency of your Multidimensional SELF. This shift will be instant. However, it may take you time to release your belief in time. You have long survived on your belief systems. Through myriad incarnations you sought a belief that would bring you comfort in a reality that was fearful and constantly fraught with danger.

“Dear ascending ones, we support whatever form of ascension you choose to create. We are here within your NOW to inform you of your ability to choose an instant ascension. On the other hand, changing your belief systems about ascension can take time. Once you have released your beliefs in the separation and limitation that time represents, your ascension can be an instant return to the frequency of your Multidimensional SELF with whom you wish to resonate.

“This choice will expand instantly into how many expressions of your SELF are you going to simultaneously resonate? In fact, you can choose to retain your connection with your earth vessel while you also expand your consciousness into one or more higher expressions of your SELF. Your choice may take time, but your ascension will be instant.”

With that final sentence the Arcturian beamed away. I was surprised and happy to see that a few of the visitors beamed away with the Arcturian. Then a few more beamed off, and then even more decided that they were ready to release their belief in time!

Leaving the Hologram and Releasing Time

KEPIER SPEAKS:

After Mytre and I listened to the Arcturian's message, our meeting with the 4D visitors automatically ended. Some of the visitors went with the Arcturian, and the rest re-entered their physical form (woke up). Without speaking a word, Mytre and I went our separate ways. I saw that look on his face again that meant he was thinking about and missing his family.

On the other hand, I heard the collective call from you, my students on ascending Earth, who had attended the meeting in your night bodies. Many of you had a brief memory upon waking, but quickly forgot everything but a vague image. Hence, I went to my quarters to respond to you calls.

I realize that to some of you, several days have passed before I answered you, but time on the ship is not sequential. Our time is preferential, which means we can visit any time zone that we wish to experience. Many of you had a dream just before you awoke. This dream was an energy package, much like a syllabus of a lecture that was placed in your consciousness. I will now translate this energy package into a third dimensional language.

Most of you had a dream of a woman, me, taking your hand and asking you if you were ready to leave the hologram. Before you could answer, I informed you that you would leave your holographic reality on 'automatic run', which means that in the 3D hologram it would appear that you were still there. Then you would return a few seconds before you left. Hence, you would leave the hologram by leaving time and returning seconds after you had left.

Once you left the 3/4D limitation of time, your resonance returned to your innate fifth dimensional Lightbody. You then had many images of walking through your daily life. However, you could walk through all forms of matter. To your perception, when you walked through matter the molecules of matter would temporarily disperse. Then the molecules would return to their prior form once you had moved through that object.

This phenomenon occurred because you were out-of-sync with your 3D, holographic reality. Since you were resonating to a higher frequency than the matter of your environment, you were not limited by any physical structures. To the perception of those resonating to the 3D hologram nothing unusual was occurring. In fact, they believed that they saw you walking around the obstacles. Since third dimensional belief creates the illusion of 3D reality, that is what they saw.

I will now guide you into an expanded version of this exercise. I say exercise because this experience was merely a lesson for you to realize that you could leave time and return without ever appearing to have left. In this manner, you will begin to remember how to bi-locate from 3D Earth to your higher frequency realities. When you bi-locate you appear to be in both realities at once, but you have shifted your dominant state of consciousness from one reality to another.

To leave the time-hologram and bi-locate to a higher dimension of reality,

- Place your earth vessel in a safe place. In other words, make sure you are sitting in a safe place and not walking or driving.
- Believe that you can leave time to travel inter-dimensionally.
- Trust that your imagination is real.
- Step out of time as simply as you may step out of your shoes.

As you step out of time, you step out of your earth vessel. Therefore, turn around and look at your earth vessel. Tell your body that you will be back one second before you left, which you will. This experience is not the same as astral travel. You are not in your fourth dimensional astral body, for that is a component of the hologram. Instead, you are out of time, and thus out of the hologram.

You are now experiencing reality via your multidimensional consciousness. Your body is in a safe place, and you will return one second before you left. Hence, your earth vessel can easily maintain life support while you are away. When you release the illusion of time, you remember that your multidimensional consciousness can travel throughout any time or space of any of your incarnations that you have experienced.

At first you may appear to be limited to visiting your own incarnations. However, after you have accustomed yourself to this type of travel, you will no longer need the 'marker' of one of your own earth vessels. These markers/incarnations are similar to video games. The player must have an avatar self (your earth vessel) in order to login to that game, as well as a programmer self (your Higher SELF) to take charge of creating your own life.

Many of you ascending ones have created very difficult video game lives. You created this life because you realized it was the life in which you would have the opportunity to leave the hologram and return home to your Multidimensional SELF. Consequently, you wanted to clear up any unfinished business.

If you can remember that you created your life before you were born, it will assist you in releasing any remnants of feeling like a victim. Once you expand your consciousness from the avatar within the game to the programmer of the game, you can create the game in which you ascend.

You were all very brave to choose such difficult earthly challenges. Also, from the perspective of your Higher SELF it was easy to forget how very challenging life could be in a third dimensional reality. Fortunately, as you continue to remember more of your Multidimensional SELF, it becomes increasingly natural to remember that you are visiting your time-bound 3D Earth, but you are a multidimensional being who simultaneously lives in myriad realities.

We see that many of you are remembering multiple expressions of your Multidimensional SELF. Therefore, I will assist you to remember your SELF in a higher dimensional reality. In this case, it will be the reality of fifth dimensional New Earth.

- Direct your intention and attention to the higher frequency expression of your Multidimensional SELF living on New Earth.
- This fifth dimensional experience of SELF is very similar to the SELF that you are in your present incarnation.
- Allow yourself to imagine that you are visiting and/or living on the New Earth.
- Surrender into your imagination so that you can believe that this fifth dimensional person is YOU.
- You do not need to follow a sequential process, as you are merely shifting your dominant state of consciousness into a higher frequency of your Multidimensional SELF.
- Once you have shifted your perception of SELF to your fifth dimensional expression, you have automatically left time. Time, as you know it, does not exist in a fifth dimensional resonance of reality.
- All you need do is believe that you are that SELF.
- See that SELF before you and transfer the primary focus of your consciousness to your SELF on New Earth.
- Think that you are in the fifth dimension, and use your loving emotions to merge into your SELF within that reality.
- Trust that your imagination is your fifth dimensional thought, and remember that your thoughts and emotions create your reality.

Know that it may take a while for your third dimensional thinking to remember how to perceive this frequency of reality. Therefore, surrender into this “imaginary experience” so that it can take form within your consciousness.

Many of you have already left the hologram of 3D Earth and have transitioned into this higher expression of your SELF, but you are not aware of this shift because your thinking is still third dimensional. Hence, your consciousness is actually fifth dimensional, but your thinking is still third dimensional. However, you are quite happy about the myriad ways in which your world is changing.

Those of you who are the openers of the portals into the higher expressions of Gaia are conscious of your transition. You remember your meditations and purposeful intentions toward aligning your consciousness with the higher frequencies of energy in order to assist Gaia in her transition.

Therefore, you are actively awaiting the release of the many restricted patents. You are aware of the great increase in UFO sightings and actively wait for the landings to begin. You also know that these landings will be perceivable only to those who can accept and believe that the landings are real.

Many people walk along side you who are completely unaware of these changes. Their body was resonating to the expanding frequencies of Gaia, but their thinking is still locked in the limitations of the third dimension. These ones need your help.

If they cannot align their consciousness with the higher frequencies of New Earth, they will not be able to remain in this frequency of Earth. These people are loving and kind. Otherwise, they could not resonate to this reality. However, their thinking is still trapped in the beliefs of a reality that has ended. You can kindly talk to these people and tell them what is happening.

Now, holding this timeline in your consciousness, return to the remnants of your third dimensional reality. Feel how exhausted you are with that low frequency of third dimensional reality. Remember that you are ready to return (and have already returned) to a higher expression of your SELF. Yet, you still wonder how that will occur, and your wondering creates doubt. This doubt lowers your consciousness, and you are no longer able to perceive New Earth around you.

Therefore, release the concept of time from your awareness and live only in the NOW. Within the NOW there is no future to move into and no past that has hindered your way. Within the NOW, you are your SELF in your daily life. Hence, remember to relax into each moment that you are experiencing while you continue to release your third dimensional thinking.

Release the concepts of how, when and where. Surrender to your confusion. Surrender to your desires. Surrender to your fatigue, and surrender to your thinking. Release the time-bound, cause-and-effect reality that has become too small for you. Feel your SELF and BE your true, Multidimensional SELF NOW.

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section V

Remembering Bi-location

There Is Only NOW

MYTRE SPEAKS:

After the meeting closed, Kepier and I went to our own quarters, supposedly to sleep. However, as I walked through the corridor to my quarters, I knew that I could not sleep. Too many questions were floating through my mind. I wanted desperately to see my family, but I felt that I could not yet leave my post.

“You could bi-locate,” said an inner voice.

I then realized that I had never believed that I could bi-locate, so I never thought of it. Why had the Arcturian not told me that I could bi-locate? I guess this was one of those things that I had to find out for myself.

I had created such an emotional wall around my abandonment of my family that I was unable to believe bi-location was a solution for this problem. If I could bi-locate I could stay here and also be with them. Why had I never considered it?

“Perhaps that was because you still judge yourself.” I heard.

Was that my inner voice or a message from the Arcturian?

“Is there a difference?”

Again, the inner voice originated from what appeared to be my own thoughts, but it appeared to also be coming from the Arcturian. The Arcturian had spoken of higher frequencies and parallel reality expressions of our Multidimensional SELF. Kepier and I had discovered that we were parallel expressions of our greater SELF. Was that greater SELF the Arcturian?

“What do you think?” spoke the voice within.

Instinctively, I headed for the holosuite so that I could meditate. I was tired and my energy was low. I needed to raise my consciousness to more completely understand what was happening inside my mind.

“Is it just inside your mind?”

Whomever I heard, it was a valid question. Of course, it was not just my mind. It was my heart and my entire form. Perhaps this new perspective of reality that the Arcturian had shared was infusing into my being. Am I awakening to a new way of being or have I always been this way and have forgotten? However, when did I forget and why?

I think I forgot during my many years of being a warrior during the Galactic Wars. The Galactic Wars have been raging for my entire life, but I am beginning to understand that life has a much greater meaning than I had previously thought.

My pondering was interrupted by my arrival at the holosuite. I entered to find my program already playing. Did the Arcturian start the program or was it started with my mind control that had been steadily increasing?

“Is there a difference?”

OK, I think that I can no longer ignore the message. Obviously, the Arcturian is a higher expression of my SELF, but why is it telling me now?

“There is only NOW.”

Yes, that is true. I am beginning to understand there is only NOW. I think. Sounds good, but how does only NOW work? If there is only NOW, then what are all the memories of my past?

“The past is an illusion.”

Of course, the NOW is infinite and illusion is created for a reason. I am wondering if I can determine the reason why I have created the illusion of a past.

“Try it.”

Is this me talking to the greater ME an illusion?

“The me is an illusion, but the greater ME is infinity.”

Yes, and truth is infinite, whereas illusion is created to suit a certain timeline. Therefore, I created the illusion of being Mytre. I created all the illusions that I believe were my real life when in fact that “life” was just an illusion.

“How do you feel about that conclusion?”

Glad you asked. I think I am a little angry that I created such a difficult life. Why would I choose to do that?

“Did you learn very much?”

Well, yes, I guess I learned a lot. But I only started learning when I met Mytria. Before that my life was a cycle of repeats.

“How did Mytria influence your life?”

I do not know why I was so attracted to Mytria, except that it felt as if I could not live without her. It felt as though Mytria completed me in some way. I also knew I completed her. But now we were apart, and I miss her every minute of our separation.

I wondered if I could bi-locate to be with her. Then I could complete my studies here on the ship and also assist my family and my people to ascend.

“Can you remember how to bi-locate?” spoke the inner Arcturian ME.

Yes, I think I can. I mean if I can believe I can bi-locate; I can remember how to do it. That is how it works, right? First you have to believe, and then you can remember?

“Try it.”

How do I believe that I can do something when I can’t remember ever doing it?

No answer! I was on my own for this one. Well, I do remember the rule of: If you can't remember something, raise your state of consciousness to the frequency of your SELF that can remember.

I sat down in the wooden chair by the waterfall, overlooking the valley. However, this time I wanted an ocean, so that is what I saw. If it was that easy to change the hologram with my mind, then how difficult could it be to remember the frequency of my SELF that knew how to bi-locate?

I released all thoughts and focused on my breathing. Shortly, I felt my resonance expand. My essence began to move out beyond the boundaries of my form. I realized that I already had a fifth dimensional form with the ability to experience multiple realities within the NOW. Why was I not using all my capabilities?

It was as if I got a new computer and did not bother to learn all the advanced programs because I was so accustomed to doing everything the same way. Moreover, I was allowing the Arcturian to guide me in every way and had not used my own intention. I could see that this was why I was not going to receive assistance with this issue.

Obviously, bi-location was one of those things that I had to learn for myself. But I was using the term learn, which limited my thinking. I already know how to bi-locate at a higher frequency of my SELF. Hence, I went back into meditation to connect with a more expanded version of my SELF. At first I saw only the familiar fog and blinking lights of myriad colors. Then the colors began to move into the outline of a form that looked much like a Merkaba.

Yes, our Merkaba is our Inter-dimensional Chariot. Instantly, the form of a Merkaba became very clear. I focused all my attention on the form of the Merkaba and released all thinking so that I could feel myself moving into the Merkaba.

As I relaxed into the image of the Merkaba I began to feel a strong sensation brewing from within me like steam rising from boiling water. This energy was my own, but it wanted to escape my form. This component of my SELF wanted to be free of all containment, including the Merkaba.

I felt as if this inner energy field wanted to burst forth beyond whomever I had conceived of as myself. I harbored a small fear that wondered if I could ever again be just Mytre. Thus, I firmly implanted a remnant of my Soul SELF deep inside the Merkaba.

Once I anchored an element of my life force into the Merkaba, it expanded to fill the entire holosuite. Instinctively, I knew that the Merkaba was beckoning all of my multidimensional consciousness to move into its form. At first, I balked at this idea, but then I remembered that the Merkaba is an inter-dimensional chariot.

As my surging consciousness entered the Merkaba, I realized that I had been feeling limited my entire life. My Merkaba SELF was urging me to use my full potential. Once I realized that I had chosen to limit my true SELF, my multidimensional consciousness filled the Merkaba. Suddenly, the Merkaba no longer appeared to be separate from me or out of my control.

It was then that I realized I could feel the Merkaba around me, as well as within me. Could I return to the persona of Mytre and still contain the essence of this Merkaba? I expanded my heart-mind to encompass my beingness of Mytre. To my surprise I realized how much I loved being that person. In fact, I realized that I loved myself.

Instantly, I was within my form of Mytre. This form felt very comfortable, like a pair of well-worn shoes. Simultaneously, I was within my Merkaba form. I was bi-located into two places, or forms. These forms were very similar, but each one had a reality of their own.

Through the perceptions of my Mytre form, I looked around the hologram. I saw the waterfall, the distant ocean, and the Sun lowering in the sky. I felt the floor beneath me, squeezed my arm 'til it hurt and stamped my foot. Within that exact NOW I also felt the Merkaba form around me.

When I looked around the holosuite through my Merkaba form, I saw photons traveling on matrixes and lights blinking to pre-programmed codes to create the illusion of concrete objects. My Merkaba self could easily see that the objects were holographic projections. In fact the holographic projections were much clearer than the images they created. Within my Merkaba self I perceived my Mytre self as a projection of photonic energy.

At the same time, my Mytre self saw the projection of energy from my Merkaba self ready to blink off to the co-ordinates of any given reality. However, I knew that my Mytre self did not feel ready for that experience of bi-location as it appeared to represent a degree of separation. My humanoid self heard my Merkaba self say, "When will Mytre remember that separation is the biggest illusion of all?"

Releasing the Illusion of Separation

MYTRE CONTINUES:

I AM ready NOW to release the illusion of separation. I had no idea that this illusion was still hiding in my subconscious. Old limitations can hide in the subconscious until they are flushed out by novel experiences. Of course, my bi-location is only novel to this version of my Multidimensional SELF. With that said, I am ready to bi-locate.

For my initial experience, I knew that I needed to bi-locate to a place or person to which I have an emotional attachment. Hence, I joyously chose to bi-locate to Mytria. I decided to hold my beloved in my heart-mind as I went about my daily duties. I shouldn't say this, but there were things I needed to finish up, just in case.

I spent my day going about my business with the knowing that I would see Mytria and Alycia at the end of my day. This calm acceptance of my impending adventure helped me stabilize my thoughts and emotions and build my confidence. That day, I was sure to look into the eyes of each of my crewmates and give them a moment of my attention and appreciation.

I walked through every moment of my day with gratitude and joy. I had been so very blessed to be a member of this wonderful Mothership. I arranged to have dinner with Kepier to tell her of my plans. However, before I could tell her, she gave me her blessings and full support regarding my bi-location. I thanked her and we spoke casually as if bi-location were commonplace.

After dinner with Kepier, I wanted to tell the Arcturian. However I was pretty sure It already knew. I had not seen the Arcturian all day, which was quite unusual, but I thought nothing of that. However when I could not contact the It, I became concerned. I had always been able to merely feel the Arcturian's essence beside me. Perhaps this was another thing that I had to do on my own.

Pushing my disappointment aside, I went to my quarters, left a note about my endeavor, made sure everything was neat and organized and sat down to meditate. Instantly, the Arcturian filled my heart-mind.

“Were you looking for me outside of you again?”

I smiled and sent the Arcturian my deepest gratitude and unconditional love.

“Thank you,” It whispered into my Soul.

Then I set my intentions on the FEEL of Mytria. This was a simple task as she had been eternally in my heart since I had left her. However, now I felt joy whereas before I felt sadness.

I relaxed deeply into my meditation and allowed the inner lights to gradually create the outline of the Merkaba. I sent down a grounding cord through my Mytre self and projected my consciousness into my Merkaba self. My Merkaba energy field was much calmer now and filled with my intention to be with Mytria.

I took a long moment to perceive my room from both perspectives of my Mytre self and my Merkaba self. I sent a quick request out to the Arcturian to guard my Mytre form and focused my attention inside of the Merkaba. With most of my attention focused on my Merkaba I could fully sense myself in a unique way.

I had always thought of myself as my form, but as I envisioned myself inside the Merkaba I experienced myself as energy. At first I felt the Merkaba as big as my body, but then I allowed the Merkaba to expand until it filled my quarters. I then pulled it back into the size of my body and then projected the Merkaba again to fill the room. After practicing controlling my Merkaba, I focused my attention on the FEEL of Mytria.

Instantly, I felt a deep love, as well as a feeling of welcoming. Did she know I was on my way to see her? “Of course; I think of you daily, just as you think of me,” I heard her sweet voice echo throughout the Merkaba. I was fully calibrated to my destination. Now, I had to completely trust my SELF and totally surrender – to what? What should I surrender to?

“Surrender to your soul,” came the inner direction of the Arcturian.

I had not thought of the concept of my soul for quite a while, but I could instantly feel that energy. Since my soul had all the wisdom, power and love of all my myriad incarnations in form, it knew exactly what I was doing and why. Therefore, I let go into the feel of my soul with the destination of Mytria inside my heart-mind.

As I totally surrendered to my soul, my energy field inside the Merkaba became alert and centered. It had coordinates and permission. I tried to split my attention between my Mytre and Merkaba selves, but as I felt an unusual sense of moving while also staying still, I could only focus on the Merkaba.

With all my attention on the Merkaba, the slow movement shifted into high gear. I sensed a sudden movement that felt faster than light, but my perception stayed focused only on the energy field around me. I felt as though I was moving, but my sense of sight and hearing did not register a shift. On the other hand, I did feel intense movement both kinesthetically and emotionally. However, my thoughts were on my destination only and registered no change.

Then, almost instantly, I was at the lake in the wilderness where I first met Mytria. I remember that the first time we met there I had been sent to find her because her friends were concerned about her disappearance. It was almost dark, just like the first time. However, that time I was quite upset that she had alluded me for so long. But this time my heart burst with joy to see her beautiful body swimming in the cool lake.

I felt like two people, actually three people. One person was in my quarters in the ship, one was the person I had been when I first met Mytria, and the third was the one who was bi-locating. My presence on the ship felt as if it was a person in a dream. At the same time, I could feel the old version of me as if it were an echo of the bi-locating version.

With all the myriad experiences of myself, I almost forgot about Mytria. That is, until she came to me and said, 'Mytre? Is that you?' The sound of her voice pulled me out of my analysis and into the emotional moment of our reunion. I instantly pulled her into my arms and hugged her so tight that we became one person.

Mytria began to cry and I joined in. We had not known if we would ever see each other again. It seemed like forever that we stood frozen to that spot holding each other as tightly as we could. After a long while we pushed away just a bit, to see each other's face in the fading light. We kissed and held each other again.

Finally we sat down on the rocks by the lake and talked until the moons rose high in the sky. We had so much to say, and neither one of us knew how long I could stay there. Mytria also told me that she had to open the portal to the core of the Mother where we first met in spirit. Then we each looked at the other with the same look of surprise.

"Have we met like this before?" we said simultaneously.

We then laughed and hugged again. Mytria looked the same age, and she said I did too. However, I was simultaneously experiencing being the one I was long ago and the one I was in the NOW. Mytria said that she felt the same way. We were both quite confused but did not care because we were so happy to be together again.

"How is our daughter, Alycia?" I asked

"Oh, she is wonderful," replied Mytria. "Do you think you can stay until tomorrow to see her?"

"I do not know. This is my maiden voyage, but if I cannot stay, I will return."

"I have to open the portal now," said Mytria. "Will you come with me?"

I told her that of course I would, and we walked to the Sacred Rock hand-in-hand. As we walked, I was not sure if she was in the same timeline as when we met before, or if she too had moved into another version of her SELF in a distant future. I did not want to say too much for fear I would negatively affect her timeline.

All I knew was that she remembered my assisting her before, but I did not know if that memory was a déjà vu experience or another version of her life. I decided to release my thinking and focus totally on how wonderful it felt to be with her again. When we arrived at the Sacred Rock, I felt myself fading away, just like the first time.

I pulled Mytria to me once more and told her that I felt myself leaving. I was able to kiss her once more and promise her that I would return, and then I faded away.

My eyes flew open, and I was in my quarters. I looked at the clock and found that no time had passed. Had that been real? Had I experienced a very vivid meditation, or had I actually bi-located? If I had been meditating, time would have passed, right? Since no time had passed, and I had appeared to be there quite a while, does that mean that I really bi-located?

I was extremely cold. So I stood up to get my jacket; however my legs would not hold me, and I fell to the ground. I had to slowly stand and carefully walk around my room to accustom myself to this body. Perhaps I had bi-located, but I could only hold my consciousness in one version of my SELF.

“That was a good start,” said the Arcturian as it appeared before me. “Now follow me. There is something you need to see.”

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section VI

Mytre's Experience of Ascension

Accepting the Light

MYTRE CONTINUES:

When the Arcturian said, “Follow me, there is something you need to see,” there was actually a feeling of excitement and even wonder that radiated from it’s being. Was there anything that was a novel experience for an Arcturian?

“This is!” the Arcturian responded to my unasked question.

When we walked through the corridor, which was unusual as we normally beamed to our location, I saw that the entire ship was filled with excited crewmembers. Those who could leave their posts were rushing to the main viewing room. In fact, those who had clearance were even going to the view screen on the bridge.

To my great surprise, the Arcturian guided me to the bridge. What had I done to deserve such an honor?

“You have done more than you can imagine. You have honestly shared your story with many, and your example encourages them to continue their journey,” the Arcturian responded to my thoughts.

I was not sure what he was talking about. I had just started talking with the 4D visitors to the ship, and Kepier was always there with me. However, I was not going to question this privilege. When I allowed myself to accept praise, I could feel the release of my old habit of self-doubt. What a blessing to release that old adversary. With the release of my doubt, the feeling of excitement and joy increased exponentially. I wondered how many of my fantastic experiences were muted by that doubt.

Then, I quickly released that regret along with the doubt and sent them off into a cloud of unconditional love. The cloud seemed to rise up through the ceiling of the corridor. Perhaps, the love was taking my old fearful thoughts to the higher frequencies of the ship to be transmuted.

However, before I could continue that line of thought, the Arcturian actually pulled me along more quickly with the force of Its intention. What a joy to feel movement in the same manner as the Arcturian. There was no resistance of foot against ground. In fact, there was no movement. There was a sense of continual being where we were NOW. I was pondering this sense of moving without movement, when I bumped into the Arcturian.

“Stop thinking!” It said in a firm, yet loving manner.

I struggled a while with the concept of no thought until I remembered that fifth dimensional interaction with reality is to totally surrender to every situation. Instantly everything was calmer, clearer and deeply experiential. I felt the emotions of every person within the deepest unity consciousness I had ever known. The unity was so complete that I stopped thinking in terms of me and began to think in terms of we, just like the Arcturian thinks.

And so I will continue my story in this manner of Oneness with ALL That Is. We were calmly excited and proudly joyous. Something very special had happened within our family of ONE, and we wanted to contribute our consciousness to this event. Quickly, yet reverently, those of us who had clearance entered the bridge.

The Mothership had expanded her bridge to accommodate all of us, so there was plenty of room. Those who were taller moved to the back of the bridge to create an easy view of the ship’s screen for those who were shorter. As ONE being we looked at the Solar System of Sol. The Sun was glowing so brightly that we could only see it by raising our consciousness into the sixth dimension.

Since we were so united, we all instantly resonated to our sixth dimensional expression. Within this frequency of perception, we could see every detail of the Sun’s escalating coronal mass ejections. We saw how those ejections seemed to be focusing on the third planet, Earth. Hence, we all directed our attention to that planet.

In fact, within our state of unity consciousness, we all focused on the third dimensional expression of our SELF who currently inhabited that small world. In other words, each expression of our united SELF that was still wearing an individual earth vessel received the sixth dimensional energy field of our collective unity consciousness.

With great joy we watched as individual after individual joined our unity. From our perspective, we could see how each earth vessel of our ascending ones remained merged with the planetary body of Gaia, while their consciousness expanded to accept and embrace our gift of sixth-dimensional unity consciousness.

As each connection was made, the body of Gaia glowed brighter and brighter, and the unity consciousness of our ship expanded deeper and deeper into the form of planet Earth. We felt the reunion of our grounded expressions as they returned to the knowingness of their true SELF. We also felt the great love and compassion of the beautiful being Gaia and Her planetary form of Earth.

We could clearly see that there were areas of Gaia’s body that needed special attention, as well as earth vessels that were still trapped in ignorance and fear. Hence, we took a moment to focus our unconditional love into these areas and persons. Conversely, other areas and people hungrily soaked up our love and light, sharing it with all who would accept it.

And then, as quickly as the experience began, it ceased. We all knew that Gaia and her peoples would need to deeply integrate the higher frequency that was our privilege to share. Without a word, we maintained our sixth dimensional resonance as we beamed off the bridge.

Since I was still in unity with the Arcturian, I was not surprised to find myself in the Mothership's Oversoul, standing in front of the holoprojector.

"Now you will continue with the story of our Arcturian Ascension," spoke the Arcturian as it beamed away.

I instructed the program to continue, and found myself within the holoprogram of:

The Ascension of Arcturus - Part 4

I realized that I had entered the program about where I had left off: The Arcturians who were the holders of planetary form were happy to join the Portal Openers and the Formless Ones in the Corridor to raise the frequency of their reality. Unfortunately for the Lost Ones, portions of the 3D matrix of the planet were disappearing from the perception of the third dimensional Lost Ones.

Those who had believed in a disastrous ending were playing out that storyline, while others continued with their selfish or victimized behaviors. On the other hand, some of the Lost Ones were finding great courage and were assisting others to seek a safe place. How surprised they were when they discovered that their safe place was actually within the Corridor.

Unfortunately, other Lost Ones were holding on to their power-over others and/or their self-pity and lack of control of their own lives. Because they could not find their own Arcturian Core, these Lost Ones raged or desperately called to their separate God. It was at this juncture I had left the holographic story before.

I stood inside this scene of the Arcturian Ascension that occurred farther back than in time that I could imagine. In fact, my own concept of time had been greatly altered. I had experienced bi-location into my past, while also experiencing my present. And now I was experiencing an ancient ascension of a planet, which I knew was a component of my lineage.

Why had the Arcturian brought me here to see the completion of the Arcturian ascension story? Was this really the story of the Arcturian's ascension or was it a metaphor? Also, since all reality is a metaphor, does it make a difference? Then I was suddenly pulled into the mind and body of a Lost One, and all my questions stopped.

This was not a pleasant place to be. I could feel myself filled with fear of survival and a rage to succeed. I was not clear what I wanted to succeed in, although I wanted, I needed, and I had to have it. However, I did not know what it was that I must have. I was confused and felt like a hungry animal that would devour whatever I could capture.

Rather than give up my search for more, I allowed my desperation to consume my entire being. In stark contrast to the beautiful experience of sixth dimensional unity consciousness I had just shared, I was now totally alone. I saw everything and everyone as a potential enemy. My body and mind raced out of my control, and the only emotion I felt was anger. Any other emotions were a sign of my weakness and would make me the prey rather than the predator.

I had learned this defense mechanism, or maybe it was taught to me. Either way, this thinking was all I could remember. And now, my world was changing. I imagined that it was the prophesied end of the world. But, I was not ready for the world to end. I would take control of those who quivered in fear, and we would not allow our world to end.

Simultaneously with the thoughts of anger and desperation, I felt my Mytre fifth dimensional SELF and my sixth dimensional SELF I still held inside of Mytre. Who was this person, and why was I put inside of this being? No, I will not ask more questions. I did not have time to ponder this.

I had to communicate with this body that appeared to contain me. He appeared to be a leader. Perhaps I could assist him to take in the glowing light I could see all around us.

As if he had heard me, the Lost One growled like a wild animal. "I will not have such weak thoughts of giving in. I am a leader of my people, and we need to fight for our right to live on this world."

"Has your fight worked for you so far?" I replied, much as the Arcturian would.

"What are these phantom thoughts?" raged the Lost One. "I will not surrender. I will fight to the end."

I calmly asked, "For what are you fighting?"

"I will not have doubt. What is this voice that appears to come from within me? I will not listen to such weakness. I must fight!"

"Why?" I asked.

The Ascension of Arcturus – Part 5

MYTRE CONTINUES:

As I asked the Lost One why he had to fight, I had to also ask myself why I found myself inside of a Lost One. Obviously, some part of me was lost in the fight for survival. I had spent most of my life as a warrior. I told myself that I was protecting my people and tried to ignore that part of me that enjoyed fighting.

Now I was asking this Lost One why he thought he had to fight, which means that I had to ask myself the same question. Yes, fighting was a vital component of my earlier life. We fought to protect our land, and then we fought to be able to leave our land. Next, we fought to protect the land we had claimed as our new home. Can fighting ever be a solution for fighting? How can I answer this Lost One when I do not have the answer myself?

Well, actually, I do have the answer. The answer is no. In fact, fighting just begets more fighting. Fighting is based on fear and fear creates more fear. Fear and fighting are vital components of the third-fourth dimensional worlds, which arise from separation and polarity. Unfortunately, fighting traps us in the very separation that created fear in the first place.

I remained separate from this Lost One, just as I had remained separate from my past as a warrior in which I was like him. He believed that he was a leader. He believed that he was protecting his people. I remained disconnected from this Lost One because he represented the part of me from whom I had remained separate.

I needed to have compassion to assist this Lost One, but first I needed to have compassion for myself. However, the longer I remained within this hologram, the more immersed I was becoming in it. I was beginning to feel like the Lost One rather than like my self.

Perhaps this man was a component of my Multidimensional SELF. Since my roots are Arcturian, perhaps I actually was this Lost One in another reality? I was expecting this Lost One to surrender to the transition and release the fight, but I was fighting surrendering into him. I took a few deep breaths to relax into my core, my spark of spirit, to align with the ONE.

I felt the ONE within me and remembered that I was the creator of my reality. I could say that the Arcturian put me in this hologram, but then I would not be the creator. In fact, the Arcturian only took me to the holosuite in which this hologram was playing, but this was a hologram coming from the Mothership's Oversoul.

I was the one to initially activate this hologram could easily access my seventh dimensional consciousness to leave it. However, once in the hologram, I became so swept up with the fight that I could not leave it. I felt the emotional rush of the call to battle that had been my primary response for myriad lives.

The Arcturian had taught me to surrender into every situation with unconditional love. Therefore, I finally remembered not to respond or react with fear and anger. Instead, I chose to bravely step into the battleground and fill it with unconditional love. I unconditionally loved, unconditionally forgave and unconditionally accepted the warrior that I had been.

It was then that higher frequencies of energies began flow into myself, into the Lost One I inhabited, as well as into all the other Lost Ones. The warriors slowly released their unconscious reaction of fear of the unknown and looked around with curiosity and even hope. They did not know how to identify unconditional love, but it calmed them and made them feel safe.

The fear of death was gradually replaced by a feeling of acceptance. Meanwhile, I was experiencing these same reactions inside myself. It did not matter if I sent unconditional love to another or to myself. Unconditional love travels a circular path and returns to the sender.

The Lost Ones were putting down their weapons and looking for the source of the unconditional love. On the other hand, some tried to run away, likely because they could not believe they deserved this feeling. It was toward them that I focused my unconditional forgiveness. This forgiveness is what they needed to accept, so that they would not run from the love. The energy field of unconditional forgiveness moved through them.

Gradually they began to forgive themselves, which encouraged them to forgive others, as well. But there were those who could not accept the unconditional love or the unconditional forgiveness. It was to these ones that I focused my unconditional acceptance. This energy field allowed them to understand and accept that they were not ready to forgive or love themselves because they could not forgive or love others.

Because I had become was fully merged with the Lost One I had entered I was able to accept into his/my consciousness much of what I knew. Hence, as one person, we walked to each of the ones who could not accept the love or forgiveness and told them we accepted their choice. We then addressed the entire group and the One I inhabited said,

"We have become lost in our battle and have forgotten what we were fighting for. We were fighting for a chance to be happy. This chance is right HERE NOW! All we need to do is stop fighting and accept the unconditional love. If we can forgive ourselves, we can forgive everyone and everything that we have perceived as an enemy. Also, if we can accept ourselves, we can accept everyone who makes a choice that is different from our own."

This message swirled on an energy form of expanding light that moved through the hearts and minds of all who could accept it. The light grew so strong that even the ones who could not love and forgive themselves began to waver in their decision to remain separate and in fear. We, the Lost One's leader, spoke again,

"You do not need to deserve this light. You do not need to improve yourself or become better to receive this light. This light is the frequency of unconditional love. Hence, there are no conditions. This unconditional love is here for you to receive or reject. It is your choice. I tell you this now because this reality is closing.

"There will no longer be a world in which you can participate in this frequency of reality. Therefore, let go of what you have believed is real and surrender to the sensation of unconditional love. You do not need to understand what is happening, but you do have the right to make a conscious choice. You also have the right to allow a higher expression of your SELF to make this choice.

"I know you all, and I know how we became lost in fear and anger. We all have free entrance into a possible reality in which the fear that stole our inner love does not exist. Darkness does not exist in these higher worlds. Hence, when we move through these energy fields, the parts of our self that we have deemed as dark will fall away.

"We are not the pain that created the fear and darkness. We are the unconditional love that still remains hidden in the core of our true SELF. You don't have to believe me. Just surrender to the light and love, and it will encompass your being. I hope you make that choice, for if you do, you can remain conscious of your true SELF and be your core SELF who became hidden in the fear."

With his final words, more and more people surrendered to the energy field of unconditional love. As they surrendered, their bodies began to expand and take on more light. The leader with whom I had totally merged went to each person still lost in fear and reassured them that they could change. They could surrender, not to the enemy of fear, but to the love of life.

Thus, more and more of them took the risk of believing that they, too, could surrender to the energy of unconditional love. When the rest ran away, persistently holding onto their fear and mistrust, the leader of the Lost Ones surrendered to the light, and I was released from the hologram.

Arcturus had ascended and so had my inner warrior.

Many Oversouls

MYTRE CONTINUES:

As I was released from the hologram at the conclusion of the Arcturian Ascension, I realized that my inner wounded warrior was finally healed. Furthermore, I felt my energy field expand far beyond the holosuite and into the core of the Mothership's seventh dimensional Oversoul.

When I had first entered the Oversoul, a feeling of bliss and unconditional love overwhelmed me. However, I could perceive only a sparkling cloud around me and hear only silence. Yes, the silence did have a sound, but it was not experienced through the sense of hearing or even clairaudience.

This silence was experienced as a vibration of total harmony and unity. In fact, as I began to calibrate my perceptions to this frequency of reality, I realized that I sensed that I was surrounded by every experience of being in a form that I had ever had. In fact, I saw every body that my Multidimensional SELF had worn in any incarnation.

First, I experienced my seventh-dimensional Oversoul SELF in a wavering, ever-changing form of glistening light. Then, I saw the myriad offshoots of light originating from within my Oversoul and descending into the lower dimensions. These lights were the life force of myriad embodiments of my Multidimensional SELF.

Each of these countless offshoots of life force from my seventh dimensional Oversoul traveled down into the sixth dimension to become light matrixes for the progenitors of that line of incarnations.

The descendants of each sixth-dimensional progenitor progressively multiplied, as they traveled into the fifth dimension to become the myriad Lightbody appearances for each lineage.

Then the myriad descendants of each fifth dimensional Lightbody multiplied as they entered the fourth dimension to become the astral bodies for that lineage.

These fourth dimensional astral bodies then took physical forms within the specific lineage that began with their seventh dimensional progenitor.

By the third dimension there were uncountable descendants from of the myriad lineages of each of the original offshoots from my Oversouls.

All of these countless members of my seventh dimensional Oversoul were members of my Soul Family. And I had always thought I was alone. In reality, I likely interacted with at least one member of my Soul Family everyday!

Furthermore, I saw that I have many Oversouls. I saw the lineage from my Pleiadian Oversoul lineage, my Arcturian Oversoul lineage, my Earthling Oversoul lineage, my Tau Ceti Oversoul lineage, my Sirian Oversoul lineage and my Antarian Oversoul lineage. In fact, there were likely other Oversouls of which I was not yet familiar.

The countless descendants from each Oversoul line for each different Star System became intertwined as they expanded down into the lower dimensional realities. For example, within my current expression of Mytre, I could perceive the essence of Pleiadian, Arcturian, Sirius, Antarian and Earthling. I was just beginning to recognize my many other expressions of Oversoul.

Suddenly I experienced a huge rush of energy, as if I were shifting into faster-than-light speed without any sense of movement. It was a very unique experience. I knew that I was greatly accelerating, but there was no time or space to serve as a marker of how fast, or where. Therefore, I just relaxed into the glorious feeling.

Then, just as quickly as that feeling began, it ceased. Instinctively, I knew that I had merged with the ONE of the NOW in the group consciousness of the eighth through tenth dimensions. I felt the Arcturians welcome me to their section of the Mothership. I was in total unity with the limitless expressions of Arcturian consciousness. I knew, that they were reminding me there were other energy life-streams within this frequency besides that of the Arcturians.

Similar to several instruments blending within an orchestra, I could feel the orchestra of differing energy patterns inter-twined with the eighth dimensional energy-patterns. Each energy pattern was distinct, yet totally intermingled within the whole. Being totally free of any form and experiencing complete unity with this cosmic consciousness was almost more than my consciousness could absorb.

On the other hand, extracting myself from this energy field seemed impossible, which indeed, it was. In other words, I was NOT extracted from it. I knew that I could alter the focus of my perception into the lower frequencies of reality when I was ready; however, I could not imagine ever being ready to leave this experience.

“Once you have remembered this expression of SELF, you need never forget it,” spoke my inner Arcturian. “That is unless you re-enter a third-fourth dimensional world. The electromagnetic field around that frequency of reality instantly mutes your access to these higher memories. This electromagnetic firewall protects the lower worlds from information that would literally short circuit their brains.”

Yes, now I understood why I had to release my warrior self before I could resonate to this frequency of reality.

“Are you ready to visit the eleventh-twelfth dimensional expression of the Mothership?” continued the inner Arcturian. “We say visit, as your energy field is not ready to do more than merely peek into this frequency.”

“Yes,” I said, a bit too confidently.

Instantly I was inside of the beginning, as that is the only word that I can imagine. I felt pulled into millions, billions of segments of anti-matter swirling in unity and simultaneously exploding into each other. With each explosion a universe was born.

Whatever reality I was visiting was inside of me, above me, behind me, but yet I had no form. I had no substance, no knowing. I was an existence that was not yet created and the beginning of the ending that was yet initiated. All these sensations were overwhelming, and my consciousness was unidentifiable. I was in awe of this experience, but I was losing all sense of self.

Suddenly, I felt the Arcturian inside of me, while I was also inside of it. Everything began to spin faster and faster. The silence became so loud that I was deafened and the light so bright that I could not see. I was expanding and contracting, while remaining totally still. I could feel myself blinking out of all reality; then I was gone.

I slowly opened my eyes to find myself in my quarters. The Arcturian and Mytria were guarding my body. I blinked a few times, smiled and said, “I am still alive!”

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP— Section VII

Preparing for the Landings

Mytria and Mytre

MYTRE CONTINUES:

I took a day off my schedule to integrate my experience of the higher worlds of the Mothership. I was in and out of meditation most of the day. Then as the day came to a close, I had a special visitor enter my quarters. At first, I thought I was dreaming, but I didn't care because the visitor was Mytria.

When I saw her, I jumped up from my chair and rushed to greet her. I spontaneously embraced her and was surprised to feel her as a solid form.

"Mytria, I said. Are you really here?"

"No beloved, I have bi-located, just like you. Are you proud of me?"

"I am always proud of you, no matter what you do. But this is wonderful. Since we can both bi-locate we can be together whenever we want."

An unreadable look crossed Mytria's face and she disappeared. I was so happy to have held her, that I did not experience my former grief and guilt. Perhaps I had healed that portion of my dark side and am now able to experience life exactly as it is revealed to me.

I was so happy to have made that breakthrough that I did not notice the Arcturian.

Finally It said, "We are happy that you have cleared your old grief and guilt. You are now ready for your most important work. Relax for the rest of this day, for there is an important meeting for you to attend first thing tomorrow."

"Will Kepier be my partner again? I have not seen her for a while," I asked.

"No, we have a new partner for you. Kepier is working with her human expression to form a deeper bond. In this manner, Kepier's grounded one can better be a scribe for us."

"Who will be my partner?"

"You just met her." Said the Arcturian as it beamed from my quarters.

“What was it talking about? I had been in my quarters all day and had not met anyone.

“Are you sure?” I heard the Arcturians voice within me.

Was it talking about Mytria? She had just bi-located to me. How could we go on a mission together? There was no answer again. This was obviously something else for me to figure out. Perhaps I could bi-locate to be with her and I could ask her directly?

I had been in meditation for much of the day, so bi-location was quite easy. However, when I went to the Sacred Rock, she was not there. When I walked to the lake, she was not there either. Perhaps I should just hold the feeling of her in my heart-mind and bi-locate directly to her. It was very simple to feel her within my heart-mind, as she was always there.

I had never gone from one place of bi-location to another, so this was a new experience. First I felt the comfort of the lake around me. Then I sent a line of energy to my body in my quarters in the Mothership. Then I felt the great love I have for Mytria and focused my attention on that feeling. At first I felt nothing, but gradually I felt as though I was moving at a very fast pace.

Somehow I knew to focus on the inside of me rather than my environment. I made sure that my essence by the lake joined my essence that appeared to be moving very quickly. I relaxed and allowed my perceptions to tell me where I was. I felt as though I had reached solid ground, but it was moving. Then I heard the familiar distant hum of a starship and heard the most wonderful sound ever.

“Mytre! You have found me.”

I opened my eyes to see Mytria and crossed the distance to her in two steps. We held each other again. We stood there in silence for what seemed like forever.

Then Mytria said, “Have they told you that I will be on your ship?”

“No,” I said.

“I am to be your new partner.” Mytria said with a broad smile.

I was so overcome with joy that I lost my focus and began to beam back into my body in my quarters.

The last thing I experienced was Mytria saying, “Meet me at the landing dock.”

Of course, I could not sleep the entire night. But I did enter into a very deep meditation to prepare for our impending assignment. The ability to partner with Mytria was the best experience I could imagine.

When Mytria and I met at the landing dock we embraced, somewhat formally, but our hearts returned to ONE. I rushed her off to my quarters where we could greet each other more intimately. This meeting was more intense than ever before as we had both joined with our multidimensional expressions and experienced higher frequencies of reality. We journeyed together to share the myriad worlds we had each known.

Fortunately, our inter-dimensional journey was outside of time, for as we returned, we realized that we had to instantly go to the briefing. We managed to calmly walk into the briefing room and find our seats toward the back of the room. Shortly thereafter, two Arcturians, a Pleiadian and a Sirian came into the room. One of the Arcturians was my friend and guide. It was the first one to speak.

THE ARCTURIAN SPEAKS:

As you look around the room, you will see that everyone here is a couple. In fact, you are Divine Complements. At this juncture of the earthly human's ascension process, Divine Complements will begin to recognize each other and connect either in form or in essence. Each of you, and your Divine Complement will be assisting Earth's ascending ones to find and connect with their complements. In fact, you will first be assigned to your own third dimensional expressions now incarnated on ascending Earth.

First, you will give your third dimensional selves education, information and support. Your initial task is to communicate with them telepathically and via other expanded perceptions. In this manner, the ascending will have an opportunity to practice their multidimensional communication. Once your assigned couple has found each other and regained connection with their Multidimensional SELF you will assist them to be liaisons between you, the Galactics, and the other humans.

The landings are about to begin, but initially these landings will take place within the consciousness of the ascending ones who can be aware of our presence. We begin in this way because there are still many earthlings who are unable to accept the importance of this cosmic moment.

As you know, for longer than the earthlings want to know, Gaia's Earth has been separated into those who live in truth and those who live in illusion. To make the shift from living in illusion to living in truth demands a strong spiritual identity and a sense of spiritual guidance. Then, as the fearful versions of reality are exposed as an illusion, they can be replaced with loving versions of truth and freedom.

Once you have established an intimate relationship with your earthly counterparts, your connection will serve as an inter-dimensional portal through which any ascending one can travel to have perceptual and experiential experiences of higher worlds. This portal also serves to assist the ascending ones to remain in constant contact with their higher dimensional expressions of SELF.

You will also assist them to hold the Portal of TRUTH open for those who are slowly, or suddenly, coming into the awareness of their own multidimensionality. As you guide these ascending ones, you will counsel them that there is no right or wrong ascension, as ascension transcends all polarities.

As you leave this meeting, we will give you your specific assignments regarding what scout ship to board and in which area you begin your service. Some of you will remain on the cloaked ship and bi-locate to your assigned areas. Others will remain on the ship and send telepathic messages.

Finally, others will actually land on the planet, but in a frequency that is out of sync with third dimensional consciousness. Only those with multidimensional perception will be able to recognize your presence. You have all been specially chosen for this assignment. Therefore, even though it appears very challenging we know that you will be able to fulfill it.

We send you our blessings and will let you know when you are to return to the Mothership to discuss your experiences. We are with you always."

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Mytria and I were just about to leave the briefing room when the Arcturian telepathically asked us to follow. Mytria and I heard the message as ONE person.

However, the Arcturian had beamed away. More advanced training, we thought.

We joined our intuitive forces and sought out the Arcturian's location with our heart-mind. With a mutual look of recognition, we held hands and beamed into my favorite holosuite. Sure enough, the Arcturian was in the Earth Holoprogram, waiting to prepare us for our mission on ascending Earth.

“We want to give you some specific information before you begin your mission as Pleiadian Emissaries to Earth,” spoke the Arcturian. “Since you have both learned to bi-locate, you have been chosen to assist our Earth family in remembering how to experience multiple realities within the NOW. Furthermore, since you are Divine Complements, you will also be called upon to assist our Earth family in remembering how to merge with their Twin Flame/Divine Complement.

“Since you are both well trained and in full unity with your Multidimensional SELF, you will actually be consciously living multiple expressions of your blended multidimensional SELF:

1. You will remain here on the Mothership in your highest expression to guide your multiple other aspects of SELF.
2. You will be in the half-octave-up frequency of Earth's shifting base-line frequency. From this position you will be able to freely move around and assist our Earth family, but only those willing to expand their consciousness will be able to perceive you.
3. Simultaneously, you will time travel inter-dimensionally back to the NOW in which you are ascending your community on a small planet in the Pleiadian System. In this manner, you will directly experience your Pleiadian ascension in order to clearly remember what was most effective in your world. Once remembered, you can use these ascension strategies to assist the earthlings.

“We stated in the briefing that you would all be getting your assignment after the meeting. You are, indeed, receiving your assignment, but more training will precede the initiation of your mission. Since you will be involved in assisting others to return to their higher expressions of SELF, it is best that you are fully informed regarding the Grand Cycle. Because this topic is so very vast, we will have to begin at the beginning, which is the twelfth dimensional Source.”

The Grand Cycle

THE ARCTURIAN SPEAKS:

Leaving and Returning to Source

For eons beyond time, your consciousness existed within the ONE of Source. Whenever Source desires to intimately experience Its myriad worlds and realities, It creates a portal of light through which It merges with Its creations. These portals of light (awareness within the form of a portal) are the highest evolution of consciousness within every reality. Within your Pleiadian Homeworld, the highest expression was in humanoid form.

Since there is a great deal of Pleiadian DNA in humans, they too are manifest in humanoid form. As you both know, there are many forms that Source uses to serve as a light portal through which It can experience Its creation. Some examples of Source's portals of light encased in form are humanoids, insectoids, arachnoids, cetaceans and draconians. There are also portals of light in the fifth dimension and beyond with mutable forms of light and/or existing as pure consciousness with no form.

However, since we are now discussing the return of light portals that form planet Earth, we will discuss the creation of the Divine Child. A divine child is a being who will eventually take a form in one of Source's worlds of form. Not all beings have a gender. But we are focusing on the human cycle of a light portal created to be the window through which Source can experience a third/fourth dimensional reality based on form and gender.

When Source in the twelfth dimension is moved to create a portal of light, It calls forth Its first ray of light of masculine, non-manifest essence to merge into Its second ray of light of feminine, potential form. As the masculine and feminine rays of light merge into Oneness, the highest frequency of light, unconditional love, a third ray of light, the Light of the Divine Child, is created from the creative powers of that love.

The First Three Rays of Creation

- First Ray—(Masculine, Father God)—Power of Creation
- Second Ray—(Feminine, Mother Goddess)—Infinite Wisdom
- Third Ray—(Divine Child, Humanity)—Unconditional Love

The First Ray of the Masculine uses His Power of Creation to create a field of unconditional love into which He sends His Seed of Creation.

The Second Ray of the Feminine uses Her Infinite Wisdom to enter that field of unconditional love so that She may conceive their Divine Child.

The Third Ray of the Divine Child emerges from this field of unconditional love with all the qualities of both Father God and Mother Goddess.

The first ray expresses Source's divine quality of the Power of Creation.

The second ray expresses Source's divine quality of Infinite Wisdom.

The third ray is the result of the merging of Creative Power and Infinite Wisdom birthed into beingness by Source's divine quality of unconditional love.

These divine qualities of the Power of Creation, Infinite Wisdom and Unconditional Love are implanted in the ATMA of the High Heart of every divine child. Once the divine child has learned to access and live via the divine qualities of the fourth through seventh rays, the High Heart opens and the divine child commences with his/her Return to Source.

The Next Four Rays Spring from the Need of the Divine Child

- Fourth Ray—Activates the Divine Quality of Purity
- Fifth Ray--Activates the Divine Quality of Truth
- Sixth Ray—Activates the Divine Quality of Invocation
- Seventh Ray—Activates the Divine Quality of Transmutation

These four rays of light represent the divine qualities of Source, which were bequeathed unto Its divine child. The birthright of these qualities will assist the divine child to prosper within form and eventually return home to Source.

The Fourth Ray of Purity is the foundation for the expansion of consciousness.

The Fifth Ray of Truth is the foundation for the exploration of consciousness.

The Sixth Ray of Invocation is the foundation for unity consciousness.

The Seventh Ray of Transmutation is the foundation for the transmutation of consciousness.

The qualities of these inner rays of light activate humanity's inner light portal so that the divine child can share his/her reality with the ONE. The activation of these qualities in daily life will light the way back to Source. When the qualities of Source are unveiled and utilized by the Child of Source, he/she can find the way back to his/her divinity by steadily expanding their consciousness.

Using the Qualities in Human Life

The light portal/divine child/human can remember and master the qualities of the fourth through seventh rays, they can embrace their innate creative qualities of power, wisdom and unconditional love imbedded within their High Heart.

The Fourth Ray is the foundation for expansion of consciousness.

The Fourth Ray holds the Divine Quality of Purity and focuses on living in peace.

When you, the Manifest Portal of Light and Divine Child of Source, are centered within the divine quality of purity, you can more easily find peace in daily life. The innate quality of purity is a “firewall” against any darkness that attempts to invade your form. Within the safety of this firewall, you can begin the expansion of your consciousness into the knowing that YOU are the Divine Child of Source, and hence, a portal of light.

This knowing develops a greater confidence in your innate purity. This confidence assists you in maintaining a state of consciousness that is above interaction with that which distracts you from your true purity of purpose. In this manner, a dedication to furthering your purity of purpose directs your attention and intention onto that which is loving and pure. This intention creates an increase of consciousness that expands your perceptions beyond the confines of third dimensional limitation and into the higher expressions of your own divinity. In this manner, you awaken your individual consciousness.

The Fifth Ray is the foundation for an exploration of consciousness.

The Fifth Ray holds the Divine Quality of Truth and focuses on Healing and Science.

When centered within the divine quality of truth, your consciousness and perceptions expand beyond the myriad illusions of your polarized reality. You begin to remember your true, Multidimensional SELF, which activates your higher abilities. These higher abilities guide you to explore your reality through the higher perceptions of your expanded consciousness. This exploration of consciousness activates your innate creativity, and you long to improve the reality in which you live. Thus, you expand your consciousness into group consciousness.

With the activation of your creative exploration you remember higher expressions of your multidimensional SELF who consciously, or unconsciously, guide you to discover advanced ways in perceiving the world through new scientific methods. Furthermore, your exploring consciousness FEELS the unconditional love of your higher expressions and begins to notice how this unconditional love carries a remarkable ability to heal all life. On whatever path you take you become a leader in your world because you must find the truth.

The Sixth Ray is the foundation for unity consciousness.

The Sixth Ray holds the Quality of Invocation and focuses on Reverence in Daily Life.

When you are centered on the divine quality of invocation, you remember to daily, if not hourly or even moment-to-moment, communicate with your higher expressions of SELF. Through this unity with your higher dimensional expressions of SELF, you remember the oneness of ALL life. Thus, you seek to join in unity consciousness with your fellow humanity, as well as with all planetary life. Hence, you have expanded your consciousness into planetary consciousness.

Unity with all life expands your consciousness into a deeper experience of your own Multidimensional SELF. Those who once appeared to be your guides are now realized as higher expressions of your own expanded SELF. Your ever-increasing unity with your Multidimensional SELF expands your perceptual field into higher and higher frequencies of reality. Hence, you become an inter-dimensional traveler. This traveling introduces you to members of your galactic and celestial SELF. Thus you have expanded your consciousness into galactic consciousness.

The Seventh Ray is the foundation for transmutation of consciousness.

The Seventh Ray holds the Quality of Transmutation and focuses on the transmutation of all form into its higher frequencies of expression.

When you are centered on the seventh ray quality of transmutation, you begin your return to Source. It took you many eons to descend:

- From the Twelfth Dimension of Source Consciousness,
- Into the Tenth and Eleventh Dimensions of Cosmic Consciousness,
- Then into the Eighth through Tenth Dimensions of Universal Consciousness,
- Into the Seventh Dimension of Oversoul Consciousness,
- The Sixth Dimension of Light Consciousness (consciousness as Light),
- The Fifth Dimension of Planetary and Galactic Consciousness and
- Finally into the Third/Fourth Dimensions of Individual Consciousness.

With the full awakening of the divine quality of transmutation, your physical form becomes cumbersome. Your consciousness is resonating to a frequency that is too high to be encased in such a dense form. Therefore, symptoms of transmutation begin to occur more and more frequently. This period of change can be quite uncomfortable, as you may feel ‘crammed into a box that is too small for you.’ Your third dimensional world has been based on resistance.

You have felt resistance against the earth with each footfall, as well as the resistance of your clothing against your skin. You knew you were YOU because you were separate from all that was NOT you. You spent your time doing work, which is resistance over time. However you are now agitated at the thought of work, and individuality is not needed to express yourself.

In fact, the YOU that you have come to know as your SELF lives in Unity with All Life. You tire of your human experience and are ready to return home. Of course this return will be beyond time, as it begins with your return to the timeless fifth dimension. Furthermore, since fifth dimensional consciousness is focused on unity, this return begins by unifying your consciousness with your divine complement.

Do you now understand the long journey to merging with your divine complement? Furthermore, can you better realize how the blending of the Masculine Power of Creation with the Feminine Ultimate Wisdom is vital for the conception of your higher expression of lightbody?

When your consciousness is trapped in the lower frequency humanoid form, the experiences sent to Source through your light portal are blurred by illusion. On the other hand, the light portal of your lightbody is free of illusion and can perceive Source while Source perceives you. Therefore, you can develop an interactive relationship.

Conversely, while wearing your fifth dimensional lightbody you can perceive your SELF as a component of the total unity of Source. Additionally, you are aware that there are millions of expressions of your SELF in myriad realities and dimensions with whom you are united within the ONE of Source.

Dearest Divine Complements Mytre and Mytria, return to your joint quarters and prepare for your merging.

“Dear Arcturian,” Mytria and I say in one voice. “How can we prepare for our merging?”

When you have remembered how to prepare, you will be ready to merge. When that occurs, we will be here waiting for you.

“Did I see a twinkle in the Arcturian’s eyes before it beamed away?” Mytre whispers to Mytria as they leave the meeting.

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section VIII

Transmissions to Earth

A Visit from St. Germain

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Mytria and I arrived early at our holoschool, which is the name we had given this holosuite, expecting to again find the Arcturian sending another transmission to Earth. To our surprise, It was patiently waiting for us, even though we were early. The Arcturian warmly greeted us and asked if we were ready for our bi-location into the timeline in which our Pleiadian society ascended.

In sequential time that ascension occurred long, long ago. However, in the NOW of the fifth dimension and beyond, time flows like a great ocean. Hence, one can enter the flow of any timeline to participate in that reality. The Arcturian told us that the ascension of our Pleiadian society was quite similar to the ascension of Earth. Therefore, our bi-location into that event would provide us with important information that would help us assist with Earth's ascension process.

Since Mytria and I both had previous experiences of bi-location, we would be able to maintain our ascended state of consciousness while we bi-located into our third/fourth dimensional forms and levels of consciousness. In this manner we could more deeply understand the dynamics of pre- and post-ascension states of consciousness. On the other hand, the ascending ones from Earth would eventually bi-locate into their fifth dimensional SELF, allowing them to further expand their consciousness and learn more about ascension.

“We are about to begin our Earth transmission,” spoke the Arcturian, actually using a voice. “Please watch and listen.” The Arcturian then turned towards some form of membrane, similar to the Akashic Membrane, and began Its transmission:

ARCTURIAN TRANSMISSION:

Dearest Ascending Ones of Planet Earth,

Today we are preparing you for your first experience of bi-location. Since bi-location is a fifth dimensional and beyond endeavor, you will leave one area and return to it before your bi-located or within only seconds after you bi-located. Of course, "leave" is not the correct term.

However, during your first few bi-locations it will be difficult for you to remain in constant contact with both of your realities. Therefore, you may feel as though you have left your body. Therefore, it will be important for you to check in on your body in order to train your thinking to encompass more than one location at a given time.

Before we begin our transmission, please tune deeply into our FEEL of unconditional love and relax into that sensation. The secret to bi-location is to not want anything, but instead to enter into the flow of the ONE. In this manner, you are ensured that your lower frequencies of expression are "in the back seat." These aspects of your desire body are of a third/fourth dimensional resonance.

Hence, as a safety mechanism set up by your own soul, desires of this resonance are limited to your physical expression. Therefore, in order to bi-locate, especially while one of your realities is still wearing an earth vessel, you must "turn off" ALL third dimensional thinking. Then, you can more easily surrender into the FEELING of the inner call that beckons you to bi-locate into a higher frequency of reality.

In other words, all bi-location must be ego free. This rule is a protection to you, as the drag of your low resonance ego limits your bi-location to another site on 3D Earth. While you are first remembering this innate multidimensional ability, it is best that you only bi-locate to a fifth dimensional reality and beyond.

Bi-locating to the fifth frequency of reality insures that you will be met with unconditional love. Your secret governments have often experimented with bi-location to another physical location, which has greatly harmed those who were their "test subjects." The fact is that one physical location, much less two, is almost too much ego involvement for you to maintain your connection with your higher expression.

Consciously experiencing two physical locations at once creates the activation of too much ego. Furthermore, there are many physical locations that still hold dark energy. Hence, they are not safe. What we are saying is that to safely bi-locate it is best to allow your fifth dimensional expression, or higher SELF to guide you through out your bi-location journey.

Ascended Masters are "masters" at bi-location. Therefore, St. Germain will be working with many of the ascending ones as they gain their "bi-location wings." Since St. Germain is well known for his skills at bi-location, he is joining us now to further instruct you.

ST. GERMAIN SPEAKS:

My beloved ascending ones, I am quite pleased to assist you, the ascending ones of planet Earth, with your innate ability to bi-locate. As you may know, there are many rumors of my appearance on Earth in many different locations and centuries. These rumors are correct. In fact, I am currently wearing a form now on Earth.

I am involved in certain projects that have been planned for many decades but could not manifest while Earth was enshrouded in darkness. Now that cosmic light surrounds Earth our plans are finally, yet slowly, moving forward.

I am with you now to assist you with the process of bi-location. Therefore I will concentrate my energies on that topic. If any of you dear ascending ones wish to know more about our great plans for Gaia, please feel free to call me. I am available for communication with as many ascending ones as wish to communicate with me.

You see my primary resonance is far beyond even the fifth dimension. Thus I am not bound by the limitations of time or sequential thinking which time creates. Hence, I can easily commune with myriad Beings within the NOW of the ONE. However, allow me to return to the purpose of this communication, which is remembering your innate ability to bi-locate. I will begin by outlining a few important points:

First, as the Arcturian said, make sure that you are desire-free and that your ego-self remains in its present, physical location.

Second, make sure that your physical body is in a safe place and totally protected.

Third, remember that bi-location does not happen within 3D "time." Consequently, you can bi-locate to a higher dimensional reality, spend what may appear to be a lifetime there, and return mere seconds later in your earth-time.

Fourth, bi-locate ONLY to a reality that welcomes you with the FEEL of unconditional love. We realize that many of you do "Rescue Work" just above the lower astral plane during your sleep.

Bi-location is different. When you are volunteering to do Rescue Work with those trapped in the lower astral plane, you are under the direct protection of the Angelic Kingdom when you "take your shift" to assist those trapped in that dark world. When you take your first bi-location solo flights, it is important to go to the fifth dimension or beyond where a higher expression of your SELF is waiting to welcome and guide you. Remember dear ascending ones, that ALL of you are great Multidimensional Beings of Light.

We are now speaking with the lowest frequency of your total expression, the YOU that is encased in your human form. Of course, YOU are not of a lower frequency, however the components of you that are still intermingled with your physical form, as well as your third dimensional reality, are "pulled into the drag" of that extremely low resonance.

Our dear, sweet volunteers for ascension, we see the immense sacrifices that you have made in order to fulfill your mission of assisting Gaia with her ascension. Fortunately, many of you have expanded your consciousness enough to attach to the parallel reality that is in the process of returning Gaia into her true expression of her star SELF. However, there are still many mundane acts that now feel like trudging through mud.

It is for this reason that we of the ONE are here to assist you with bi-location. Through bi-location you are able to "take a vacation" from the toils of a third dimensional reality. However, as the Arcturians have recently said, if you can fill those toils with unconditional love they will become much less burdensome.

We also wish to remind you that there are aspects of your physical life that you will greatly miss. In fact, many of you will maintain a body on Gaia's physical expression, just as I have done. In this manner, you can easily step into that form to assist those still trapped in illusion.

Now, with the completion of our introduction we wish to move into the details of bi-location. We will do this by taking you on a trial run. This trial will be a journey in your imagination. However, remember that your imagination is fifth dimensional thought. Therefore, your imagination is much more powerful than any form of third dimensional thought, as it is a merging of your multidimensional thinking with unconditional love.

We are fully aware that some of your journeys into your imagination are not based on unconditional love. However, in the case of bi-location it is your unconditional love that will assure that you journey into the fifth dimension and beyond. We are aware that many of you think you have never had an experience of unconditional love. However, if that were true, the resonance of this message would be of no interest to you. In fact you would likely attach a negative label to it.

You see, this message is sent to you from the fifth dimension from the Arcturians and myself. Since unconditional love is totally intermingled with the fifth dimension, this communiqué is filled with the unconditional love for which you have all been yearning. If you had never experienced it, then why would you yearn for it? The answer is that you have experienced unconditional love, but it has usually been unconscious to your 3D consciousness.

Therefore, we will state some examples of unconditional love. The true bliss and euphoria of unconditional love is usually only experienced while in deep meditation. These meditations may be while you are actually in a trance. However, they may be moving meditations in which you are involved in a creative action that activates your connection to your fifth dimensional SELF.

Whenever you connect with your SELF in the fifth dimension or beyond, you are immediately greeted with the "Hello, we have missed you, too," of unconditional love. You may think that it is only you who misses your higher expressions; however, we tell you now that your higher expressions also miss you. It is this "missing" that keeps them in constant contact with you. They all await your call and are ready to "give you a hand up into their frequency of reality."

Your long journey through many incarnations in a physical, polarized world has always been over-lit by at least several of your higher expressions of SELF. In fact, one or more of these higher expressions of SELF will be your greeter during your first experiences of bi-location. You see dear ones, your ascension will be incremental. By this we mean that you will expand your primary perception, your point of attention, into the higher dimensions, back to the 3D, back to the higher dimensions, back to the 3D again and again.

Eventually, this back-and-forth point of perception will become more and more natural. After many rehearsals, you will KNOW your fifth dimensional SELF is with you while you are in your daily life. Thus, you will realize that you are actually in constant contact with your Multidimensional SELF. In fact, some expression of your higher dimensional SELF is ALWAYS overlooking your daily life.

However, when you become lost in the difficult challenges of physical life you forget that you are NEVER alone. As you begin to focus on the FEEL of unconditional love, you will know that you are always protected. Then you can consciously FEEL this constant emanation of unconditional love infinitely flowing from your higher expressions of SELF. Thus, your first experiences of bi-location will be into a higher frequency of your own SELF. Beginning your bi-location back into your SELF will assure that you are enshrouded by the higher protection of your SELF to ensure that you have a safe and amazing bi-location.

We are aware that many of you are in constant communication with an expression of your SELF. However, bi-location is different as you will be in your higher expression. In this manner, you receive a conscious experience of being in the fifth dimension and being the living expression of unconditional love. Once you have lived unconditional love, you will always remember that FEEL.

The Arcturian and I, St. Germain, will allow you some time to ponder our message. We will return soon to take you on your maiden voyage of bi-location into your Higher Expression of SELF.

Blessings,

St. Germain and the Arcturian

The Embryo of SELF

MYTRE SPEAKS:

When Mytria and I arrived at our holoschool, we found the Arcturian had already begun its transmission to Earth.

THE ARCTURIAN SPEAKS:

Our Dearest Ones, you are now gestating your embryo of SELF within your field of consciousness. This embryo is the expression of your true, Multidimensional SELF who will lead you through your process of personal and planetary ascension. Many of our ascending ones experienced great doubt when the proposed time of ascension came and went, like a cloud crossing the sky.

What you did not see was that which was occurring within your SELF, because you were looking into the hologram instead of into the Truth. This Truth is different for each one of you, which is the glory of your myriad incarnations in a world of polarity and individuality. This individuality allowed you to find a personal expression of your Being, which is somewhat unique in the multiverse.

There are many negative side effects from the degree of individuality that your world has experienced. The main negative side effect is the loss of connection to your Multidimensional SELF. The individuality that your world has taught you has cast you into your own perception of reality, which is often different from that of those with whom you share your life. These varying perceptions of reality can easily cause strife, which has been so very common. However, if you now turn around inside of your SELF, you will see that this individuality is yet another version of the many illusions in which you have lived.

Inside of your SELF is the YOU who created the illusion of the separation, which led to the appearance of individuality. We speak of the illusion that whatever each one of you does, thinks, feels, desires or expresses, affects you and you only. On the other hand, when you look at the matrix, which is the format for the illusions of separation in your world, you will see that you are all completely and infinitely connected.

Your individuality is actually your personal spark-point in the matrix, through which you are inter-connected to every other individual spark-point. Within the embryo of your SELF you can perceive how your spark-point allows you to interact with the matrix that connects you to every other spark-point. In fact, from within the matrix you can see the flow of energy that is sharing its perceptions of SELF through the personal spark-points.

Therefore, we ask that you use your wonderful imagination to turn your eyes around and push open the curtain to see who is creating the illusion. Yes, the creator of your illusion is YOU. Do you see how your individuality allows each of you to see the same flow of energy in a slightly different way? Do you understand how each of you share your interpretation of the same flow and project it out through your spark-point and into the illusion of your 3D reality?

Furthermore, you each believe that you are different. Hence, you take on many different roles to create variety in the reality that you are ALL creating. However, you forgot that you ALL are creating this reality. You have forgotten that you live in a vast tapestry that is constructed of over 7 billion spark-points that are all projecting their perception onto the illusion of your physical world. You have all done such a fine job of creating your reality that you have forgotten that your world is an illusion.

You forgot that if you turned your mind around you could see not the holographic picture that was created by each spark-point, but the matrix of your holographic screen. In fact, we ask you to NOW turn your mind around. Turn your emotions around. Turn your perceptions around. Place your attention and intention not on the tapestry of projected light, but on the light that is being projected out through your spark-point.

If you do so you will realize that YOU are each projectors of light. You are each movie cameras who are projecting your perceptions of reality onto the holographic tapestry of third dimensional reality. Each of you is projecting your individual experience of reality out through your individual portal, or spark-point, and onto the holographic screen of the third dimensional illusion. Then, somehow, you must each find a way to pull the over 7 billion different projections into some cohesive form of reality as you know it.

However, each of YOU only knows reality through your own, individual interpretation of a huge collage with over 7 billion pictures. Do you understand now why there are certain pictures that do not peacefully flow into the next picture? Do you realize now why certain pictures are very big, as that spark-point wants to dominate the holographic screen, while other pictures are very small, as some spark-points want to be as invisible as possible?

Not ONE of you is invisible to your higher expression of SELF. Not ONE of you is insignificant to your Multidimensional SELF. Your Multidimensional SELF does not exist within the holographic image that you have thought of as your reality. Your SELF flows within the matrix that is the foundation of the reality that you believe is "real." Your SELF knows that your reality is only a holographic projection and that only YOU are real.

You are real because YOU are the projection from your Multidimensional SELF. You do not know that you are a projection onto this huge "video game" because you have become lost in your avatar self, your individual holographic projection. You forgot that your spark-point is a window through which you can look into the hologram, a door through which you can join the video game.

Most important, you forgot that your spark-point determines what version of the game you are playing. When you "wake up" in the morning, you find yourself in the avatar body that you believe is your individual self. However, you forgot that this game is a collective game, and every single input into the game is displayed onto the holographic screen that you think is YOUR world.

Your embryo of SELF is the YOU who quietly whispers to your spark-point reminding you that you do not have to log into that holographic illusion. It is just a game. Do you want to be the one who plays the game and thinks it is real? Or, do you want to be your SELF? Your Multidimensional SELF is projecting its light through your spark-point to interact with and contribute to the tapestry of over 7 billion individual versions of the reality that is cast onto the holographic screen.

Ascension is not the video game, as this game is not real. Ascension is turning around inside your embryo of SELF to log into your Multidimensional SELF rather than the holographic game. What would that be like, you wonder? What would it be like to awaken one morning to find yourself logged into the holographic game and realize that the game is not real? At that point will you know that YOU are real? Will you know that the essence of each person, plant animal and planetary structure is real?

The multidimensional projector who sends its light into the matrix to be projected out through one of its myriad spark-points is real. However, each spark-point puts their personal perception of reality onto that light. All these projections, which adhere to the tapestry of over 7 billion experiences of reality, are a holograph. Do you want to be the projection of your version of reality, or do you want to be the multidimensional projector who projects the truth into the matrix?

What would you see if you turned around inside yourself to look not into the hologram, but into your multidimensional projector SELF? If you could BE your SELF, you could consciously project your light into the matrix and then consciously receive that multidimensional light and project it out through your spark-point.

We are aware that you are all very attached to your holographic game. In fact, we, your higher expressions of SELF, are also attached to this game. We want this game to have a happy ending as much as you do. However, we know that it is a game and that it is not REAL. We also know that each spark-point is only one of over 7 billion spark-points who are projecting their version of reality onto the holographic screen.

Most of these spark-points are projecting a version of reality based on third-dimensional illusions because they have not yet remembered that they are their SELF. Hence, they know only the reality that is projected onto the holographic screen. Therefore, they do not realize that they can log out of the game whenever they are tired of being an individual who is separate from over 7 billion other individuals. They do not know that they have played this game over and over and over and over. When the avatar self "dies," they finally get to log out of the game.

Fortunately many of you, our ascending ones, are projecting your multidimensional light and unconditional love into the game. You are very tired of this game; however, you do not want to lose the game. You do not want to abandon the game and let it crash. You want to win the game. You want to win the game by remembering that it is not real. You want to remember that YOU are the multidimensional projector of light and not just another individual spark-point who believes the game is real.

In other words, you want to be the embryo of your Multidimensional SELF. You want your embryo SELF to ascend into another magnificent expression of YOUR immense multidimensional light and unconditional love. Therefore, instead of logging back into the game each morning and forgetting your SELF, you want to start each morning's login by reminding your individual self that YOU are NOT the projection!

YOU are the multidimensional projector who consciously logs into the game, consciously puts on your avatar self and consciously remembers that YOU are the projector and NOT the projection. Now, we would like you to also remember that your projector SELF is one of our lower frequencies of expression. YOU are one of us, who are the galactics, celestials and ascended masters at a lower frequency of your Multidimensional SELF.

As your lower frequency of SELF, you have created and/or maintained an individual expression so that WE can log in to the Planet Earth Hologram. We, your higher SELF, want to win this game too. We do NOT want the game to end with our dark-side avatar self never awakening. We do NOT want to end this game with our ascending avatar dying before you live the glorious experience of planetary ascension.

We realize that you, our avatar selves, need our help. We understand now that we made the game too difficult. We created a game to see if beings could become totally separated into individuals, and still remember their higher expression of SELF. This game was too difficult for anyone to win because too many dark-ones decided to never remember their light. Therefore, we have made a holographic insert into our game to assist our spark-point's avatar self.

This holographic insert is the option for you to remember that YOU are OUR projection into the matrix. We realize that if you are to win this game, you will have to remember that you are a great multidimensional being. Therefore, if you can turn inside to consciously perceive our magnificent multidimensional light and unconditional love being projected into you, you can use your spark-point as a light portal through which YOU can be the projector of our higher light and love.

More and more of our spark-points have come to the final level of this game. This final level is known as "The Ascension Home." We want you to know that we are projecting as much of our collective light and love into YOU as you can tolerate. In this manner, we will be able to awaken the sleeping avatars, transform the dark-side avatars and bring your embryo of SELF into full awareness.

Dear ascending ones, do you understand now why you are so very tired and why you need so much sleep? Do you understand now why you are suffering so many symptoms of transformation (illness) and/or feel agitated, nervous, anxious and/or depressed? Your small, low frequency avatar body is being stressed to the maximum.

Fortunately YOU can merge into us, your higher expressions, to recharge and expand your consciousness so that you can consciously accept and project our multidimensional light and unconditional love into OUR shared game. Of course, ALL life is real. However, the illusion of life is not real because it is a distortion of energy patterns. These distorted energy patterns resonate to the very low frequency of the third and fourth dimensions.

On the other hand, with this new insert, we can project our multidimensional light and unconditional love into YOU, our embryos of SELF. Then you can project our light onto the 3D hologram. In this manner, you become a multidimensional projector of the highest frequencies of light, which is unconditional love. This projection of light and love into you, and then into the hologram, will increasingly transmute the illusion of separation and polarity into the truth of unity and oneness.

We end this transmission by reminding you to remain conscious of what you project into the hologram. You are our representatives and have the innate ability to transmute illusion into Truth. Thus, when you awaken in the morning, please take a moment to consciously remember who you really are! Carry this remembrance throughout your day. Then, when you “fall asleep,” you log out of the 3D Game and can return Home to us.

Blessings from the Arcturians and ALL your Higher Expressions of SELF

Swirling Patterns of Light

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Mytria and I had quietly listened to the Arcturian's latest "Transmission to Earth." We realized that this message also meant that we would soon be bi-locating to the timeline of our Pleiadian ascension. Mytria had been telling me about that timeline, as I had forgotten it. Actually, I had forgotten that timeline because it was too painful to think about while I was so far away from my home.

However, as Mytria filled me in on how I, too, participated in that reality, the old guilt that I had carried was completely released. Of course, just as I finished that thought, the transmission ended and the Arcturian turned around to address us.

"We are pleased that you understood how this message applied to you as well," the Arcturian telepathically said with that glint in its aura. I was beginning to interpret a form of emotion that is transmitted by our dear friend, not through facial expressions but through fluctuation in its aura.

"Yes," the Arcturian again responded to my thoughts. "You are realizing that all life is, indeed, an energy field. Some life is encompassed by a lower dimensional holographic encasement. However, once returning into the higher dimensions, the restrictions of form are instantly replaced with the freedom of a mutable lightbody.

"Here on the fifth-dimensional frequency of the Mothership, there is little differentiation between physical form and lightbody, as they constantly intermingle. However, in the higher frequencies of the ship, we fully relax into our myriad multidimensional expressions. Much as you and Mytria take off your uniforms and relax into something more comfortable, we relax into our lightbody, or even our pure essence.

"Since we meet with many Beings, cultures, and frequencies of form, we usually wear a body when we are interacting with our visitors. Of course, there are some visitors who never enter the fifth-dimensional level of our Ship, and go directly into the higher frequency levels to which they are better suited. Since you and Mytria are about to engage with the ascending humans, as well as the ascension timeline of your own society, you will usually be wearing your humanoid body.

"Are the two of you ready for bi-location to your Pleiadian reality?"

I looked at Mytria encouraging her to comment first. She responded by saying,

"Yes, I feel completely prepared for this adventure. In fact, within my memory I have two versions of our ascension. In one of these versions, I am alone as Mytre is here on the ship, and in the other version, Mytre and I are together. I have been telling Mytre about this second version, but I would like to ask you, dear Arcturian, to explain to me a bit more about all these parallel realities."

"Will we now create another reality in which Mytre and I are together during our ascension? Also, will this reality of our being together during the ascension somehow supersede or rewrite the other parallel realities? I must admit that I am still a bit confused by the concept of parallel and alternate realities."

"Dear Mytria," spoke the Arcturian, "the concept of multiple realities is, indeed, confusing to those who still hold a form. While wearing a form you are inclined to want to encase your experiences in pictures, which you can order within your brain. However, when you are formless, you no longer have any specific areas of your body, nor do you have a body in which to archive certain pictures, actions, thoughts and/or emotions.

"While free of form, you experience your Beingness as a swirling energy pattern in constant motion infinitely intermingling with other swirling patterns of energy. Hence, pictures, sensations and orders of occurrence are no longer a component of your belief system. Since you concurrently experience myriad experiences and sensations of the many energy patterns with whom you constantly interact, you live in unity consciousness with a myriad of differing, yet intertwined versions of reality within the NOW of the ONE.

"Until you have experienced your SELF as a swirling vortex of energy, the concepts of multiple, parallel and/or alternate realities will be just beyond your complete understanding. At the same time, allowing these concepts to slowly integrate into your thoughts and emotions is an important final stage of merging with your higher expressions of SELF. When you and Mytre are assisting with both the Pleiadian and the Earth ascending ones, you will be asked the same question that you are asking us now.

"Thus, we will model for you an answer similar to one that you will give. Please realize all Beings who resonate to the higher sub-planes of the fifth dimension and beyond, perceive your lightbody more clearly than your form. In fact, your form appears to us as a core within the light. This core is of the same form as the body that you believe encases your light. However, in reality it is your multidimensional light that encases your form. You will soon have that same perception.

"YOU may need many experiences of your true SELF before you become accustomed to seeing your higher expression of SELF more clearly than your physical core. In fact, you will not become accustomed to that vision until you are fully accustomed to identifying your 'SELF' not as your lowest frequency physical core, but instead as your higher dimensional lightbody that emanates from and surrounds that physical core.

"You will also realize that your lightbody does have a semblance of the form of your lower frequency body, whereas your true SELF is a swirling pattern of light. We recommend that both of you begin to be consciously aware that your humanoid form is merely a core that will be unnecessary in the higher frequencies of your reality.

"The physical core that you will wear on the ascending worlds, as well as the lower fifth dimensional form that you wear on the ship, are both within your lightbody. Hence, you can store them there to wear whenever you need them. Furthermore, soon you will be storing your lightbody within your swirling pattern of light. Thus, your many frequencies of SELF are stored within your swirling energy patterns, which are infinitely stored within the ONE.

"We, the multidimensional beings of the Mothership, discovered that if we did not step-down the frequency of our resonance and wear a form, many of our visitors could not relate to us. Hence, we have learned to read the expectations of our visitors, and create an image that would be comforting to them. You and Mytre have escalated your frequency more than you realize. Hence, you will have to remember to create images of yourselves, and/or your joint image of fully merged Divine Complements, to which the ascending ones relate.

"We will now guide you through an exercise by first being your example. You are accustomed to perceiving us in our lightbody form, which has a semblance of a humanoid form. Watch now as we release that illusion and present our true form."

Mytria and I watched in wonder while the illusion of the Arcturian humanoid form began to unravel into an ever-expanding vortex of light. At first the vortex was only a bit larger than the former form, but it increasingly grew larger and larger. Before we realized it, Mytria and I were completely encompassed by the Arcturian's swirling pattern of light.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to convey the sensation of being inside of the Arcturian. I once had that experience while the Arcturian wore its lightbody. However, even though its lightbody was of such a high frequency that it took my breath away. That experience was mild compared to this one.

Mytria and I instinctively held hands to double our grounding force, as well as to assist each other to remain conscious. This energy field was so very high that we were concerned that it would short-circuit our neural patterns. Fortunately with that thought, the Arcturian lowered its resonance just enough so that what was beginning to feel like we were disappearing, slowly took on a feeling of unconditional love and total bliss.

We were in complete unity, not just with the Arcturian, but with the Mothership as well. We felt absolute unity with every element of life on the ship. As our experience began to expand into the higher frequencies of the ship, I became concerned for Mytria. Fortunately, within our total unity, she felt my concern and reminded me that she had experienced being in the swirling form of a planet. In fact, as she sent me that thought I completely felt her experience of being a planet.

I could feel the Arcturian guiding me to surrender into that feeling. Instantly, I WAS our Pleiadian planet. In fact, I felt my impression of being the planet simultaneously with Mytria's impressions. Within the same moment, I was also the entire Mothership. The frequencies of the Mothership that I could barely tolerate before, now felt warm and embracing.

I could also feel how Mytria's consciousness of swirling energy was of a slightly different tone and hue than mine. Within the same NOW, I could feel how the Arcturian's experience of being the planet was very different from Mytria's and my experience, yet augmented them both. At first I was confused by the myriad stimuli and was beginning to "fall out of the experience." However, Mytria projected her familiar reassuring energy into me, which instantly grounded me and allowed me to LET GO into the flow.

As soon as I released my old warrior suspicion and defense mechanism, I began to relax into the flow. It was then that I began to fully feel my own swirling energy patterns. Then, I could simultaneously feel Mytria's swirling pattern and that of the Arcturian. They were different, but blended into a beautiful tapestry of light. Within the NOW of the ONE, we were all unique expressions of the grand unity of life.

I discovered that once I totally surrendered into my own energy, there was a quantum jump in my sensation of sharing two other experiences. Once I had released my concern that I would become lost within the others, instantly there were NO others. There was only ONE expression of "WE." We were completely intermingled into ONE, yet WE were fully aware of each of our divine sparks, from which the swirling patterns of light originated.

Within exact unity, Mytria and I simultaneously knew every aspect of parallel and alternate realities. We knew this because WE were the living possibility of every decision made manifest by our actions. We knew this because we were all the living alternate expressions of SELF in every reality. With this realization, our experience slowly came to its conclusion.

Together, we observed as our vast swirling energy patterns coiled back into our lightbody. We then experienced how our lightbody slowly constrained itself back into the lower, fifth dimensional form to which we had been limiting our sense of SELF.

As the holosuite came back into focus, we felt the Arcturian whisper into our heart-mind, "We are so pleased to have shared this experience with you. Soon, you will share it with others."

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section IX

A New World

Reality and State of Consciousness

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Mytria and I arrived at our next meeting in the holosuite wearing our lower-fifth dimensional Pleiadian bodies. The Arcturian was more than ready for us and instantly said,

"Have you learned from your expanded SELF that reality is relative to your state of consciousness? You may have thought that you needed time and space to put it all together, but now you have experienced the fact that time and space morph and shift with each plane and sub-plane of every dimension. Hence, each reality presents its specific version of time and space according to its resonance and according to your state of consciousness.

"Therefore, in order to grasp an all-encompassing version of reality, you will need to expand your consciousness beyond the need for form. This expansion of consciousness beyond even the form of lightbody is what you experienced in our last meeting. It is only through a formless state of consciousness that you can clearly perceive that time and space are specific to each version and frequency of reality.

"We ask you to again expand your consciousness into your true, formless state of swirling energy. You will find that the more you have this experience, the easier it will be to understand it. Hence, we ask that you again surrender into the swirling pattern of light expression of your SELF. Remember that this expression of SELF is the predecessor of your current expression. Thus, you are not creating this version of your SELF. Instead, you are acknowledging that this YOU infinitely exists and is always available for you to surrender INTO. Therefore, let us now return to our swirling patterns of light."

Mytria and I again observed as the Arcturian released its translucent shell and returned to its true expression. Again, like two small clouds blending into one larger cloud we were quickly absorbed into the Arcturian's energy field. At first we only experienced the Arcturian's energy, but soon we could feel our own swirling energy patterns. Mytria and I were so completely linked that I can speak of her experience as if it were my own. This time I realized that Mytria and I had very similar, yet slightly different energy patterns.

"Your energies are so similar because you are Divine Complements. Hence, each of your patterns augments that of your Complement's," the Arcturian telepathically responded to my observation. "In fact, as you become accustomed to this expression of your beingness, you will realize that every being's pattern is slightly different. This phenomenon is similar to earthly snowflakes. However, the difference between each snowflake is not evident until they are observed on an atomic level.

"We of the worlds beyond form can perceive the minute differences between our friends and companions within the ONE because our perceptions are both multidimensional and quantum. Hence, we can perceive into the quantum world, as well as the source worlds of the eleventh and twelfth dimensions. However, just as you must expand your consciousness to perceive our world, we must expand our consciousness to perceive the source worlds.

"We would like to display for you a picture of how your entire galaxy, as well as other surrounding galaxies, is expanding into higher expressions. These galaxies are advancing their primary state of consciousness into the higher fifth dimension and beyond. This expansion allows all the higher expressions of reality to also advance into higher frequencies, as well. For example, we Arcturians who have primarily resonated to the eighth through tenth dimensions are expanding our primary resonance into the source of the eleventh and twelfth dimensions.

"We are all shifting into higher expressions of our SELF. Just as you can also maintain a physical form while your primary resonance is the mid-and-higher fifth dimension, we Arcturians can still commune with our ascended ones from the eleventh through twelfth dimensions. However, you will eventually release most of your attention from the third and fourth dimensions, and we will gradually diminish our attentiveness to beings in the fourth and lower fifth dimensions. "

As I was receiving the Arcturians message, I could feel Mytria and me blending completely into ONE energy pattern of swirling light. We each had our own divine spark, much like the proton and the electron of an atom, but WE were fully merged into one "atom." It was very comforting to feel how our feminine energy intermingled completely with our masculine energy. In fact, we experienced our SELF as being androgynous with perfect balance between our inflow/feminine and outflow/masculine expressions.

As ONE Being we observed as infinite swirling lights entered our perception. They were all ONE with us and with each other, yet each swirl had its own divine spark. As we communed with these swirling Beings we felt a sensation of ever-escalating expansion, as the swirls, including our own, extended their energy field into higher and higher frequencies of reality.

Within the NOW of the ONE we extended our consciousness into realities that were far beyond our former perceptions. Yet, all these realities had specific expressions of cosmic life. We were amazed at the variety of creation that lived beyond the conceptualizations of a being encompassed by form. We tried to remember every world that flowed around and even through us. However, we knew that a brain or even a mind could not contain this information.

Instinctively we knew that we could only partake in this emergence of variation within unity and inspired manifestations of life while in this state of consciousness. We now understood what the Arcturian had said about time and space, as it did not exist within this resonance. There was only the infinite NOW and the sensation of HERE. We had no desire body to want change, yet all life wafted in and out of differing patterns of light.

Each pattern created a unique sensation, which we knew would have short-circuited our body if we had been wearing one. We had no curiosity or questions, as within our ever-changing swirl every question was answered before we could ask it. We flowed through different energy fields as they flowed through us. Just as the Arcturian had said, each swirl of energy had a signature frequency that always felt familiar.

Then, suddenly our swirl began to move away, and we knew that the Arcturian was teaching us a more advanced form of bi-location. Thus we settled into the movement, which was simultaneously the stillness. Within this state of consciousness, all polarities were united into ONE, and we could simultaneously live every alternative and parallel choice. Through this experience we came to realize the true meaning of the ONE, and knew that the Oneness was completely natural and totally normal.

All of our old conceptions of reality were being released into a cohesive package of KNOWING. The sensations of bliss and unconditional love continuously flowed through our beingness. Whenever a surge of bliss, love and total illumination began to subside, a new swell would move into our consciousness like a wave on a planetary beach.

I thought of a world of form, and with that thought we began to come down from the heights beyond heights. Mytria and I slowly flowed into two, yet totally connected expressions of our one SELF. I heard my "I statement" and instantly missed being "we." I felt Mytria's agreement, but we both knew that we could no longer maintain that resonance.

"Yes," spoke the Arcturian "That is enough for now. We suggest that you go back to your quarters and meditate together. In this manner, you can assist each other to deeply understand your joint experience." With the close of that short communication, the Arcturian beamed away, likely back to its true Swirling Energy of SELF.

Mytria and I, now expressed as two separate humanoid bodies, decided to take the long walk back to our quarters. We both knew that we needed to get grounded. In fact, we even stopped at the group mess hall, thinking that a hot drink and some food might make it easier to accept that we were again limited to a seemingly old fashioned model of our SELF.

We both smiled at that description of what we once thought of as a very sleek lower-fifth dimensional form. As we walked up to the door to the mess hall, we realized how one experience could change the way we thought about everything in our life. Coming to a familiar place and greeting our friends was exactly what we needed.

In fact, we spent the remainder of that "day" enjoying the camaraderie of people with whom we had shared many experiences. In fact as we were leaving, a large group of friends from a Pleiadian convoy entered the mess hall. Of course we had to visit with them, too, so we drank Pleiadian tea and a drink much like human's beer late into the night.

Finally, Mytria and I returned to our quarters wondering about the amazing

"coincidence" that our friends would arrive just before our mission to the timeline of the ascending Pleiades. Did the Arcturian know about this, we wondered? Of course, we smiled. Was there anything that the Arcturian did not know? Laughing, we shed our uniforms and slipped into our bed. We went straight to sleep and immediately entered a dream; or was it a different reality?

We both blinked our eyes, wondering if we were sharing a dream or another inter-dimensional adventure. "Is there a difference?" we thought simultaneously, then looked at each other and laughed. Since our blending into ONE consciousness, we often had the exact thought at the same time. It appeared that our blending into ONE consciousness was a predecessor to blending into ONE form.

Either way, we found ourselves in a reality that was totally unfamiliar. It was as if this reality was "in-between" where we were and where we were going. It was denser than the Akashic Membrane, but largely without form. "This is a bit disconcerting," I complained. "I wish there was some differentiation between land and sky."

Instantly, a distant horizon appeared and a cloud-filled sky was above us. Mytria looked at me with a twinkle in her eye and said, "I wish there was a huge tree with a still pond just before it." Immediately, a tree and pond appeared before us. We walked over to the tree and found that it was dense to the touch with a rough surface. In fact, we both got sticky sap on our fingers. We went to the still pond to wash our hands and found the water warm and very inviting.

Within the same moment, we both jumped into the pool. Indeed, the water had a glorious feeling. We both had the impression that we could breathe this water, so I tried it first and found it very enjoyable. Then, Mytria began to breathe the water as well, and smiled at the experience. We did not try to talk underwater because the water seemed to create an intense telepathic link between us.

This link was so strong that when Mytria mused, "I wonder where we are?" the very water seemed to answer, "You are here, within our forming reality. We are a reality that is in the process of being created. Hence, all of us elementals are awaiting the thoughts of a Core Being to create a matrix upon which we can blend our forms."

"A Core Being?" Mytria and I both queried.

"Oh yes," explained the water, "A Core Being is a being from Source. We are aware that we elementals are components of Source, but we cannot remember coming from Source. We recognized your swirling energy patterns and knew that you have newly arrived from Source."

Mytria and I looked at each other in surprise. Is that what we had experienced? Had we actually experienced a connection with Source? However, there was no answer as the water elemental was asking us to go out and create a matrix for the earth, fire and air elementals.

"We have been waiting for Beings such as you," said the water elemental. We have been sent to assist with the formation of a new reality. We feel very honored to have been chosen to work in co-operation with the Core Beings to create a new world."

Q and A with the Arcturian

MYTRE SPEAKS:

This time when Mytria and I entered our holoschool, we saw the Arcturian again in front of the "Transmissions to Earth Screen," which appears more like a membrane. The screen revealed a group of earthlings who we instantly recognized by their energy fields as Pleiadian and Arcturian in nature. However, they were all wearing their human earth vessels. We could see their third dimensional bodies sitting in a circle, as well as their higher fourth dimensional bodies with whom the Arcturian would be communicating.

The standing ascending one was actually the Earth expression of one of our friends with whom we had laughed just last night. Or, perhaps that was a lifetime ago? We felt such joy that our friend's grounded expression was able to communicate directly with an Arcturian.

"Dear Arcturians," asked our friend in a human disguise, "We have some questions to ask you. However, first we want to thank you for all the assistance you have given us. We do not know how we would have tolerated third dimensional reality without your guidance."

"Dear Ascending ONE," spoke the Arcturian, "We want you all to know that we, your galactic family, are YOU. Hence, there is no question of whether or not we would be of assistance. When you merged your great essence with the earthly expression of your Self, we promised that we would help you.

"We assured you that we would call you as soon as your consciousness was expanded enough for you to hear us. Your answer to our call set your life into a completely different direction. In actuality your answer to us, your higher expression, set you onto a new path of reality.

"There are many paths of reality, and the smoothest path is the one forged by your higher expressions of SELF. In this manner you, the grounded ascending ones, can always have access to the higher perspective of your journey. Within this higher perspective is a direct line of communication between the YOU who has volunteered to enter Earth during this timeline of planetary ascension and the YOU who is a higher expression of your SELF. With meditation and practice, the link between you and your higher expressions of SELF will become a constant source of support and guidance.

“Dear Ascending Ones, would you like to ask your first question?”

Another person stood, who was an old friend from our Homeworld. We so wanted to say hello to her, but her human expression could see only a very vague image of the Arcturian.

“Dear Arcturian, I am so happy to speak with you. I have been chosen to speak for all of us. We have several questions that we would like to ask. For starters, we would like to know why we have been feeling so very tired. We know that this fatigue must be another symptom of transmutation, but more information would be greatly helpful.”

The Arcturian warmly replied, “We are equally pleased to speak directly with one of our ascending family members. We understand the difficulty of limiting your immense Being within a small earth vessel. Your fatigue is largely because your consciousness operates at a much faster rate than your physical earth vessel.

“Often your earth vessel appears to be completely still while your consciousness is processing realities that are invisible to the senses of your 3D Vessel. This condition is much like keeping your car in neutral while you press down the accelerator. The car is ready to go, but you are not in a gear for movement.

“Your earth vessel is much like an automobile. This auto has a 3D body and operating system that is in the process of adding a new computer program. However, your 3D vessel is unable to read this new operating system. Largely computers run the newer cars, but you cannot ‘trade in’ your current vehicle.

“Hence, you must find a way to convert your old car into a format in which it can respond to the directions of your new computer system. This transition of operating systems causes great fatigue for your 3D earth vessel. The fact is that there are inherent limitations in your physical form that will never be able to read all the information that is now available to your consciousness.

“Therefore, your brain is working overtime attempting to make sense of information that is entering your consciousness via the new operating system. However, due to the inherent flaws of your earth vessel, this system cannot be totally connected to the body you are wearing. For this reason, it is best to allow your grounded self to relax into the guidance of your higher expression of SELF. Then your higher expression can tow your earth vessel. All you need to do is to put your vessel/car in neutral and make sure the brake is off.

“Fear is your braking system. If you try to surrender into the guidance of your SELF, but your ego puts the brakes on with its fear, the resistance will create great fatigue. However, we are NOT saying that all your fatigue is due to this dynamic. There are many of our ascending ones who have gained great mastery of their fear, but their earth vessel is simply not equipped to move as fast as their minds.

“The consciousness of these ascending ones is hungrily accepting the higher cosmic light and speeding into higher and higher frequencies of reality. However, they are still anchored to the physical realm. Hence their mind, which has accepted the guidance of their higher consciousness, is ‘pulling on a boat that is still attached to the dock.’

“Therefore, fatigue arises from the constant resistance of your body that cannot accept the acceleration of your consciousness. Fortunately, your bodies are also going through a transmutations process, but the physicality of the body creates a much slower transition than the flexibility of the consciousness.

“This situation is more difficult for the ascending ones wearing an older model of earth vessel. Fortunately, the extended years on Earth have awakened enough wisdom that these ascending ones do not judge their body and allow it adequate rest. The ascending ones who entered their earth vessels decades ago have also had the challenge of many, many years in which they had to keep their true SELF a secret.

“Consequently, the constant constraint of one’s true expression often causes physical conditions that force the older version of the earth vessel to move more slowly. Fortunately, patience is often gained through decades of experience. Furthermore, the guidance of their higher expression has often led them into a reality in which their responsibilities to the 3D illusion are greatly diminished. Hence, they can take on their well-earned status of mentors.

“Furthermore, these mentors’ wisdom has taught them to unconditionally love themselves so that they can more easily and completely unconditionally love others. This freedom from judgment regarding the age of their current vessel allows them to make the appropriate decisions regarding the care and maintenance of a ‘vintage vehicle.’

“On the other hand, our galactic family is entering more young earth vessels. These infants, children and teens have instincts that allow them to access many of their innate, multidimensional abilities and information. These young ascending ones are too often born to parents who cannot understand or assist them. However, as your society continues to awaken there will be more support for these ascending members of ascending Earth. These ‘children’ will be the leaders of your new reality.

“Would like to ask us another question?”

“Thank you so much dear Arcturian,” said the spokesperson. “Yes, we would like to ask you about the dizziness that many of us have been experiencing. Is that dizziness another symptom of transformation?”

“Yes,” answered the Arcturian, “Dizziness is another symptom of transmutation, but it is because of a slightly different reason. The dizziness you are experiencing is because you are beginning to consciously experience more than one reality at a time. In fact, ‘time’ has shifted from an element of stability and structure in your life into yet another changing dynamic, to cause even further confusion. You are confused about the erratic nature of time and about the myriad thoughts, sensations, pictures and/or memories that waft in and out of your mind.

“Those of you who have created a solid link between your current earth vessel and a guide or higher frequencies of expression of your Multidimensional SELF often have less confusion, but more dizziness. In this case, the dizziness comes from that fact that you are currently running two diametrically opposed operating systems. Your third dimensional operating system is telling you that you are limited to your clay shell, that there is only one reality.

“In fact, your third dimensional system tells you that you are “hallucinating” if you are experiencing a different reality. This old system tells you to ignore those stimuli, as it is NOT real. Only that which you perceive with your five physical senses is real, and everything else is just your imagination. At the same time, your multidimensional operating system is telling you that everything that you perceive with your five physical senses is an illusion and only your imagination is REAL.

“Meanwhile, the circuitry of your physical brain is overloaded with conflicting information and too much stimuli to effectively compute. Your brain is like a computer in which you have opened too many windows and now the entire system is freezing up. Whereas your computer would likely stop functioning, your brain makes you feel dizzy.

“Is the outside world real, or the inside world real? Is that memory or passing vision from the corner of your eye real, or the clear vision in front of you real? What is real? To what can you attach your anchor and your sense of SELF? These questions confuse your 3D brain even further. Your overloaded brain desperately tries to separate and sequentially file multidimensional sensations that are neither separate nor sequential.

“Hence, your mind begins to spin and you feel dizzy. The solution to this issue is to fully download and integrate your multidimensional operating system. However, in order to do so you will have to ‘upgrade’ your biological computer by bringing the 97% ascension DNA fully online. Many of you have already completed this upgrade.

“However, once the ascension DNA is fully operational you have an even greater challenge, which is connecting this 97% ascension DNA with your 3% earth vessel DNA. This process is the cause of the greatest dizziness because you have to connect two totally opposite systems of operation.

“Your human brain tells you that:

- ALL life is outside of your body
- Everything is separate from everything else
- Your imagination is not real
- You must work very hard and long to create anything
- You are better or worse than others
- Time rules your world
- You cannot go faster than the speed of light, etc. etc. etc...

“On the other hand, your multidimensional operating system tells you that:

- Life is everywhere and infinite
- You are all ONE
- Surrender into that which you wish to create
- Your imagination is fifth dimensional thinking
- You are ALL equal, multidimensional Beings
- Time and space are an illusion of the physical world, etc. etc. etc...

“Attempting to contain so many opposite and opposing concepts and versions of reality makes you lose your external focus. Do you remember when you were a child and you would spin yourselves around again and again until you were so dizzy that you fell down? You became dizzy because your external touchstone was gone. You were like a dancer who goes into a spin without maintaining their ‘spot.’

“Just as a car may sputter and stop, your biological brain spins and shuts down. To deal with this dynamic, your body becomes “sick” to create a good reason for your dizziness. Then you go to bed and go to sleep, which is a very good solution. While you are adding a new operation system to your computer, you cannot open any programs or do anything with the computer.

“You have to wait until the new system is totally downloaded. Then, when you restart your computer it appears to be much the same. However, there are subtle differences that you do not recognize until you use your computer. Your brain is a biological computer and runs in a very similar fashion.

“Many of you are trying to download a new quantum operating system into an old computer. For this download, you will definitely need the assistance of your higher expressions of SELF. Your higher expressions are your guidebook. They will assist you to understand your new version of SELF, just as we will.

“Do you have a final question for us?”

This time the group conferred before the spokesperson again stood to speak, “Thank you for your information. It appears to us that the greatest challenge of all would be to somehow connect the advanced operating system of our Multidimensional SELF with our third-dimensional thinking. Is this similar to connecting our third/fourth dimensional reality to the fifth dimensional world of New Earth?”

Mytria and I wondered if the small group would catch the glint in the Arcturian’s aura which had become so familiar to us, as it said, “You are very correct. Your consciousness and more of your reality than you realize is already fifth dimensional. However, you cannot compute much of the higher stimuli that fills your new world because your 3D brain cannot yet recognize this data.

“Your 3D brain is simply refusing to accept these perceptions as real. Hence, they never travel through the reticular system of your brain. The neural network of your reticular system acts as a ‘firewall’ that screens out data that your ego self deems is unimportant. On the other hand, once your multidimensional operating system is fully online your Multidimensional SELF will determine what information is important. Then you will be able to consciously perceive, integrate and understand how much your reality really has changed.

“If you can believe in your SELF, as well as any stimuli which activate the feeling of unconditional love and/or joy, you will gradually calibrate your primary perception to the higher frequencies of reality. However, remember that your physical sensations of hearing, vision, touch, smell and taste will not be adequate to fully register higher dimensional sensations. You will have to trust what you THINK you hear, see, touch, smell and taste.

“You are accustomed to sensations and information coming from the outside of you, such as through your eyes or ears. When you perceive the higher frequencies of reality, you will perceive them from within your core. To best understand this multidimensional information we suggest that you run these perceptions through your High Heart and Third Eye. Your High heart and Third Eye are your heart-mind, which is your primary sensory receptor and processor of multidimensional input.

“Also, remember that you will not experience the fifth dimension in the same manner that you interact with your physical world or even your fourth dimensional dream world. Your sense of touch will be attuned to experience auras, as will your vision, hearing and even your smell, all will respond to the more ethereal messages. You will not experience hard edges, spaces of separation or any fear-based emotions.

“We have given you enough information for now. However, please remember that your new realities will appear different. If you had lived near the ocean all of your life and then moved to the desert, you would have many new sensations to compute. Therefore, can you imagine how many more new sensations you will experience when you resonate to a new reality of a different dimension?

“Fortunately, more and more of you will be sharing this journey, so please remember to create groups in which you feel safe enough to share and discuss your new experiences of reality. Most of all, please remember that you are NOT alone for we, your higher expressions of SELF, are always with you.

“We close this communication, but please know that you can personally continue it within your higher states of consciousness.

Blessings to you all,

We are the Arcturians”

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section X

Our Next Assignment

Our Final Briefing

MYTRE SPEAKS:

Mytria and I both were experiencing a strange sadness before our meeting this time. We walked to the Holosuite to soak in each lovely memory of the times we had shared there with the Arcturian. We did not know why we felt sad, but we had a sense of something changing. We even gave each other a long hug before we entered our holoschool. The reason for our feelings became evident when the Arcturians greeted us by saying,

“Our dear friends Mytria and Mytre, you are coming to the culmination of your training period. Hence, there is some information that we wish to impart before you bi-locate to the Pleiadian and Earth ascending worlds. First, you will visit Earth. Then eventually you will also bi-locate to your Pleiadian Homeworld’s ascension timeline. Even though these two realities resonate to very different timelines, you will find many similarities.

“Just as we have spoken to the ascending ones about having to connect their third/fourth dimensional self with their fifth dimensional SELF, you will need to connect your fifth dimensional SELF with your third/fourth dimensional self. We, the formless ones, are asking those who are more accustomed to wearing a form to interface with the higher, formless realities and lower realities of form.

“We ask you to observe as we give our transmission. We will be telling our guests about their lightbody. Since you will be doing much of your work via your lightbody, we ask you to observe our transmission. What we will be saying is similar to what you will also be sharing with Earth’s ascending ones.”

As the Arcturian communed with us there seemed to be something akin to sadness in its communication. Would the Arcturian miss us as much as we would miss it?

The Arcturian chose not to answer my unspoken question and turned toward the transmission screen to address the guests.

“Welcome. We on the Mothership are greatly pleased that you could tune into our transmission. During this visit, we will address the topic of your lightbody. The expression of your Multidimensional SELF that serves as the interface between your Multidimensional SELF and your earth vessel is your lightbody. Your lightbody connects the physical body with the higher expressions of SELF.

“The physical body is NOT capable of accepting the full download of your Multidimensional SELF. Fortunately, your lightbody serves as the buffer and connecting energy field between your physical body and your higher dimensional expressions. The fourth dimension is an etheric interface between the third dimension and the higher worlds, but it is too riddled with polarity and fear to effectively connect the third dimension with the higher worlds.

“However, your lightbody can easily move through the fourth dimension and directly connect the fifth-dimensional realms with your physical body. Still, there is often the sensation of crossing many voids as your Multidimensional SELF extends your lightbody down from the higher worlds, through the fourth dimension and into your earth vessel.

“These voids are actually initiations to assist you to release yet another component of your ego from your fourth, then third dimensional aura. Sometimes, these initiations are primarily experienced in your body, other times in your mind, your emotions or even your spiritual life. These initiations occur because you are bending down to jump higher. In other words, you are clearing out old anchors of fear so that you can more easily soar into the higher worlds.

“Another challenge/initiation that occurs when your lightbody is fully connected to your earth vessel is that you will likely experience great perceptual confusion. When your fifth dimensional senses begin to overtake your physical senses, you may perceive both frequencies but in a jumbled and confusing manner.

“However, with practice you will be able to discern the difference between the physically based input and the higher dimensional input. Then, by constantly choosing to attend to your higher dimensional input, you are consciously choosing to release your physical world and attach your attention to the higher frequency of reality.

“Please remember, the reality that you choose to perceive is the reality that you choose to live. Therefore, you are creating your own reality by the choices you make about the frequency of stimuli to which you attend. As you remember that you have the power to make this choice and the wisdom to primarily focus on that which feels like love, your formerly unconscious ascension process becomes conscious.

“Your ability to make a conscious perceptual choice is also an antidote to fear. If you are consistently conscious of the fact that you have a choice about what you wish to perceive, you will fully realize that that YOU are creating your reality. Additionally, if you are in constant contact with your higher expression, you will be able to ask questions in order to clarify your process.

“The ascension process may seem very unique to your human self, but it is common for your higher expression. Once you surrender your ascension to your higher expression, the ego’s firewall of the reticular formation within your physical brain will be superimposed with the “spiritual screening system” of your higher expression. Once you process data through your spiritual perception, you will be able to easily discern which physical communications are important enough for your attention.

“In this manner, you can relax into the process of recalibrating your attention away from the myriad illusions of the 3D and onto the truths of your ascending reality. When you surrender to your SELF, you can relax into the knowledge that if there is a physical message to which you must attend, such as driving your car, paying a bill on time, or answering the phone for an important call, your ego can remain relaxed as your higher expression is on duty.

“This type of working relationship with your SELF is the most important preparation for living in a fifth dimensional reality. When you live in a higher reality in which your every thought and emotion instantly becomes manifest, it is vital that your internal filtering system filters OUT any thoughts or emotions which you do not wish to manifest.

“During your long sojourn into the worlds of matter, you have allowed your emotions and thoughts to focus on fear. Fear is a necessary component for survival in the lower worlds as power over others is the dominant form of behavior. Also, many humans have completely lost their connection to the Great Mother.

“When your society was in touch with Mother Earth, you could determine the weather, co-exist with the animals and know which plants to eat. However, now many humans perceive nature as dangerous. This danger does not exist in the higher frequencies of reality in which people and planet are ONE Being and power within is the only operating system.

“In a higher dimensional reality, if you are afraid or think that someone or something would harm you your consciousness instantly drops back down into the fourth dimension. Your state of consciousness determines your perceptions and the reality you perceive is the reality you live. Hence, when your consciousness drops below the resonance of the fifth dimension, you can no longer perceive or live within that higher frequency of reality.

“Fortunately, your Multidimensional SELF is similar to a huge energetic ladder that your consciousness can climb to interact with different frequencies of reality. Thus, you do not need to become better or more deserving to enter a higher frequency of reality. You only need to attune your consciousness with the appropriate resonance of your Multidimensional SELF to be able to perceive and interact with that frequency of reality.

“We, the galactic representatives of your own higher expressions, are very pleased to be able to speak with you directly. We know that your grounded expression may not remember that you are visiting with us. Luckily, some of the messages that YOU are receiving will bleed through from this frequency of your SELF and into your physical consciousness.

“If your physical self can remember, feel, imagine or picture any part of our messages, it will greatly change your decision-making in daily life. The single act of checking with your higher expression of SELF rather than your ego self, before you make decisions will greatly alter your physical reality.

“When you check in with your ego self, it does its job perfectly. It tells you that you need to be careful, that many possible problems may arise and that many persons, places or situations may be dangerous. This does not make your ego self a negative force in your life. Your ego self is just doing its job of keeping you safe. Since your ego self can ONLY perceive the physical reality, it can find myriad possible dangers about which you need to be warned.

“Your ego is incapable of knowing that what you focus on is what you manifest. Ego does not realize that it is actually creating the very situations that it is warning you to avoid. It is true that naivety can be dangerous in the physical world, but only if you are NOT connected to your higher expression.

“Your higher expression can see any possible harm even more clearly than your ego. However instead of saying, “LOOK OUT,” which only creates the very fear that you are in danger of attracting, your higher expression simply guides you away from that possible reality by revealing a higher resonance of choice.

“This higher resonance of choice is your protection because it keeps your thoughts and emotions in a frequency that pulls your energy field above any interaction with any fear-based, possible reality. However, there is one issue that is often confusing to our ascending ones. This is the issue of clearing old darkness. There are some times in your physical life in which you are ready to clear old darkness/fear from your consciousness.

“During these times you may experience a bad thing happening. This does not mean that your higher expression has been slacking from its duty. No, this event is one that you cannot go over, under or around because it is an important initiation. In other words, this ‘problem’ is actually an initiation that you chose before your present incarnation.

“These initiations are not enjoyable, but they represent that you are ready to move into a higher resonance of reality. You can take a great deal of time going through this challenge, or you can surrender to the ONE and allow your divine guidance to steer you through the parting seas. Then, you can get on with the important business of personal and planetary ascension.

“We, the members of the Arcturian Mothership, are joyous that you have joined us. We now complete this transmission and ask only that you try to remember our words and use them in your daily life.

Blessings to you all. We, the Arcturians, will return.”

At this point the screen disappeared, and the Arcturian turned to address Mytria, and me.

“Beloved students and emissaries of ascension, we are fully confident that you are ready for your mission. However, many of us have previously lowered our consciousness enough to participate in the world of humanity and have become lost in that process. Thus, we invited you to attend this transmission, so that you could receive these important tools for visiting a third/fourth dimensional world.

“Because your appearance is quite human, you will spend some of your time walking among the ascending ones. You will easily see their higher expression of whom they may appear completely unaware. One of your primary challenges will be to allow each human to come into awareness within their own ascension schedule. Remember to live within the flow of unconditional love and send that love to everyone with whom you come into contact. Most important, remember that we, your Arcturian friend and guide, will ALWAYS be with you.

“You will be informed of the appropriate clothing for each area you visit, so that you can better create the illusion that you are ‘one of them.’ As you blend in with the crowd, you will hear their thoughts and be able to identify those who are open to meeting you. Remember, you will appear quite physical to the earth ones, but you can easily transport out of any situation that may become dangerous.

“At this pivotal, transmutational time, the escalation of Earth’s energy field can create sudden, erratic behavior in some humans. This behavior will usually occur in those who have not expanded their consciousness enough to integrate the higher frequency of light. Therefore, you will primarily visit the ‘Islands of Light’ that are developing on Earth.

“These areas have a greater percentage of ascending ones who are consciously, or unconsciously, sharing their light with Gaia. These humans may even recognize you, or at least perceive your expanded aura. Therefore, they are more likely to call upon and accept your assistance. On the other hand, many ascending ones will likely see you as a normal human. It is best to allow that illusion.

“Please remember that we will be in constant contact with you. Thus, you will be instantly informed of any changes. If you get into a difficult situation, just call us, your Arcturian friend, and we will instantaneously assist you. Just as you will be telling humans to remain in contact with their higher expression, we remind you to stay in constant connection with your higher expression, WE are the Arcturians!

“Do you have any final questions or comments?”

Mytria and I looked at each other and then the Arcturian. How could we express our gratitude for what the Arcturian had done for us? Instinctively, we both stepped into the vast aura of the Arcturian in a vain attempt to hug It. How do you hug a wavering energy field? Hence, we began laughing, while trying not to cry.

Our tears were not from sorrow, for we knew the Arcturian would always be with us, but we had tears of joy. Mytria and I have had such wonderful times with the Arcturian, and we both told It that It was the best teacher ever. We had not experienced much emotion from the Arcturian, but we could feel that It shared how we felt.

We remained within the Arcturian’s aura beyond any measure of time and gained more information, which we knew would come into our consciousness exactly when we needed it. Finally, the spell was broken when Mytria and I simultaneously said,

“Can we have one more ride together as swirling patterns of light?”

Saying Goodbye

MYTRE BEGINS:

We left our holoschool feeling reborn. We did not know what our adventure would bring us, but we knew that we were changed forever. Again we walked back to our quarters to ground that which the Arcturian had shared with us while we stood in Its aura. Yes, the Arcturian did take us on another "ride" of swirling energies of light. Within this formless state of being we were able to understand all the information that we had downloaded from the Arcturian's aura.

We stored all these important instructions regarding our mission in our multidimensional minds. These instructions would come into our conscious awareness when the frequency of our consciousness was calibrated to the frequency of each message. Hence, while on the Mothership, we could remember and understand everything because we would have the support of the Mothership's multidimensional consciousness and cosmic mind.

Fortunately, included in our instructions was how to link with the Mothership so that we could amplify our own consciousness and use the Mothership's energy field to assist us with our teleportation. One of the first lessons the Mothership shared was for us to remember to store in a safe place any physical form we are wearing prior to teleporting.

In our higher expressions of SELF, Mytria and I had ascended beyond the cycle of life and death. However, if we created an earth vessel and allowed it to be damaged, it would be a great distraction from our mission. We also remembered that the Arcturian had told us we would travel on a smaller ship to move closer to Earth. Hence, that ship would be our headquarters for this mission. Since that ship's life force was always in contact with the Mothership, we could more easily interact with the Mothership.

It gave us great comfort to know that we would be living on a star ship again, as well remaining in touch with our home on the Mothership. In fact, we would have this connection even if we were wearing the illusion of a physical, earth body. Since the third-dimensional frequency of reality is already a holographic reality being reflected from its core matrix, it would be quite simple for us to create a human form from the Earth's matrix.

We thought about how we had once believed that our physical form was our SELF, and we totally believed that our physical bodies were real. We had no idea that our bodies were projections from a matrix. This thought was quite disconcerting when we realized how deeply we mourned the loss of our friends and family who had disconnected from the matrix to return to their higher frequency of SELF.

We also remembered the great physical pain we experienced from our many war wounds and the deep emotional pain and mental angst that we suffered while under the illusion that the physical reality was the only real world. The power of forgetfulness and the need to attach to illusion is almost beyond understanding when perceived from our present state of consciousness.

The Arcturian had said that many had become lost in their physicality. What if we, too, got lost in the illusions of the third dimension? Mytria instantly responded to my fearful thought with a sharp warning that that kind of thinking is exactly how we could become lost. We stopped, right in the center of a busy corridor, and promised each other that we would assist one another to monitor our thoughts and emotions.

We also reminded each other that we would have to eat and sleep on a regular routine whenever we wore our earth vessels. In fact we decided that, if at all possible, we would return to the ship every evening. Yes, that would be the solution. We would leave the time and polarity of the planet and return to our fifth-dimensional starship.

Then we could debrief every day and have more contact with the Arcturian. Upon making that decision, we felt the Arcturian's immense energy field surround us with unconditional love and support. The Arcturian was reminding us that It could attend and respond to infinite thoughts, emotions and calls within the NOW.

As we walked past the mess hall, we knew we needed to go in and say goodbye, for now, to our wonderful friends. Again, we stayed late into the night, telling ourselves with a smirk that we were "preparing for being physical." We laughed about that concept then, not knowing what an extreme challenge it would be for us to take on a physical form.

I had been with the Arcturian, and Mytria had been with the Elohim of Alycone. Then we both shared wonderful experiences on the Mothership. Hence, we had no idea what was ahead for us. In fact, we scoffed at some of the dangers that our friends told us about. It appears that the main problem of lowering our frequency to the level of wearing a physical shell is that we can forget whom we are and what we promised to do.

The Arcturian tried to warn us of these dangers, but we did not want to hear them. Fortunately, I had learned about the control of my mind and the expansion of my consciousness, and Mytria had spent equal efforts learning to be master over her emotions and to connect with the Elohim of the planet. While I was learning from the Arcturian on the Mothership, Mytria was simultaneously learning about the power of emotion from the Arcturian and the Elohim of Alycone.

Arcturians are actually Elohim, as Elohim are builders and holders of form. The Arcturians participated in the initial model of the Adam Kadmon, the original human form of Lightbody. Since the Arcturians specialize in ascension, they teach the process of lowering the lightbody into the physical form and, simultaneously, transmuting the physical form into lightbody. In this manner, the lightbody is the bonding force that connects the vast energy field of our Multidimensional SELF with our lowest frequency of SELF.

Mytria will now share her initiations and service as a Keeper of the Violet Flame of Alycone.

MYTRIA SPEAKS:

Dear Earth ascending ones, I greet you with my unconditional love. I am honored to share all that I have learned, what Mytre has learned, and what we have learned and remembered together. I say remembered because we have infinitely existed within the great Flow of the ONE.

However, once we lowered our consciousness into our third/fourth dimensional Pleiadian forms, we began to forget all that we had always known. For this reason, we prepared well before our excursion into a physical reality. It is, of course, no accident that Mytre specialized in the male polarity of thinking and pure consciousness, whereas I specialized in the female polarity of emotions and nurturance of all forms of life.

Now that we two Divine Complements have merged into ONE, we can both easily access each other's "specialty" within the ONE of our SELF. We hope that our stories will assist you in remembering your true SELF just as we have remembered ours. The lower worlds of the third and fourth dimensions are a holographic projection from the inner matrix of each world. However, the inner matrix is a mental projection from beings in the higher worlds, such as the Arcturian Elohim.

The great cosmic mind created the matrix, which beckons traveling energy fields to log onto to their matrix of reality. The unconditional love of your High Heart is what adheres the molecular construct of life to the higher frequencies matrix. This situation is similar to the birthing reality that Mytre and I experienced. What we first experienced as a fog was actually the matrix, invisible because there was no life attached it.

The matrix is a field of energy. The invisible matrix is multidimensional, which means it resonates to many different frequencies of possible reality. The matrix itself is more of a mental construct, and the different frequencies resonate to different emotional states of consciousness. For example, fear is a low frequency emotional state of consciousness and unconditional love is the highest frequency of emotional consciousness.

The physical worlds have myriad matrixes of which you are unaware. However, once the appropriate frequency and intention of emotionally charged thought-form finds its way into that energy pattern, it instantly adheres to the matrix to create a birthing form and a portal into a dimensional expression of reality.

When we live in the energy pattern of unconditional love we are very "magnetic," and we attract myriad possible realities to be born via the invisible matrix that always flows throughout form-based realities. If we are happy with the pattern we are living, it is important to live in thanksgiving for that substance of that reality. Thanksgiving for the substance at hand will duplicate that substance indefinitely.

Furthermore, the unseen matrix is forever calling to enliven new possibilities of existence. Hence, thought, formless energy, is waiting to become manifest by the adherence of emotion that is forever searching new ways in which love can become manifest. However, emotion will adhere only to the frequency of matrix that is of a resonant frequency. Therefore, fearful emotions (fear, anger, sorrow) also have a creative ability, as they will attach to a lower frequency of the reality matrix.

Fortunately, if unconditional love were to adhere to a low frequency matrix, it would simply erase that energy pattern; the higher frequency can transmute a lower frequency with the power of its light. It is for this reason that unconditional love is such a valuable tool while wearing a third, or even fourth, dimensional form.

If you match an emotion, such as a fear, with the lower frequency portion of the matrix, you will experience a fearful reality. This choice is how you can become trapped in the third dimension. If you forget the power of unconditional love you can become increasingly afraid, which will attach you to lower and lower frequency matrixes. This entrapment is how a spider captures its food.

The insect becomes adhered to the spider's sticky web. Then it struggles, which ensnares it even more in the web. Then the spider comes and actually wraps its prey up within the matrix of its web. In the same manner, if a fearful matrix traps you because you have fallen into fear, your only exit is by BEING the frequency of unconditional love. The unconditional love will disarticulate the low frequency expressions of the matrix, and you will be free to leave that reality and relocate to a reality based on unconditional love.

The Arcturian and the Elohim of Alycone taught me to train myself to instantly replace fear with unconditional love. The process of replacement was extremely difficult, but I realize now that it was vital for our mission on Earth. The best way to share this process is to begin my story where it left off...

MYTRIA'S STORY:

My story left off when I entered the vortex into the Mother's womb, which was our name for the planetary core where we first met the Arcturian and the Elohim of Alycone. Mytre had valiantly bi-located to be with me while I was preparing my consciousness to open the portal of the sacred rock. It was surrendering into the unconditional love that Mytre and I share that enabled me to open this Portal and enter it while wearing my physical form.

In the many years that Mytre and I were separated, I focused on the process of surrendering to love. Since I was suffering great sorrow at the loss of Mytre, as well as quite a bit of anger that we could not share the raising of our daughter, I had no choice but to meditate upon the discipline of choosing love. At first my love was conditional in that I would feel loving if I got what I wanted.

In fact, I prayed to the Great Mother for years that I would serve Her if she would bring back my love. In other words, my love was conditional. It was conditional because it was laced with sadness and anger, which kept my consciousness below the frequency of unconditional love. Unconditional love is the highest frequency of light and the creative force of the universe. In order for me to complete my path of being a Keeper of the Violet Flame, I would have to live in unconditional love.

I found the frequency of unconditional love within me while I was in nature, when I was able to release Mytre to this duty, and while I was raising our daughter. However, my focus on the feeling of daily life without him and the loss of our family unit kept lowering my consciousness. It was my wonderful daughter, Alycia, who answered my prayers.

Alycia was born with more wisdom, power and love than most adults, including me.

Caring for her was my honor, and her innate wisdom was my eternal teacher. As I parented Alycia, I realized that my love for her was far more important than the fear-based emotions that were hidden in my heart. Also, we were still a family, for often we met with Mytre in our night body, which was wonderful training for our daughter, but unsatisfying for me.

Fortunately, Alycia, who was named after the Elohim of Alcyone with whom we both studied, came to my rescue. Yes, I took care of her as her body was one of a child, but she also took care of me. Her constant purity and innocence was a steady source of comfort and enlightenment to me. It was her innate unconditional love that kept me from becoming totally ensnared in the web of my fearful emotions.

However, allow me to move forward in my story to the moment when I left my daughter and our Temple life. In fact, it was Alycia, who initiated my leaving. She came to me one sunny morning and said, "Mother, it is time for you to leave now."

I was shocked that a teenager would come to me in such love and purity and tell me it was time to leave. In fact, my ego took over for a moment and I started to feel hurt and angry. Then, I noticed that Alycia had that glow around her again and knew that she was speaking from her Elohim SELF. Within that one moment of realization, I knew that everything that had happened was according to a divine plan. There were no mistakes or accidents.

With that realization, as well as the frequency of light emanating from my daughter, all my fearful emotions melted from my aura. I had long awaited this day, the day of my release from my painful emotions. I kneeled before Alycia, who was somewhere within her Elohim presence, and sent her unconditional love and thanksgiving for the honor of being her mother.

I realized then that everything that had happened was perfect and a component of our divine plan. I looked up into the pure, violet eyes of my daughter, the Elohim whom I was honored to birth, and surrendered to her blessing. I do not know how long this moment lasted, but it changed both of our lives. I knew that Alycia no longer needed me, and I could go back to my beloved nature.

I knew that we would be in constant contact, as I would be working with my daughter's true mother, the Elohim of Alcyone. Finally, the moment was broken when the High Priestess of the temple entered the room. She had felt the energy from the most distant part of the temple and came to investigate.

When the High Priestess entered our room, she too, fell to her knees before the glow of Alycia. The three of us remained within the energy until my daughter's energy gave way and her physical form collapsed. Both the High Priestess and I caught her and carried her to her nearby bed. We lit incense and chanted while her sleeping form recovered from the sudden infusion of higher light into her young body.

When Alycia awoke, she remembered everything. She had spent her entire life living in a temple surrounded by men and women who deeply loved her. I realized that Mytre had to leave because Alycia was meant to spend her formative years in this environment. Also, Mytre and I were meant to be separate as we traveled our paths of initiation. I surrender to the possibility that Mytre and I may have only briefly met in order to give Alycia her body.

Yes, I thought with joy and thanksgiving that that brief time would be enough. At last I was healed of my fear and anger and ready to begin my service to the Great Mother, the Elohim of Alycone.

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section XI

Mytria and The Violet Temple

Mytria and the Great Mother

MYTRIA SPEAKS:

Once I surrendered to the possibility that I would not see Mytre again, I actually opened a parallel reality in which I could be with him. This option occurred because I thought of his needs, rather than just my own. In this manner, I extended my love to him unconditionally. In other words, I chose unconditional love over my own selfish needs, which greatly expanded my consciousness. In the same manner, when Mytre had his initiation of bi-locating to our wilderness home to assist me, he extended me unconditional love by endangering himself through staying so long.

In fact, we were having our initiations together. His challenge was bilocation, and my challenge was to enter the sacred rock with my physical form. The first time I entered the portal of the sacred rock, I had done so in my fourth dimensional astral body. Before I speak of my initiation within the core of the Great Mother's womb, I would like to define and share the purpose of an "initiation." An initiation is whenever we accept what may be perceived as a difficult situation and turn it into an opportunity to ask our higher expressions of our SELF for guidance and protection.

By calling in our higher dimensional SELF we use the problem as an opportunity to perceive our reality from a higher perspective. From the perspective of our higher expressions of SELF, we can perceive expanded frequencies of reality. Since the reality we choose to perceive is the reality we choose to live, calling upon our higher perspective during a difficult situation greatly expands our consciousness. In this manner, we transmute a problem into an initiation.

With my third journey through the portal of the sacred rock, my initiation was within the womb of the Mother. Once I had reconstructed my wilderness home and returned to the rhythm of nature and the core of my SELF, I was ready to enter the core of the Mother. In preparation, I fasted for several days, drank lots of water, and meditated for most of the day. In between my meditations, I walked the land and swam in the lake to ground myself and reconnect with the Mother. On the third day, I awoke at dawn and knew it was the NOW for entering the Mother's womb.

This day I ate a light breakfast, as I did not know how long I would be away from my home. Then I walked to the lake, reverently placing each footfall on the surface of the Mother's planetary body and then meditated on a large rock overhanging the lake. When I completed my meditation just before high sun, I dove into the lake naked and allowed the Mother's water to caress my physical form.

I then crawled back onto the rock to bask in the warm sunlight and fell into a dreamless sleep. I awoke just before sunset, put on my handmade garment and walked to the sacred rock. With my third entry through the portal, I was free of all apprehension. Hence, there was no resistance within me or within the portal.

In fact, once I touched the rock with my intention of entering, the portal instantly spun open and I merely walked through. I heard the portal close behind me, and I was in total darkness. However, as I relaxed into the NOW, I felt my own inner light and projected it out through my Third Eye. Through my higher vision I could see a small trail leading downward, which I followed for what appeared to be a very long time. Then, in the far distance and around a corner I saw the reflection of a light.

I instinctively knew that the light was beaming from the Elohim Alycone. I took a long moment to call upon my highest expression of SELF and reverently walked into the light. Instantly, Elohim Alycone shown before me and I felt a sense of deep completion. I had completed one important segment of my life and was about to begin another. I did not know how my new life would proceed, but I felt confident that I could accept whatever my destiny put before me. What I did not expect was how difficult it would be for my body and psyche to live in the core of the planet.

The light was very dim with no obvious source. Instead, it reflected off the many walls of the cave-like structure in which I stayed for an unknown period of time. Since there was no sunrise, sunset, daytime or nighttime, there were NO markers for the passage of time. I had not realized how the passage of time had become so important to me. I had experienced being in the NOW when I was in nature, but I had the security of seeing the suns' movement across the sky and the moons and stars at night.

With no suns and no moons I felt almost lonely. It seemed that all I was doing was waiting. After my first image of the Mother, she disappeared and left me seemingly alone. Therefore, I was forced to FEEL the planet and connect with this huge planetary life form from the inside. I had learned to deeply know and love the outside of the planet. Now I was left alone to unite with the inside of the planet.

I knew I was in an initiation because every dark thought and fearful emotion was forced to the surface of my consciousness by the dim light of this unknown world. How could the Mother abandon me? Will I wither away and die down in this hole? Will I ever see my loved ones again? I went from questions, to anger, to sorrow and into deep fear.

"This is all a mistake! Who did I think I was to assume that I could visit the Elohim? Is this all some kind of elaborate trap?" I cried out into rocks and caverns.

Finally, I could take no more and passed out, or maybe I just fell asleep. This time my sleep was filled with dreams, actually nightmares, in which everyone I had ever harmed taunted me about my mistake of entering my own early grave. Then the demons came in their dark, misty costumes of fear and sorrow. I was on the edge of total terror when I hear the voice of my beloved daughter, Alycia.

“Mother,” she called in her sweetest voice. “I am here with you. Can you feel me hugging you? Can you feel how much I love you?”

Yes, yes, of course, I could feel Alycia’s love. Then, I could feel her touch and her hug and her gentle kiss upon my cheek. I calmed down and the visions of darkness recoiled in horror by the vision of our deep love.

“You are fine now Mother,” Alycia said as she floated away. “Awake now to see the Great Mother.”

My eyes calmly opened, and I stared up into the face of the Elohim Alycone. Mother Alycone, as I would call Her, reached out with a very tangible hand and helped me to my feet.

“Come,” she said. “There is something that I want you to see.”

I silently followed the Mother deeper and deeper into Her core. I had thought that I had landed in a cave deep in the middle of the planet, but when we walked for more time than I could count down into deeper and deeper areas, I realized that my first assessment of my location was incorrect. As if responding to my thoughts, the Mother halted before me and said,

“Dear Mytria, I was having you walk so that you could become familiar with my inner land. However, I am now going to transport us to another area, which can only be reached through the means of teleportation.”

This sounded quite exciting to me, so I surrendered into Her aura and prepared for an interesting journey. However, there was no “journey” at all. Before I could blink my eyes, we arrived at what appeared to be an entrance to a cave within a cave. This entrance was very high and just wide enough that I could slip through it, I hoped, because the Mother instructed me to enter the inner cave through this very narrow passage.

The entrance was quite long and very dark. Hence, I focused on going through the long corridor rather than where I was going. When I rounded the final bend and was greeted with a bright light, I was almost blinded. I had to take a long breath to calm myself and slowly closed my eyes in order to gradually acclimate to the change in illumination. Gradually, I opened my eyes while primarily directing my gaze on the ground beneath me.

“Look up, my dear,” I heard Mother Alycone saying.

Feeling confident that my eyes were adapted to the bright light I looked up to see the most amazing vision I’ve seen in my life. Before me were gigantic crystals as large as buildings cast about the cave as if they were the abandoned toys of a huge giant.

“That is almost correct,” said the Mother responding to my thoughts. “These crystals were once aligned in a massive matrix of light. However, the many cataclysms that accompany the development of a new planet scattered the matrix of crystals into what you see now. Although the crystals appear disconnected, the energy patterns of each huge crystal are still interconnected with the energy of the other crystals.

“If there could be a gathering of the primary keepers of my planet, those who are the humanoids from your ships, you could all entrain your consciousness with the consciousness of the crystals. Then, your unity consciousness could connect and, thereby, activate this core crystalline matrix. Please focus on these crystals through your Third Eye to perceive how the waves of energy emanating from each crystal intertwine to create a geometric pattern.”

I closed my eyes to go into a state of meditation deep enough to open my Third Eye. Slowly, as my Third Eye opened, I began to see the interconnections between the emanations of each crystal. I realized that I recognized this pattern, but could not remember from where.

“Have you not seen this pattern many times when you meditated on my land?” asked the Mother.

Yes, of course. That is why the pattern was so familiar. I had seen it in the sky, in the water and on the land. Often I perceived it only through the corner of my eye, but then the pattern would quickly fade. Therefore, I thought that I was creating that pattern rather than seeing it.

“Look now to see yourself within that pattern,” instructed the Mother.

I had not thought of myself being in the pattern, but the concept warmed my heart and made me realize how much I had become ONE with our new world. I closed my physical eyes and relaxed into deep breathing. Gradually, I felt my body tingling as the flowing of light coursed up and down my spine. When the energy was throbbing out from the palms of my hands I knew that I was ready. With my eyes closed, I focused my inner vision to see the pattern of light that had become so familiar.

As I surrendered to my vision, the recognizable light pattern began to float around me. I looked to see where my consciousness intersected this light pattern. As I relaxed into the image, I could tell that I was within this pattern and the vision was within me. At the same time, I was fully aware that everyone shared this relationship with the pattern, even if they did not know it.

“Yes,” smiled the Mother. “You are correct. You are all ONE with the planet and the planet is ONE with all of you.”

As the Mother spoke, I began to fully experience a deep unity with the planet. I have lived in unity with the land of the planet, and now I was experiencing a deep connection with the planetary core. In fact, the connection was between my personal core and the planetary core. I stared into the formation of the crystals lying randomly on the floor of this inner cave. However, as I stared into the energetic connection of the crystals, the crystalline formation no longer appeared unintentional. I looked up to the ceiling of the cave, which I had not thought to do before, and saw the ever-present pattern reflected on the ceiling above the crystals.

I pulled the vision of this pattern into my heart, and when I did so, something very unusual began to occur. Violet light began to blend into my inner vision. At first the color violet was focused only in my heart, but it quickly grew to encompass my entire body. I actually “felt” the color violet. I had never thought about kinesthetically feeling a color, but that is the only way I can explain my sensation.

As I became accustomed to the “feeling” of the color, the violet light began to flow, move and pulse. At first the pulsing was very gentle, but then it began to throb within me to the point that it almost hurt. The hurt became a pain, not unlike a labor pain, when suddenly the sensation of color burst into the image of a small inner flame. When I focused my attention into the violet colored flame, it grew larger. The violet flame seemed to be making me feel rejuvenated and activated.

This sensation became quite uncomfortable and gave me the feeling that something inside me was beginning to morph and change. This impression became increasingly stronger and more uncomfortable. Finally, I could not hold this image any longer, and my eyes reflectively flew open. To my great surprise, I saw the violet flame as it steadily emerged from within the center of the fallen crystals.

As the flame grew stronger and larger its image was replicated within each enormous crystal. Then, each crystal projected the image of the violet flame out into cave. I watched in wonder as the many images of violet flames bounced off the many angles within the cave. In addition, the combined energy patterns of the crystals cast myriad images of violet fire onto the surfaces of the cave including the floor and the ceiling. The images were beautiful beyond imagination and deeply intoxicating.

To my surprise I could see different expressions of my Multidimensional SELF within every crystal and every reflection. I was able to simultaneously connect and directly experience every version of my SELF. I could feel myself being pulled into the many impressions of violet fire as it flickered within every crystal and on every surface of the cave. The many versions of my SELF began to connect, which created an overwhelming feeling of bliss and euphoria.

As I began to feel as though I was every ONE of my expressions, I lost all connection to the “separate” body standing next to the Mother.

I was every expression of my SELF.

I was every image of the fire,

I was the cave,

I was the Mother,

I was the planet...

Thankfully, the Mother moved her hand across my face and all the images disappeared.

“Did I imagine that?” I asked the Mother.

“No, my Dear,” She replied, “You created it.”

The Temple of the Violet Fire

MYTRIA CONTINUES:

When I emerged from the womb of the Mother, I knew exactly what to do. I packed a small bag, went straight to the temple in the village and told my friends what had happened. Those who I recognized from my first visit to the Mother's core, as now I could remember all their faces, knew that they had to return with me to the site of the sacred stone. Somehow, they knew that they had volunteered to work as ONE being to raise the sacred Temple for the Violet Flame.

I then went in to the village to find the others who had been called to the core in what seemed like a lifetime ago. As I walked through the village I recognized several people that I remembered as being within the Mother's core. I trusted the Mother as to who was ready for my communication and who was not. By the end of that day I had found five village people who had been called by the Mother and were ready to follow me into the wilderness.

These people were not priests or priestesses but carpenters, masons and architects. My going into the village was a great idea because, as the word got out, many of the people that had not been ready before came to the Temple to find out what was going on. Within a short time, a small, dedicated group of about thirty people was ready to follow me to the site of the sacred rock to build our Temple of the Violet Fire. We thought that building this temple would take many crossings of the sun, but the Elohim Alycone and the Arcturian had a surprise in store for us.

We started our journey to the site heavily laden with equipment, which would make our journey very slow. I had been instructed that all must walk to the Temple and only simple building materials were to be allowed. The creation of the Temple was a sacred act performed on sacred land. Therefore, no heavy machinery was to be used. Also, none of our advanced technology would work within the force field of that area. When I explained this fact to our group, ten people instantly left.

The rest of us quietly continued our journey in a deeply reverent fashion. In the morning we awoke to greet the day with meditation. At night we sat around a campfire and talked about what we remembered of our meeting in the core of the Mother and how it had changed our lives. As we came closer to the site we began to feel the energy rise in frequency. I was surprised by this sensation, as I had not experienced it before.

When I asked Elohim Alycone about this new vibration, she said it was because the violet fire had been ignited. That evening by the campfire I told everyone what the Mother had said, and we decided to have a group meditation. I suggested that we begin our meditation by visualizing that our campfire was a violet flame. We all agreed and focused on the fire in the middle of our circle until all of us could imagine it as a violet flame.

We then closed our eyes and went into a deep trance of twenty one people with ONE consciousness. As our group consciousness expanded into higher and higher frequencies, our collective vision of the central flame grew larger and larger. Our challenge was to keep our circle connected even though it appeared that the violet flame would soon overtake us.

In fact, the flame did overtake us; it was not a physical flame but the higher-frequency, violet flame. As the violet fire engulfed our group, we each received personal instructions as to how we were to proceed. We did not know what each other's instructions were, but we were aware that we were all receiving them.

After we accepted our personal instructions, the intensity of the violet fire grew within our bodies. As we later discussed, each of us had the experience of a deep shift within our thoughts, emotions and even our physical form. We also felt the violet fire connecting us into a tightly knit group of individuals with ONE purpose. Just before dawn we each left the circle to get a few hours of sleep. The next day we would be at the site, and we were more than ready to begin our destiny.

As our small group entered the force field encompassing the surrounding area of the sacred rock, we instantly noticed an intense rise in the vibration within the air, as well as within our own bodies. When I was in the Mother's womb, the planetary violet flame was ignited, and the night before our arrival, we all experienced the activation of the violet flame inside of our bodies.

Then, when our personal violet flames came into the proximity of the planetary violet flame there was an intense transmutation of all life within the force field. Furthermore, the containment of the force field greatly amplified the expanding frequencies, as did the echo of higher energy as it bounced back and forth between each of our bodies. Shortly after, we all began to experience intense symptoms of transmutation.

At first, we thought we were sick and had eaten something that was poisonous. I had lived in unknown areas my entire life and had never eaten any poisonous plants. Therefore, I requested that we go into another group meditation to ascertain together the reason for our apparent illness. We all got the same message, "You are experiencing symptoms of transmutation. Relax for a few days and allow yourself to adapt to the higher frequency of the area, as well as the higher frequency of your own body."

We had arrived late in the day, and none of us felt like eating. Hence, everyone got our bedding and found a place in my cave or in whatever adjoining area that called them. Yes, everyone was simultaneously beginning to hear the inner voice of the Mother. The connection between our personal violet flames and the planetary violet flame connected us with the planet, a well.

Most of us feel asleep quickly, as we had been awake most of the night before, and the rest of us soon followed. We awakened at dawn. We slowly built small fires to boil water for our morning tea while others assembled our remaining food to prepare our breakfast. Other members of our group gathered more firewood, cleaned up the living area and surveyed the land for more living spaces.

We all worked as one person, most of us totally forgetting how sick we had felt the night before. When we sat down on the ground to partake of our group meal, we discovered that we had all had the same dream. Two great beings of light had come to us and showed us the area on which to build the temple.

We easily remembered this “dream” because we had spontaneously chosen that exact area to sit and have our first meal. Upon that realization we laughed joyfully, a sound that often filled the force field along with the growing feeling of unconditional love. Since we all accepted each other unconditionally, there were no conflicts. If a disagreement started to arise, all parties of that conversation separated for a moment to go into meditation.

When they returned, there was no need to even discuss the issue, as they had already done so via the violet flame. Gradually, we came to realize that since each of our personal violet flames were connected to the planetary violet flame we were all connected to each other. This connection came in very useful as our symptoms of transmutation became stronger and stronger.

We realized that until we had completed whatever process we were undergoing we would have to work in shifts. Then we all had a chance to take at least half of the daylight to rest, meditate and/or practice our expanding healing techniques on each other and ourselves. Fortunately, just as our symptoms became quite dire, more and more of us developed our own unique forms of energetic healing.

Since the Great Mother always provided a healing force to balance the symptoms of great change, we knew that NOW we were at ONE with nature. However, some days we all had to take off, as we needed to rest or were called upon to assist the others who were downloading more light than their bodies could contain. In this case, they were often taken to the lake to float on the water or bask on the rocks surrounding the lake.

We found that water, especially floating on the water, had a very calming effect for our overloaded nervous system. We also realized that if we matched our cycles of sleep and wakefulness with the Sun, we felt better. Thus, we went to sleep at sunset and awoke at sunrise, as we all needed extra sleep during our transformative process. We also needed copious amounts of water.

Fortunately, just in time, a few of us found that they had dowsing abilities. Quite by chance, one of our group picked up a forked stick and felt an urgency to follow the pulling sensation of the stick. When the stick pointed down to the ground, we dug a deep hole and soon found water. We all tried to dowse and found that three of us were very good at it.

Hence, each one of our “dowsers” found a location for a well, which others dug, found stones for the well and wood for the crank, while others made the rope of out of the plants that I showed them. Within a very short time we were living completely off the land, which was none too soon as our provisions were almost gone.

We all found that when we relaxed into our process of transmutation that our transformation became much easier. If we were working and hit a rough spot of experiencing discomfort, pain and/or confusion, we told our group and someone took our place so that we could rest and “surrender into the process.” We often had periods of complete forgetfulness as our brains temporarily shutdown in order to integrate the downloaded information. This information seemed to come in either through the violet flame in our heart or through the crown of our head.

We decided to have morning meetings so that we could discuss our dreams and/or whatever problems or breakthroughs we had with our transmutation process. These daily meetings were vital, as they bonded us into an even tighter, more loving group. Also, we learned a great deal about our transmutation process by sharing our process with each other.

We knew that we could not build the Temple in this condition of instability and constant change. However, we also knew that we would all be ready at the same time. When that day finally came, we functioned as ONE being with myriad multidimensional abilities. We thought we knew about everything by then, but we were in for a big surprise.

Book Two of Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension

LIFE ON THE MOTHERSHIP– Section XII

Raising the Violet Temple

Parallel Realities

MYTRIA SPEAKS:

As our symptoms of transformation were clearing, we were realizing innate abilities that had been latent inside of us our entire lives. As these abilities surfaced, it was obvious that we had been chosen and/or volunteered for this assignment before we were born. We felt very honored to be involved in this task and literally dedicated our lives to completing the Temple of the Violet Fire in the manner in which we were each instructed.

To master our personal and group multidimensional abilities, we meditated separately and as a group everyday. We began our day with individual meditations and closed our day with a group meditation around the campfire. We realized that these meditations were vital, as we needed to go into a fifth/sixth dimensional state of consciousness in order to understand the instructions we were receiving from the Arcturian and Mother Alycone, as we all called Her.

Since many of our symptoms of transmutation had subsided, we were able to stay active longer into the night, and we all rose as soon as the Suns came over the horizon. As we continued our individual and group meditations, we began to form a deep connection to the planetary Elohim Alycone and the Arcturian, who is also an Elohim.

Elohim are highly advanced beings who are the creators of form, as well as masters of transmuting form into higher frequencies of expression. The Arcturians are the guardians of the Arcturian Corridor through which ascending individuals, planets, solar systems and galaxies transmute their form into a higher frequency, and Mother Alycone was in charge of assisting us to step our society into the fifth dimension.

As long as we resonated to the fifth dimension, the power-over-others Draconians and their minions the Zetas could not even perceive, much less, attack us. We were temporarily safe, as the Arcturians had cloaked our village and the temple grounds with a fifth dimensional dome. However, the state of consciousness of those living within the dome determined how long it could maintain its sixth dimensional matrix.

Because there was so much fear and anger among the other citizens of the village all the spiritually awakened members of the village and the members of our camp knew that it was our job to gain and maintain a fifth dimensional state of consciousness. However, the lower frequency fear-based emotions eroded away at the dome, and it was left to the ones with higher consciousness to keep it functioning.

We were informed that the completion of the Violet Temple was essential in order to raise the resonant frequency of our society into the fifth dimension. We were also aware that some members of our village would not be able to release their need to be warriors. Hence, these warriors created a decoy village outside of the dome so that the enemy would not discover that we still existed as an entire village.

We assumed that the Dracs were under the impression that many of us had died and that the decoy village was all that remained of our Pleiadian settlement. The Arcturians accomplished this illusion by creating a holographic insert that appeared that the Dracs had conquered us. However, it was not easy to fool a Draconian, so it was just a matter of time before they realized our true situation.

We had until then to complete our Temple and use the planetary violet fire to transmute our society into the fifth dimension. What we needed was a trained warrior to serve as a liaison between the decoy village, the real village and the building site for our Temple. No sooner did we realize that, than someone appeared to fill that role. My heart burst open when I realized that it was Mytre.

I was by the lake taking a moment to relax and regroup from all my many responsibilities when I saw someone walking towards me. The sun was in my face, so I could not see who it was, but I knew it was a man who felt similar to Mytre. No, that could not be, I thought, but the feeling felt even stronger as the man came closer.

When I started walking towards him, and when the sun was no longer between us, I saw it was indeed Mytre. I ran to him, and within the no-time of re-connected lovers, we were in each others arms. However, I felt that something was slightly different. Mytre instantly sensed my feelings and pushed me back so he could look me in the eye.

"My dearest Mytria," he spoke with sadness in his eyes, "I am not the Mytre you were expecting. I am a parallel reality of that Mytre."

I looked into his beautiful eyes and said, "I don't care my beloved. I will take any version of you that I can get."

Nothing else was said as we wandered arm-in-arm off into the nearby meadow. The real Mytre and I had spent many a warm day lying in the soft grass and enjoying each other's company in the most intimate of ways. As the suns began to flirt with the horizon we arose to take a slow walk back to the camp.

When we arrived at camp, Mytre had to tell every delighted and surprised person that he was the parallel version of the Mytre that they have known. They all had a similar response as mine. It was immediately clear to everyone that this Mytre would serve as the liaison that we needed.

As we sat around the campfire, Mytre was asked how he had become a parallel version of the Mytre that they had known. As the firelight flickered across his face, I was so happy to have him with me that my heart filled with deep love and gratitude. It had been a huge challenge to carry this responsibility without my best friend's support and consultation. I knew that he would travel back and forth from our construction camp, the village and the decoy village, but he would always be close.

As the laughter and conversation began to fade, Mytre started to tell his incredible tale. Someone had asked him how he split off from the other versions of himself, which made everyone laugh, somewhat nervously. Mytre laughed along with them, then slowly his face changed and he became very serious as he told his story:

"It is difficult to answer your questions about when I became the other version of Mytre, for I think of that Mytre being the other version me. To his perception, I am from his parallel reality. Conversely, to my perception, he is from my parallel reality. Actually, I do not know whether or not that version of Mytre even knows I exist.

"I connected with him while he was outside of time visiting the bubbles of his many versions of reality as pure consciousness. I don't think that he recognized our connection, but I did. He was from the reality in which he took the mission to fly your small starships to the Arcturian starship to get their help. On the other hand, I was from the parallel reality in which I stayed in the village and did not go the Arcturian starship.

"In both realities Mytria still went into the temple to have our beloved daughter, but in my reality I went off to battle, but stayed on the planet. Things did not go well for Mytria and I in that reality, and by the time that I met the consciousness of the other Mytre I had fallen into a very primitive version of myself.

"I constantly doubted my decision to stay on the planet. The starship that went for help was disabled and shot down, and the mission to gain the Arcturians assistance failed. We were attacked again and again and over half of our population died. The rest of us had to scatter across the face of the planet and live our lives as refugees hiding in caves and extremely remote areas.

"All of our starships and most of our dwellings were destroyed. Worse yet, the temple was attacked and both Mytria and our daughter were killed. I had not protected our village by flying the ship to ask the Arcturians for assistance because I stayed behind to protect Mytria and Alycia. Then, one day when I was out drinking with my friends, which I did a lot then, the temple was attacked and I was too drunk to protect my wife and daughter."

At this point, Mytre became so upset that he had to stop talking. Everyone sat stone still and only the cracking of the fire could be heard. It took every bit of my will power to remain still to allow Mytre to gain enough composure to complete his story. Every one around the campfire did the same. After what seemed like days, Mytre was ready to continue.

"Thank you for allowing me a moment to regain my composure," Mytre said. "I can feel the great love and camaraderie within this group, which gives me the courage to continue. When my consciousness first connected with the other Mytre, I was on the edge of death. Our village and lifestyle had been destroyed long ago, and I was living like an animal alone in the wilderness. My soul purpose in life was to be a sniper and kill as many Dracs as possible.

"I had finally gained enough dignity to take off on my own in search of our Draconian enemy who still hunted us. I do not know that there is much dignity in laying in wait for my prey, but I did kill quite a few of them and thought I was making a difference. However, I was one person and the difference I made was quite minimal considering the dire straights of our surviving group.

“When I made my brief connection with the other Mytre, I was suffering from such a high fever that I was in grave danger of dying. Perhaps, that is why I could recognize a version of myself that was more powerful and courageous. I instantly knew that in that reality I had been studying with the Arcturians to learn about mind over matter. I silently wondered what I would have to do to be able to study with the Arcturians?

“To my great surprise I heard the inner message of, ‘START OVER.’

“With these two words, the damn burst open and all the guilt, shame and deep sorrow overtook me. For the first time, I cried over the loss of my family, as well as the village and my entire life.

“‘How do I start over?’ I screamed into the air.

“Then the Arcturian appeared in my reality and stood in front of me. I started to kneel before It when I heard a firm, ‘STAND UP!’

“I wiped my eyes and stood before this magnificent being of wavering light in the loose form of a humanoid and silently waited for the Arcturian to speak again.

“Time is an illusion,” said the Arcturian.

I pondered what the Arcturian said. Yes, if I could somehow see a version of me outside of time, than I must have left time too.

“Yes,” replied the Arcturian.

“Can I go back in time to when I decided to stay in the village and decide instead to take the challenge of flying our small ship to get help?

“If you did that, you would need to enter the reality of the Mytre that you saw. However, you are needed in a different timeline. Are you willing to accept that assignment?”

“Yes Sir,” I instantly replied.

“We are not of your military and are not involved in your fight,” explained the Arcturian. “However, we are interested in honing the innate ability you displayed by consciously perceiving another version of yourself who was able to move into the higher frequencies beyond time. If you can SEE another version of your SELF, you can BE another version of your SELF.

“You may think that the reality you are living has been a complete failure,” the Arcturian continued, “but the abilities you have honed of being stealthy and able to blend into any situation is much needed in the timeline of the reality that we need you to enter. The version of Mytria in that reality is receiving important training and cannot be taken into active service.

“However, you appear to be in need of a purpose. In fact, you have been training for this service but have been too lost in self-pity to hear our call. Now that you have connected with us, are you ready for the assignment we have for you?”

“I am absolutely ready to be of service,” I said with the most dignity I had felt in a very long time.

Mytre Almon

MYTRIA SPEAKS:

When (parallel) Mytre finished his story he said, “I know that I will be with you for awhile, and I see you are struggling as to what to call me. I am Mytre Almon, so please call me Almon. Because I fell into my own darkness, I am a very different version of Mytre than the one you knew. I am grateful for this opportunity to serve the light, as well as my beloved Pleiadian family.”

With that said, we all gathered around our new friend, Almon, to welcome him into our family. We laughed around the campfire until it burned into embers and it was time for sleep. I could see that Almon was uncomfortable about where to sleep, so I suggested that he share my bed. He was quite hesitant, but I insisted and pulled him into a small, private indentation in our cave.

The next morning we arose at dawn and found our special meditation spots. Almon easily slipped into this reality and found his own meditation spot at the top of a small hill. He no longer felt that he must hide in the shadows. He had regained his dignity, and I had regained my best friend. Over the weeks that followed I saw the many ways that Almon was different than Mytre, and the many ways in which he was quite similar.

However, as soon as the land was cleared for the location of the Temple, we realized that we had a problem. We did not want to rearrange or cut any rocks from this sacred land for building materials, and we did not have the ability to gather building material from too far outside of the sacred dome. Meanwhile, the symptoms of transmutation appeared again but in a totally different way.

Previously, our bodies were suffering the symptoms of physical illness or discomfort. Now, it was our minds that were shifting. We all began to forget what we were going to say, or we could not attend to an entire sentence that our friends tried to deliver. Furthermore, we all began to lose time. By that I mean we would be somewhere doing something then suddenly, we were somewhere else doing something quite different.

The sequential actions of finishing one experience then moving on to the next one no longer applied. Eventually we realized that if we were involved in one activity and thought of another one, we were suddenly doing whatever activity we were thinking about. However, the sequence of stopping one activity, walking to another place, and commencing the next activity was missing.

At first we had this experience only once in a while, but then this shifting of time and space became increasingly frequent. We realized that we were being given a higher dimensional ability, but we had no conscious control of it. In fact, our ego self was not in control of many things at all. Slowly, we realized that when ego-based thinking came into our mind, we shifted out of what we were doing and into that which fed our soul.

In other words, we could no longer lie to ourselves and say, "It is fine. I am happy doing this right now. Later, I will do what I want to do." The concepts of "right now" and "later" were becoming extinct and being replaced with "NOW." We had all been experiencing the NOW in our meditations, and it was seeping into our daily lives. At first this situation was quite disconcerting, until we realized how much more effective we were when we did only what we loved doing.

In this manner, we each found the personal contribution that best served our group venture. Also, there was no overlap or competition. It was as if we were each handpicked to do a certain portion of this service to the ONE. It was not too long before we realized that that concept was correct and that Almon was our foreman. He was able to perceive how the actions and contributions of each person fit into our ONE group endeavor.

Now that we had all found our contributions, we were a totally sustainable community gathered around a prepared space in which we were to build the Temple. One evening we were gathered around the campfire when one of our friends from the Temple came into our dome.

His name was Jartun, and he was one of my best friends from the Temple. Instantly, I feared that something was wrong with Alycia, but he read my mind—as he always did—and informed me that she was fine.

We invited Jartun to join our campfire and found him food and water. He had hardly stopped on his journey to our site and was exhausted. He had an urgent message to give us, but first we made sure that he ate and had some water.

Once he had eaten and quenched his thirst, we gave him our full attention as he began to speak. "I have come here to tell you that the Arcturian Force Field around the village is beginning to fail. If the Draconians see our true village, they will attack us mercilessly. We have discovered in our meditations and communications with the Arcturians that the Temple must be built now, as the power of its Violet Fire is the only way we can focus the higher energies to refuel the Force Field."

Almon stood instantly and said, "It is for this reason that I have been called to join you. I have been observing everyone's abilities and remembering Mytria's experiences in the Womb of the Mother. We are not meant to build the Temple, we are meant to raise the Temple."

We were all confused, but Almon continued, "The Temple is already created. It is the violet crystals in the core of the planet."

With one mind we understood what Almon was saying. Of course, then we did not have to harm the sacred land at all! However, how could we raise the huge crystals from the core of our planet? In fact, we all asked this question at once. Almon, who had fully regained his power in the time that he had been with us, patiently waited for us to calm down. One by one we re-seated ourselves around the campfire and looked to our leader, Almon, to continue,

“I do not yet know how to raise the Temple. I have been having dreams and meditations about raising the Temple, but I did not know till now what they meant. We all know that we were called to come here, and we all answered that call from our spirit. We have had to realize that impossible is no longer a concept in our lives, as we have become much more than we ever thought we could be.”

Almon paused while we each acknowledged his statement. Our personal ascension changes happened so quickly that all we have been able to do is adapt to our new self. Now, we have to acknowledge that we have gained individual powers beyond our wildest imagination.

Almon and I were thinking as one, as he said, “We are no longer who we once were. The Arcturians told us that would need to ascend into the fifth dimension in order to resonate beyond the constant threat of war and darkness. We have had the privilege of being on this Sacred Land where that ascension process is greatly accelerated. I have seen how our individual abilities perfectly complement each other. If we can collaborate and function as ONE BEING, as well as call in Mother Alcyone and the Arcturian, we may be able to raise the Violet Temple.”

Everyone was totally silent as they took in Almon’s words. Then, one-by-one, they shook their heads in agreement. Almon completed his message by saying, “Let’s all go to sleep now and ask for guidance. Then, after our morning meditations in which we ask for understanding of our dreams, we will gather as a group and discuss what we have discovered.”

We all agreed, put out the fire, found a place for Jartun to sleep and lay down for the night. Something very important had happened, and we each needed to digest it before we blended it into our ever-expanding unity consciousness. Again, we rose at dawn. Then, after our individual meditations, we all instinctively formed a circle within the cleared area for the Temple. Of course, we each received our individual version of the same message. I will now relay my version of our group dream.

We awoke within our dream to find ourselves in the Womb of the Mother during our first meeting. This time we recognized each other as well as those who had not chosen to join us. The members of our group gathered together to await the entrance of Mother Alcyone and the Arcturian. However, no one came this time. Instead, we all received the inner instruction to enter a long tunnel.

We silently found our way through the tunnel, which was lit by an unknown source. When the tunnel went deeper and deeper into the planet, I recognized that we were being led to the cave of the giant crystals. Shortly after that realization we rounded the final bend and found the massive crystals awaiting us.

With no direction from the Arcturian or Mother Alcyone, we decided as a unit to go to the crystals and touch them. When we touched the crystals we could feel their great life force. We had always thought of crystals as the highest frequency of the Mineral Kingdom, but now we knew that they were, also, living beings. Just as we had learned to work as a unit on the land, we united our efforts and found our spot among the crystals.

We later learned in our discussion that we had each asked how we could assist the crystals to rise to the surface then received our individual instructions. Most importantly, we established an intimate relationship with the living Crystalline Being of the Violet Temple. After receiving our instructions, we wandered among the fallen crystals receiving inner pictures of how the crystals looked before they fell into disarray.

We all recognized the same pattern that I had seen and knew it was the form of the Temple's sixth dimensional matrix. Just as I had done, everyone imprinted the pattern of the matrix and pulled it onto their body and connected to it form via their now greatly expanded consciousness.

Almon, who had climbed to the top of the largest crystal, was gathering all of our information into a cohesive unit. Furthermore, he seemed to be having a personal communication with the Deva, holder of form, of this great Crystalline Being. We all waited calmly until he appeared to have completed his communion with the Crystalline Being.

When Almon finally joined us, he was deeply moved but would say nothing. It was then that Mother Alycone and the Arcturian joined us.

Creating a Tunnel of Light

MYTRIA SPEAKS:

After discussing our group dream we realized that raising the Temple was not what we had to do, but who we had to be. We knew that our abilities were not yet up to the challenge of raising the Temple but, fortunately or unfortunately, more symptoms of transmutation soon appeared. After we adjusted to these expanded abilities we found that we all had the special abilities that assisted us on a physical level.

Our symptoms were clearly teaching us how to use our multidimensional perceptions. In some ways, this process was the most difficult of all because these new perceptions made us feel stuck in-between the physical world and the higher dimensions. Since the reality we perceive is the reality we live, our expanding perceptions were aligning us with higher dimensions of reality.

The most terrifying part, and I DO mean terrifying, was when we had to forge our tunnel of light through the Lower Astral Plane. If we had created this light tunnel before the Dracs attacked us, this journey through the dimensions would have been quite simple, as this planet was very innocent before we spewed our fear and hatred into the planetary aura.

I have always been able to see the auras of people, plants, animals, things and even planets. For this reason, when we were exploring with our starship, I was called upon to check the planet's aura before every landing. I, and others with this gift, chose this planet as it shone a pure pinkish violet hue. The planet maintained its beautiful aura until the fighting began.

Then, fear, anger, hate, grief, and revenge began to seep into the planet's lower fourth dimensional Astral Plane. Unfortunately, when our group began to collectively perceive the fourth dimension, the first perception we had was the Lower Astral Plane. Since we now functioned in the Unity Consciousness of one being with many different perceptions, we had each other's support. This support was much needed.

Some of us were becoming clairaudient and heard the cries and screams of battle. Others were becoming clairvoyant and kept running into the many Draconian and Pleiadian "ghosts" killed in battle. Those who were becoming clairsentient were met with a low frequency wave of fear, anger, grief, revenge and confusion.

Fortunately, we could give comfort and support as we forged our light tunnel through the accumulated darkness of the lower astral plane. How could such darkness come from one short war? We knew the answer. War is the most damaging thing that can be done to a planet. Not only does war damage the earth, pollute the water supply, and fill the air with toxins, it also fills the astral plane with fear-filled emotions. These fear-filled emotions then seep back into the consciousness of the beings that rule that world and encourage them to seek revenge.

The member of our group who was having the most difficult time in the lower astral plane was Almon. Not only had he just recently recovered from his own inner darkness, but he was also the one who experienced what everyone was feeling. Therefore, he was not only overwhelmed with the darkness of this frequency, but he also felt the sum/total of our reactions to this lower world. When we realized what was happening to him, we gathered around him in support.

We realized from our time in the Temple that the only way to heal this form of dark possession was to send unconditional love. Because Almon was our leader, the myriad entities trapped in the lower astral plane during our Draconian War joined together to attack him first. We were all dealing with our own fears, so we needed to complete our tunnel through this darkness before we could be much good to Almon. Fortunately, Almon was waging a battle with the dark entities and temporarily distracting them.

This distraction gave us the opportunity to combine our emotions to call the Arcturian and Mother Alcyone. Within a heartbeat, we felt them over-lighting us. We Pleadians brought war to the planet, so we were responsible for the clearing. However, seeing the bright light and feeling the welcoming support of our guides' unconditional love allowed us to break free of the grip of fear.

Free of fear, we could release the fourth dimensional illusions of fear, anger, sorrow and revenge. With the release of our fear-filled emotions, we surrendered into the welcoming energy fields of the Arcturian and Mother Alcyone. Once our light tunnel was complete and we were in the mid-frequencies of the fourth dimension, we returned to assist Almon. To our surprise, just as we set our intention to rescue Almon, we saw his great light joining us.

Almon had gone bravely into the darkest depths of his fear, guilt and shame to emerge as a blazing being of light. The glory of his presence cleared any remaining darkness, and we easily shifted ourselves into the lovely world of Faerie. While we were on Faerie the fourth dimensional elementals created lovely forms and interacted with us, their humanoid visitors. The beings of Faerie instantly recognized Almon's great light and honored him as their special guest.

Time in Faerie is much faster than time on the physical plane. Thus we stayed there for what appeared to be a lifetime. Many of us found mates, married, had children and lived to be old. During our time in this beautiful reality we perfected our clairaudience, clairvoyance, clairsentience and precognition. A few of us, with Almon being the most adept, mastered the skill of telekinesis.

With our new mastery of these multidimensional perceptions we could use our:

- Clairaudience to hear many dimensions of reality
- Clairvoyance to see many dimensions of reality
- Clairsentience to sense/feel many dimensions of reality
- Precognition to perceive realities beyond time
- Telekinesis to move objects with the mind

Furthermore, we were becoming even more telepathic, so words were not a necessary component of communications. We had also become very empathic and could easily read each other's emotions. In fact, our fifth dimensional unity consciousness was growing by leaps and bounds. Going through the lower astral plane was much more difficult than we thought it would be. Hence, we needed to refresh ourselves in the lovely land of Faerie. After our wonderful adventures in Faerie, we easily moved our consciousness through the fourth dimensional sub-planes. It was in the emotional plane that we mastered our ability to have deep empathy and compassion for the other members of the group. When we first found ourselves in this brightly colored world, we were overjoyed.

Just as we had experienced in Faerie, we seemed to live a lifetime in the emotional plane before we felt an urge to explore our mental abilities in the fourth dimensional mental plane. In the mental plane we had to monitor our every thought, as our thoughts would quickly create thought forms, which would eventually manifest as matter in the physical world.

Also, if we had a negative or fearful thought it entered into our consciousness and rushed down through the emotional plane and into the lower astral plane to create a form. We decided to hold hands in a huge circle so that we could hold the hand of the person on either side of us. These friends could tell if our energy field began to drop into negative thinking. With this monitoring from our friends we got much better at maintaining positive thinking.

Since time still exists in the fourth dimension, it took a while for our thinking to manifest. After the fourth dimensional mental plane, our consciousness entered the causal plane. In this sub-plane, any energy that we radiated out into our environment or into our group was instantly returned to us in the same manner in which others perceived it. If any of us became too tired or even mildly anxious, that same energy pattern would fly return to our group greatly amplified.

We were quickly learning that there were some disadvantages to group consciousness. For one thing, our every thought and emotion was thought was almost instantly felt by the entire group. There could be no lying or "being nice" to protect their feelings. Fortunately, when we moved into the spiritual plane we felt the unconditional love of our I AM Presence.

The I AM Presence is our multidimensional expression who guards the passageway into the fifth dimension and assists us in becoming lightbody. This love coming from the highest expression of our fourth dimensional SELF comforted us after our long journey. We wanted to go further, but the fatigue of too many novel experiences was lowering our consciousness.

With the mere thought of fatigue, we fell into a tailspin. We were at a frequency, rather than a place, but the experience of falling was very strong as if we were falling off of a physical cliff. This sensation was so disconcerting that we began to allow fear back into our consciousness, which was immediately amplified by the group mind. We were starting to spiral out of control when Almon came to our rescue.

He began to sing an old Pleiadian marching song from our past. One-by-one we joined him in singing the song. Let me explain that we were only in consciousness, as our bodies were still on the planet. Therefore, we were singing with our hearts and minds rather than our voices. The feeling of that meaningful song filled us with love and courage as it slowed our decline into an calming sensation of floating downwards.

One-by-one we slipped into our physical bodies to find Mytre Almon standing in the center of our small group. We all reached out to hug him at the same time and laughed as we bumped into each other. We then hugged each other and cried a bit from pure joy. We were back on our sacred land. If we could raise ourselves into the higher dimensions, we should be able to raise the Violet Temple up onto the surface of the land.

At least, that is what we thought at that moment.

Almon's Perspective

ALMON SPEAKS:

I thought that I had cleared and released my regrets, sorrows and guilt, but when I entered the lower astral plane I found I was wrong. Our small group had spontaneously risen into the lowest frequency of the fourth dimension. Even those of us who had gathered the protection of unconditional love had difficulty, but I had spent a large part of me life ensnared in old fear-based emotions.

I knew that they had to raise their frequency so that they could return and assist me. However, self-pity was taking over, and I felt abandoned. It was then that the dark entities encircled me. These creatures felt like living fear and, even worse, they felt like hunger. To my shock I realized that they were actually eating my fear. I had heard before that there were dark entities that actually fed on fear, but I'd thought it was an old superstition.

Now, I realized that what I thought was a tale to frighten children was actually true. Worse yet, I could feel myself being devoured. It was likely an illusion, but it appeared that I was getting smaller and they were getting bigger. When I realized what was happening to me I began to panic. Then I heard a voice inside of me. It was my voice, and it was very calm.

In that moment I realized that I had released my darkness, but I had not released my habit of believing I was lost. I had identified myself by my self-pity for so long that it had become an addiction. I vowed to push away my old behavior, but it was not as easy as I thought. It seemed as though the more I fought, the stronger the dark entities became.

I yelled at them, kicked and hit them. I cursed them and demanded that they leave my presence. However, the more upset I got, the stronger they became. It was as if they were gathering their strength from my anger. Yes, that was it. The more I fought and cursed them, the more anger I expelled. This anger only made them stronger, while it exhausted me.

I was acting like a warrior, but this was not an ordinary enemy. This enemy was not alive, so I could not kill it or even hurt it. Therefore, I had to re-assess my strategy. But how could I think when I was fighting for my life? Then I realized that they were dead and I was alive, how could they kill me? In fact, how could they even harm me? They were merely beings that were invading my consciousness, but my body was perfectly safe on the surface of the planet. Therefore, they could not harm my body.

However, they could harm my mind, but only if I believed in them. I realized that I believed in them because I had not fully forgiven myself. Furthermore, the scent of my self-judgment was like honey to a bee. I would have to release ALL judgment of myself. I would have to totally forgive myself and fill my heart with unconditional love. I was very new to loving myself at all, so unconditional love seemed impossible.

And then I thought of Mytria. She knew I was not her Mytre, but she fully embraced me as her best friend and lover. The best part was that I knew her feelings were real. She saw the ways I was like the other Mytre and the ways in which I was different. In fact, I could tell that she actually tried to ignore the ways we were the same so that she could honestly and deeply get to know me.

I would have to survive this phantom fight, if not for myself, for Mytria. I also had to survive for our mission. I had become the leader that I had always wanted to be. I would not desert my duty because of a personal battle with my own darkness. My wounded ego was no longer the focus of my life. There were others, in fact, an entire village that needed my skills.

I pulled my focus away from myself and focused on the world that I loved unconditionally. Of course, that was it! Unconditional love was the only force that could stave off this darkness. I had shot and even killed many enemies, but I had never unconditionally loved them. How, could I make this shift from fight to—what? What was the opposite of fighting?

In the midst of my contemplation I noticed an exceptionally large dark entity coming towards me. I chose not to run and not to fight. Instead, I opened my arms and lovingly embraced the entity when it came towards me. I held it very close to me. As I did so, I was surprised to feel its story.

It had once been a humanoid with a body much like mine. However, life had not gone well for this human, and he became very hurt and very cruel. He could not understand that his revenge was against the innocent as well as the guilty. He condemned everyone equally, including himself. I saw the horrid things that this being did while wearing a form, but I did not judge him. In fact, I did not judge myself for not judging him.

I had spent my life judging others and judging myself. Always there was an enemy whom I could blame, hate or fight. I never thought to look my enemy in the eye and see that that person also had a story. Some believed their story and blamed themselves while others believed their story and blamed others. In both cases, blame was not a cure. Blame only made things worse.

Within that moment that seemed to last forever, I realized that I had to unconditionally accept, forgive and even love this entity. I dropped my arms and watched as the enemy tried to harm me. However, my body was on a different dimension and my consciousness was too high for the entity to harm. I held the gaze of the now confused and frightened entity. Looking straight into its eyes I said, “I love you unconditionally.”

To my great surprise, the scene suddenly changed and all the entities were children playing on a huge grass field. They seemed to be kicking around a kind of ball while they were laughing and calling out friendly banter. When they invited me, I walked over to the field and joined their game. We played the game until a sun, which was an invisible before, dropped below the horizon and the scene was lost in darkness.

There was a light in my heart that I could not remember ever feeling before. I placed my hands on my glowing heart and felt a warmth move into my hands and up my arms. The light then went throughout my body and out the top of my head. Gradually, I began to levitate higher and higher through a misty scene of vague forms, dim colors and a myriad of emotions.

I then saw my friends and instantly was among them. Yes, these people were my dear friends. I was not the man I was when I first came to this sacred place. The friendship, acceptance and trust of this small group had taught me to love others and to love myself.

Later that night, after our journey through the fourth dimension, I left the bed that I shared with Mytria and went out into the star-filled night. "I am ready," I called out to the invisible Arcturian. I did not know what I was ready for, but I knew that I now had the courage to face any situation with courage and unconditional love.

"Tomorrow you will raise the Temple." I heard in my heart.

~~~~~

When we met the next morning, I told everyone of my message the night before. No one doubted me or even seemed concerned. Instead, they silently walked to the parameter of the Temple site and encircled it. I knew that I was to stand in the middle of the circle. Singing had saved us before, so I began to sing, but without words. I guess you might say I was toning, and the other members of the group gradually joined in. We had not done this kind of toning before, but we knew that it was a necessary step in raising the Temple.

Soon we began to feel the presence of the Arcturian and Mother Alcyone. Even though we could not see them, we felt their presence and knew that they were assisting us from the core of the planet. As we continued to tone, time began to blur into the NOW and the individual persons blurred into ONE being. We felt as though our feet no longer touched the ground, and the ground was also moving.

We knew that raising a crystal temple from the core of the planet was impossible to the physical world. However, we also knew that our world within the dome was no longer physical. We had all seen, heard, remembered and accepted that life within this dome had transmuted into a higher frequency of reality. Hence, the third dimensional laws of physics no longer applied. The impossible had become possible and miracles were common.

Thus, when the tip of the tallest crystal began to pierce the ground, no one was shocked or even surprised, except for me. I was standing at the exact spot where the crystal broke through, and it took me into the sky with it. In my state of multidimensional consciousness I was able to maintain perfect balance and stay at the peak of the huge crystal.

No one noticed what had happened to me, as they were all concentrating on raising the Temple. In fact, I barely noticed what was happening to me because I was so focused on my toning. Once the crystal broke ground, all the crystals seemed to capture the toning and amplified the sound throughout the entire dome, and as we later discovered, into the distant village.

I was in such euphoria that I did not notice my precarious balance on the peak of the highest crystal. However, once the Temple was fully raised it gave a heaving motion as it settled into the land. The feeling was so shocking that I fell from the peak and down, down, down into to the very base of the Violet Temple.

Since no one noticed me standing on the tip of the crystal, no one saw me lying broken and mangled in the very center of the Temple. In fact, it was the place where the Violet Fire would be ignited. Was my life to be sacrificed into that Violet Fire? I say sacrificed for I doubted that even the great Fire would be enough to heal my broken body.

However, I was not frightened or sad or even angry. I was honored. My life had found its meaning, and my death had been for a mighty purpose.

A Glimpse of Book Three of Pleiadian Perspectives on Ascension

The Landing Party

MYTRIA SPEAKS:

I will leave the story of dear Almon for now to return to our landing on ascending Earth. When the Arcturian said that we would experience the ascension of either Earth or our Pleiadian world and then the other, I did not realize that we would be Mytre's parallel self of Almon. Mytre and I are both unclear as to how realities float and intermingle throughout differing timelines. I am sorry to leave Almon in this precarious situation, but to my awareness within this NOW I do not know what did/will happen to him.

Since Mytre and I are still on the edge of time, there is no sequence to the manner in which we share our story. The timing of each episode of our storyline is floating through various timelines.

Since our ascension experience on our Pleiadian planet is quite different from the timeline of Earth's ascension process, all structure and function of time is gone to our awareness. Fortunately, Mytre and I have recovered a message that our dear Arcturian friend embedded in our consciousness while we were swirling patterns of light. We share it with you now:

ARCTURIAN SPEAKS:

Being a Master of your thoughts and emotions is the most important thing that you can do while on your mission to Earth. Remember that Earth is in the midst of transition into a Golden Age. Hence, the energetic field surrounding that planet is alive with creative power. This Golden Age will usher Earth into being a fifth dimensional planet where every thought and emotion instantly become manifest.

In fact, the primary version of Earth is actually in the higher sub-planes of the fourth dimension. On the other hand, some of the versions of Earth are still in the third dimension, and some are still in the Lower Astral Plane. Because Gaia, the consciousness of Earth, is returning to Her multidimensional SELF, and because Her human residents still resonate to so many different frequencies, Earth has many versions.

From our Arcturian perspective, we see Earth in what you would call slow motion. From this viewpoint we can see all the differing frequency expressions within the NOW. In other words, we see the physical version and all the versions of fourth dimensional Earth connected by shadow images.

We can also see New Earth on the threshold of the fifth dimension, resonating just beyond time. Therefore, New Earth has no beginning or ending except to the perspective of the earthlings who are slowly beginning to become conscious of its presence. In fact, many of our ascending ones visit New Earth in their night-bodies and even have periods during their daily life in which their consciousness is sufficiently high so that they are awake within that resonance.

Because of this, your visit to Earth will begin with the ascending ones still hold physical forms whose consciousness has the capacity to expanding into the fifth dimensional version of Earth. Because there is still darkness and fear on Gaia's body, our ascending ones lose their higher focus when their state of consciousness pulls them into the lower frequency versions of Earth. Just as the humans are multidimensional, so is the planet; there is a constant movement of human consciousness up and down the frequencies of resonance.

When the humans, especially the ascending ones, are doing what they love they are able to experience the ascended Gaia as an internal feeling of "Heaven on Earth." However, when they have to do what they do not want to do, their consciousness falls down the frequencies into a lower resonance. Then, their reality is matched by the resonance of their consciousness, and they find themselves in a lower version version of Earth.

What lowers our ascending ones' consciousness more than anything is doubt. Doubt is a form of fear-based thinking that traps them in a lower frequency version of Earth. Therefore, your mission is to visit them while they are in a higher consciousness with the intention of validating that their experiences of New Earth are valid. You will begin by visiting them in their dream-body, so that they can have some "time" to accustom to the fact that they had an amazing dream.

Then, as you build a deeper relationship with them, you can start entering their field of resonance while they are awake and in a higher state of consciousness. Since they have become accustomed to seeing you in their dream-state they view you as an afterglow of their dream. Fortunately, there are ascending humans who are very familiar with the fact that the Galactics are assisting them in their ascension process. Therefore, they will not be afraid if they see you, but will likely doubt themselves.

They will usually experience this doubt not as a low-grade fear but as an 'it's too good to be true' thought. Both ways, their consciousness will drop and their perception of you will be lost. However, if you send them your unconditional love, they may be able to return to a higher state of consciousness, and hence, a higher state of perception.

Because the memory of their multidimensional consciousness is still new to them, they have not yet remembered how to release ALL conception of fear. Remember that our dear grounded ones have been living in a reality on the verge of disaster for this and many other lives. Their fear has kept them alert to the many dangers that confronted them every day.

This kind of vigilance is very exhausting, and it lowers their states of consciousness. Therefore, be patient with the Lightworkers to whom you are assigned. You will be communing with them in their fifth dimensional state of consciousness. However, when they return to their third dimensional consciousness they will not remember that they are communicating with you while in their finer bodies. Instead, they will likely think they had an interesting dream. In fact, they will likely begin to think like this contact person...

CONTACT PERSON SPEAKS:

I am one of those who has always known that I was not like "them," meaning everyone else in my life. It was very clear that I could not speak to any of my family members, or even my friends, about the strange things that occurred in my mind and in my dreams. For one thing, I knew about many versions of myself from many different timelines of planet Earth.

In fact, I thought of this place as "planet Earth," not Home. I did not know where my Home was, but clearly it was not Earth. Earth always felt like a place that I was visiting. My dreams told me that there was another place that was Home and that this place, Earth, was just a place I was visiting. However, I was not enjoying the visit.

Furthermore, I could remember life, after life, after life, when I had visited this planet, and there were not many, if any, of them in which I was happy. Maybe if I could remember where my Home was, my home planet, I could find a way to visit that place. Maybe if I could go there in my dreams then I would find a place to be happy?

Additional Information about the Author

Who exactly is the author of the book? Is the author Suzanne Lie who typed the words? Is the author Mytre, Mytria or even the Arcturian who sent the words into her consciousness?

If she only knew what would happen after she had written it, does that make her the author? Or, does that make her the scribe?

Perhaps the question is, which persona of Suzanne is the author? Is she an extension of Mytre, Mytria and/or the Arcturian? Or, is she none of the characters and they are only in her imagination?

Furthermore, is the information in this book true, or is it pure fantasy? How often is science fiction future fact?

What do you, the reader, chose as your fact? Can you believe that this story is true? Or, do you prefer to believe that this story is pure fiction?

If you cannot answer these questions yet, perhaps you will discover them as you read the Books Two, Three, and maybe even Book Four. It is difficult to determine how many books there may be. After all, they are not written yet!

Please return for our next books about the, Pleiadian Perspective on Ascension.

Suzanne Lie PhD

Suzanne Lie earned her PhD in Clinical Psychology in 1984 and has been a practicing as a MFT psychotherapist since 1986. She lives in the South Bay of Southern California beside the beautiful Pacific Ocean. Suzanne is married with two children and 4 grandchildren.

If you wish to contact Dr. Lie you can email her at:

suzancaroll@multidimensions.com